Fifth Batch Of Tainted Berries Found

Ike Considers Inviting HST To Go On Tour

Reply To Dodd's Suggestion Due In Near Future

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—A White House spokesman said Tuesday President Eisenhower has under consideration a suggestion that he invite former President Harry S. Truman to accompany him on his 11-nation overseas trip.

Acting White House press secretary Wayne Hawks was asked at a news conference whether Eisenhower has under advisement the matter of asking his predecessor to go along on the trip starting Dec. 3 as Sen. Thomas J. Dodd (D-Conn.) has urged.

"He has it under consideration, yes," Hawks replied.

The President, Hawks said, has not replied to Dodd or been in touch with Truman himself on the matter. He said he expects a reply will go to Dodd shortly.

News To Truman

At Truman's office in Independence a spokesman said the former president knew nothing about the proposal.

Sen. Dodd wrote Eisenhower Friday, suggesting he take along one or more Democrats who are prominently identified with international affairs. Dodd mentioned not only Truman but also former Secretary of State Dean Acheson, Adlai E. Stevenson, who ran against Eisenhower for president in 1952 and 1956, and Rep Chester Bowles, former ambassador to India.

Space Finance Discussed

Eisenhower is vacationing at Augusta National Golf Club, trying to get in some rest and relaxation in preparation for the upcoming goodwill mission abroad.

Hawks said the five members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff are flying down from Washington in the morning to confer with Eisenhower.

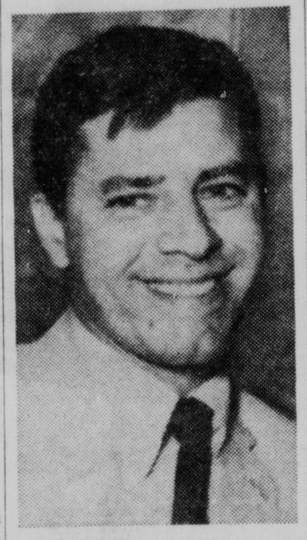

"They will discuss military plans and programs," Hawks said.

Eisenhower had a session on the military budget Monday, with Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy and nine other military and financial advisers from Washington. The chairman of the joint chiefs, Gen. Nathan F. Twining, sat in.

Eisenhower, who is attempting to get the 1961 budget into shape before he takes off on his trip overseas, had another conference on spending plans Tuesday — an hour and 10-minute exploration of the problems and finance of space.

The result may be a bigger budget for the National Aeronautics and Space Agency.

Sulphur Barge Explosion Kills Five Workmen

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — An explosion "like a jet breaking the sound barrier" blew a 10-ton deckhouse off a sulphur barge Tuesday and killed the five men inside it.

Three torn bodies were found on the deck of the 280 - foot barge and two others were hauled out of Harvey Canal. Four other workmen who were on the deck when the explosion ripped off the cabin were burned, none seriously.

The terrific explosion, followed by two smaller ones, mangled the 20-by-20 foot deckhouse and dumped it half on the 280 - foot barge and half on the dock at Avondale Marine Ways Shipyard.

The dock area was littered with pieces of machinery blown out of the cabin, which houses the pump room and boiler room.

One dock worker said he was in the cabin when he got a telephone call from his wife. He went out on the dock to answer it and as he picked up the telephone the explosion erupted.

"It saved my life," he said dazedly.

A man more than a block away said the explosion sounded like "a jet breaking the sound barrier." Fire broke out on the oil in the engine room but firefighters from two Coast Guard cutters drydocked nearby put it out.

Officials said the explosion may have been caused by gas accumulation.

Freezing Ride

HALL, Austria (AP) — Two Yugoslav refugees climbed stiffly from a freight car Tuesday, after a freezing ride across the mountains from Yugoslavia, and asked for asylum. Edvard Kozole, 23, and Zitka Randelovic, 23, said they huddled between sacks of corn, but still nearly froze to death.

Industry Will Unveil Test Speedup Plan

Washington State Shipment Found To Be Contaminated

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government acted Tuesday to seize another batch of contaminated cranberries—the fifth it has turned up.

The Department of Welfare said the tainted berries were from Washington State, the first found to have been grown in that state. Previously, contaminated berries were traced to Oregon and Wisconsin.

The action was announced as the cranberry industry prepared to unveil Wednesday a plan it hopes will assure Americans they can eat cranberries by Thanksgiving with full assurance of their safety.

The plan, polished up behind closed doors, is aimed at removing any contaminated berries from the market at a speedier pace.

The contaminated berries located Tuesday were described as a portion of the first of two lots of tainted berries from the 1959 Pacific crop which touched off the nationwide testing program last week.

2,402 Tons Cleared

One of the lots, consisting of Oregon berries, had already been seized. But when testing on the lot from Washington was completed for trace of the weed killer aminotriazole it was discovered the berries already had been shipped.

Food and Drug Administration inspectors traced down 10 cases, each containing 24 one-pound bags of fresh berries which had been shipped on Oct. 15 from Markham, Wash., to Portland, Ore.

So far only this portion of the lot tested has been traced.

The lots cleared to date total about 2,402 tons.

The plan for speeding up the checking of the cranberries was discussed behind closed doors by industry and government experts to determine, for one thing, if the plan is technically sound.

Industry Group, Flemming Meet

A group of industry representatives met separately with Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming on how he will conduct Wednesday morning's open conference.

George C. P. Olsson, who heads the industry group, declined to indicate what sort of plan will come forth.

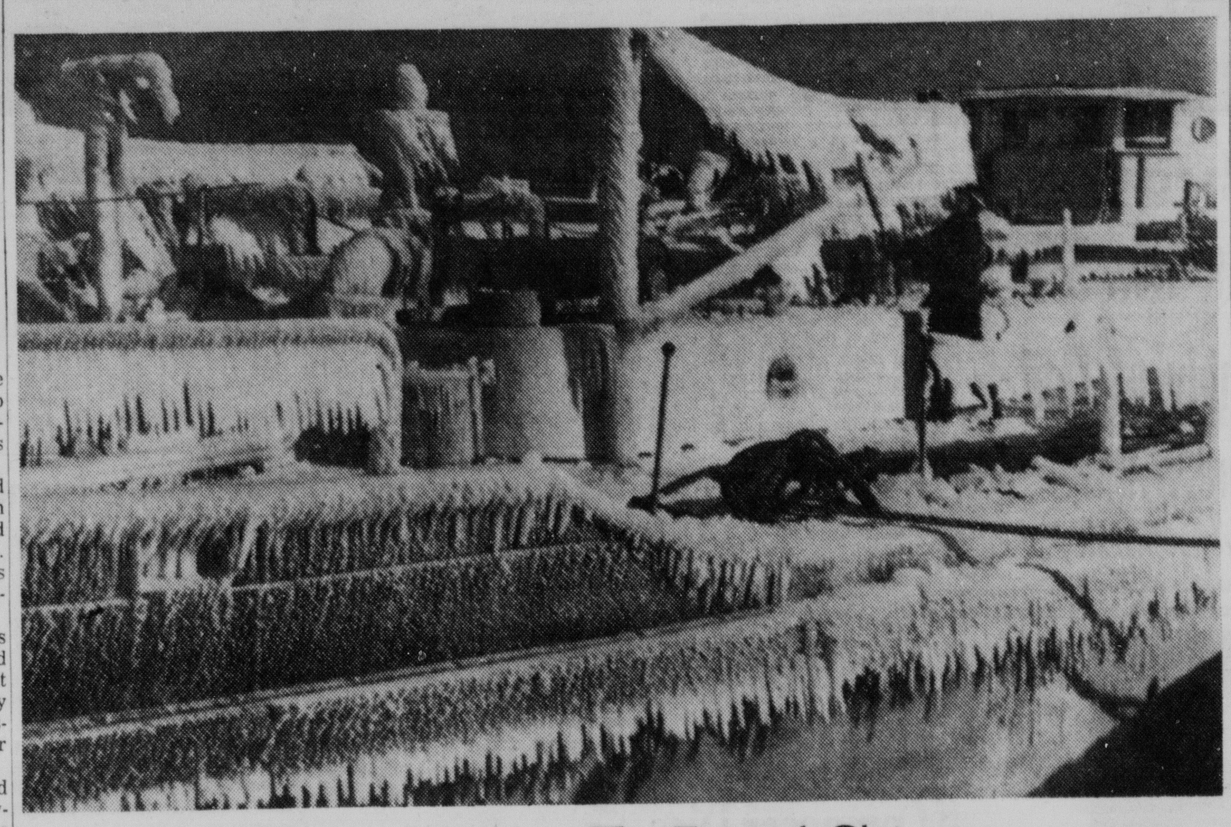

Olsson is president of Ocean Spray Cranberries, Inc., a cooperative which controls about 75 per cent of the cranberry crop.

With Thanksgiving only nine days away, Flemming says a plan is needed to segregate the contaminated berries on a larger scale than is now possible through testing each lot.

After the industry presents its plan, Flemming plans to invite comment by members of Congress and representatives of interested organizations. Then his office said, Flemming and his associates will study the plan and announce the department's decision on it as soon as possible.

Miss. Inaction In Lynch Case Stirs U.S. Study

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Attorney General William P. Rogers said Tuesday the administration may ask Congress for a federal anti-lynch law because of the failure of Mississippi state officials to obtain indictments in the Mack Charles Parker slaying.

He told a news conference the outcome of the local inquiry into the lynching of the young Negro in Poplarville last April was "as flagrant and calculated a miscarriage of justice as I've ever seen."

He said the case may provoke the administration to demand new laws to permit the federal government to intervene in such cases.

Under present statutes, Rogers said, the only basis for a federal prosecution of Parker's murderers are two old Reconstruction era civil rights laws providing a maximum penalty of 10 years in prison sentence and fines.

He said these penalties seem to him to be "inappropriate to this kind of brutal killing."

Rogers said the Justice Department is considering a variety of civil rights proposals, including possibly "but not necessarily" an anti-lynching bill.

But he emphasized that a review of federal civil rights laws was necessary "if a state doesn't honestly believe in the administration of justice."

Rogers devoted a good portion of his news conference to a denunciation of the actions of Mississippi law enforcement officials in the Poplarville lynching case.

He said the FBI made "one of the finest, most complete" investigations of the murder that "I've ever seen conducted." He said some 60 agents were employed in the inquiry at a cost of $80,000.

He said the Justice Department stepped out of the case last spring after the FBI investigation because it "didn't want to do anything to interfere" with the state of Mississippi's handling of the lynching.

He said department officials never expected that the Pearl River County grand jury would "refuse ever to call" FBI agents for testimony before it adjourned Nov. 3 without returning any indictments.

British And Bonn Chiefs Begin Talks

Adenauer Flies To London For Meeting

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer began talks Tuesday to settle their differences. But the signs were that Britain was standing firm.

Flanked by advisers, the two long-bickering Allied leaders conferred at Macmillian's residence five hours after Adenauer's plane landed.

About 1,300 Londoners witnessed the Chancellor's arrival in virtual silence. There were no flags, no flowers, no fuss. There were warm handshakes from Macmillan and other government ministers.

As the talks began, one new possibility was reported by informed diplomats. Macmillan and Adenauer may discuss the future of Alfried Krupp's huge coal-steel empire in West Germany.

Under a 1953 Allied agreement, Krupp was ordered to divest himself of 74 per cent of his holdings. This was to insure against the resurrection of a combine that had helped build Hitler's war machine.

An American, British, French and West German commission is weighing whether to grant a request by Adenauer that Krupp be allowed to keep his multibillion dollar interests.

The United States seems to share Adenauer's belief that an enforced sell-out by Krupp would dislocate European economy to the Allied disadvantage.

Another development was the announcement that illness forced Sir Winston Churchill to cancel an appointment with the Chancellor.

The meeting between Churchill, 84, and Adenauer, 83, was to have been one of the highlights in the three-day program.

Official spokesmen said Macmillan and Adenauer ranged over the main topics of the timing and agenda for an East-West summit conference, economics and disarmament.

3 Die In Crash Of Plane In Va.

COVINGTON, Va. (UPI) — A small private plane crashed into the side of a remote southwest Virginia mountain Tuesday, killing the pilot and two passengers.

Rescue teams had to beat their way through dense underbrush to reach the wreckage on Big Mountain, about 18 miles south-southeast of Covington. It took more than four hours to remove the bodies in jeeps.

Killed were the pilot, Jack Miller, 34, Vinton, Va.; Russell Ames, 39, project engineer for Industrial Rayon Corp., Cleveland, Ohio; and David C. McVey, 47, of Wilmette, Ill., a Chicago suburb.

A formal investigation to try to determine the cause of the crash was begun.

Herter Urges Allies Shoulder More Aid Load

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Christian A. Herter told this country's European Allies Tuesday the time has come for them to shoulder more of the burden of aiding underdeveloped areas.

Herter spoke out on what he called "this critical area of world leadership" in a speech before legislators representing the North Atlantic Treaty Organization countries.

He pledged the United States would continue to carry a fair share of the economic burden while also providing weapons and dollars for military defenses against the Soviet Union.

Herter's carefully prepared speech foreshadowed a determined campaign by the Eisenhower administration to persuade prosperous European nations, as well as Japan, Canada, Australia and New Zealand, to step up substantially their spending in Africa and Asia.

At present, these nations are giving about 1¼ billion dollars annually in such help. Ninety per cent of this, however, goes to their own overseas territories.

Khrush Boasts Of Hydrogen War Rockets

MOSCOW (UPI)—Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, in a speech made public Tuesday night, said Russia has one factory where 250 rockets with hydrogen warheads were turned out "on an assembly line basis within a year."

"If attacked, we will be able to raze to the ground all our enemies," he said in an address in the Kremlin to a group of Soviet journalists last Saturday. The official Tass News Agency released details of the speech Tuesday night.

He combined his report on Soviet armed strength with another appeal for disarmament.

"We are ready to sink all this in the sea," he said, "in the interest of insuring peace on earth. Far from desiring war we do not even want to have the means of waging war."

But Russia is prepared to defend itself, he said.

He said it has stockpiled so many rockets, atomic and hydrogen warheads that "this year the Soviet army is at the height of its invincible might."

Radio DJ Quits; Blames 'Payola'

NEW YORK (AP)—A disc jockey says he quit a $60,000-a-year radio job in Detroit because of incessant commercials, subservience to ratings and pressure of payola.

Writing in the current issue of Life magazine, Ed McKenzie, formerly of Detroit station WXYZ, says:

"Because of the charts that are put together by numbers of music trade publishers that rate the popularity of records, I had to play music on my program that I would never have played otherwise.

"And the charts are phony because of the most disgusting part of the radio industry—payola."

Payola is described by McKenzie as "offering disc jockeys cash to play records they wouldn't ordinarily play."

Freeze Slows Great Lakes Iron Ore Race

Mass Of Arctic Air Spreads Eastward Into Appalachians

CHICAGO (UPI) —Skippers on the Great Lakes and vital inland waterways of the Middle West battled Tuesday night to get through the ice and gales of one of the worst November cold waves on record.

The sub-zero cold slowed the race to get iron ore to the nation's recently-opened steel mills before winter weather freezes the Great Lakes shut for the season.

Freighters on Lake Michigan and Lake Superior bucked high winds, ice, and 500-foot banks of steam rising from the rapidly cooling waters. At least 25 freighters had to hug Lake Michigan's west shore rather brave icy waves 15 to 18 feet high farther out.

On the Mississippi River and other inland waterways, the freeze slowed traffic to a crawl. One string of barges got stuck in the Mississippi ice. In Michigan, ore boats were halted in Portage Lake because a bridge was frozen tight. The locks on the Fox River in Wisconsin's Appleton-Menasha-Green Bay area were frozen so tight that not even Coast Guardsmen's axes could break them open.

The big freeze was part of a vast, arctic cold wave which stretched from the blizzard-swept Rocky Mountains to the Appalachians and Gulf states.

The cold wave toppled records which had stood for as long as 20 years in at least 20 cities. Eleven records were broken in Iowa alone, every reporting station in Minnesota and the Dakotas registered below zero temperatures, and Drummond, Mont., reported a bone-freezing 25 below.

The U.S. Weather Bureau issued cold wave warnings from Georgia into western New York and predicted a hard freeze from Georgia into Texas. The nation's western two thirds were promised a warmup but the national 30-day forecast was for continued cold.

In Chicago, the largest city to be frozen in, police found the body of a woman "frozen stiff as a board" in record three - above temperatures. The woman, Mrs. Jewel Dean Pounds, 48, was doing so well at a hospital that doctors said she might not even have to be treated for frostbite.

Milwaukee's one - above cold made it the bitterest Nov. 17 since the start of records in 1880.

Churchill Ill, Cancels Talk With Adenauer

LONDON (UPI) —Sir Winston Churchill, two weeks from his 85th birthday, suffered "a little bit of chest trouble" Tuesday and took to his bed. He was forced to cancel a meeting Tuesday night with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

But a spokesman for the elder statesman of Britain said he was expected to fight off his "indisposition" and should be recovered by Wednesday.

"He had a little bit of chest trouble," a secretary said at his London home. "His personal doctor visited him earlier in the evening and he had dinner in bed. He should be up and about in the morning.

"Of course, with elderly people you can expect these little upsets from time to time," the secretary said.

There was no medical elaboration. Earlier, a spokesman for the Churchill household said the former prime minister was "indisposed" but had not suffered a stroke.

The old warrior, plagued with respiratory ailments all his life, has suffered two strokes in recent years.

De Gaulle To Visit Canada Next Spring

OTTAWA (UPI)—French President Charles de Gaulle will visit Canada next spring, Prime Minister John Diefenbaker said Tuesday.

The prime minister said he was unable to give any firm date at this point, or say whether the visit would coincide with one to the United States.

It has been generally assumed, however, that any visit by de Gaulle to this country would follow one to the United States for talks with President Eisenhower.

House Group Probes Info Involving TV's Dick Clark

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A House investigator is checking information about Dick Clark, television disc jockey idol of the teenagers who has been ordered by his network to drop all outside business interests.

The American Broadcasting Co. insisted that the disc jockey discontinue all connections with record manufacturing and music publishing.

While Clark declined immediate comment, his manager, Marvin Josephson confirmed Tuesday that Clark, 29, star of "American Bandstand" would stay with ABC.

And in Washington, Robert W. Lishman, chief counsel of the House Legislative Oversight subcommittee, said an investigator has been sent to Philadelphia to check on information about Clark.

"It is the sort of thing we have to check," he said. "It would be very interesting if it is true," Lishman said.

He said the information was generally concerned with the subcommittee's investigation of practices used in promoting music.

The ABC network had given Clark a choice of his outside interests or keeping the "American Bandstand" show and two others on which he serves as master of ceremonies, a Saturday night variety show and a Sunday night panel show.

After finishing his "American Bandstand" program Tuesday, Clark would only say to newsmen: "I can't at this time make any statement. I don't want to walk away or run away from you

TWA Stewardesses Agree To Arbitrate

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Both sides agreed to arbitrate a contract dispute Tuesday that brought a strike threat to Trans World Airlines by the Air Line Stewardesses Assn.

Although details of the agreement to arbitrate were not immediately available, a spokesman said it was made orally between Roland K. Quinn, Chicago, the union president, and John P. Mead, assistant vice president of TWA for industrial relations.

One Dead, 3 Missing In Bomber Crash

WINDSOR, Mo. (UPI)—A B-47 Stratojet bomber crashed and burned Tuesday eight miles north of here at the edge of Missouri's rugged Ozark country. The body of one airman was found in the wreckage.

Three others aboard the plane from McConnell Air Force Base at Wichita, Kan., were reported missing. They were on a routine training flight, Air Force officials said.

Irish Envoy Will Send His 'Problem' Son Home

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Irish ambassador said Tuesday he is sending his 21-year-old son home to Ireland. The son has been in repeated trouble with police, and last week his car killed a Negro widow.

In his announcement, Ambassador John J. Hearne mentioned nothing about the difficulties his son David Patrick has had with the law over the past 2½ years.

The envoy said he is sending his son home to continue his education there, adding that David will leave for Ireland in the near future. David, who has been studying at American University, has said "I hope to remain in school here."

This apparently ends a situation which was diplomatically uncomfortable for both the State Department and the Irish government.

Young David figured in four incidents of disorderly conduct dating back to May 1957—the latest only about five weeks ago—according to a report filed by police with the State Department.

In each instance, he was freed under diplomatic immunity.

Then, last Wednesday night, David's automobile struck and killed Jessie Hamlin as the 54-year-old domestic was crossing a street. Police quoted the ambassador's son as saying he ran into Mrs. Hamlin while trying to avoid another pedestrian. The victim was hurled 41 feet.

David claimed diplomatic immunity and escaped arrest in Mrs. Hamlin's death.

Vapor Cloud Rocket Shot Again Delayed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Unfavorable weather Tuesday delayed for another 24 hours a series of vapor cloud experiments planned by the civilian space agency at Wallops Island, Va.

The first of a series of three sodium vapor experiments originally was set by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration for dusk Monday night.

It was changed to Tuesday night but NASA announced that it had been rescheduled for Wednesday evening. The second shot will be attempted at dawn on Thursday and another at dusk Thursday.

British And Bonn Chiefs Begin Talks

Adenauer Flies To London For Meeting

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer began talks Tuesday to settle their differences. But the signs were that Britain was standing firm.

Flanked by advisers, the two long-bickering Allied leaders conferred at Macmillian's residence five hours after Adenauer's plane landed.

About 1,300 Londoners witnessed the Chancellor's arrival in virtual silence. There were no flags, no flowers, no fuss. There were warm handshakes from Macmillan and other government ministers.

As the talks began, one new possibility was reported by informed diplomats. Macmillan and Adenauer may discuss the future of Alfried Krupp's huge coal-steel empire in West Germany.

Under a 1953 Allied agreement, Krupp was ordered to divest himself of 74 per cent of his holdings. This was to insure against the resurrection of a combine that had helped build Hitler's war machine.

An American, British, French and West German commission is weighing whether to grant a request by Adenauer that Krupp be allowed to keep his multibillion dollar interests.

The United States seems to share Adenauer's belief that an enforced sell-out by Krupp would dislocate European economy to the Allied disadvantage.

Another development was the announcement that illness forced Sir Winston Churchill to cancel an appointment with the Chancellor.

The meeting between Churchill, 84, and Adenauer, 83, was to have been one of the highlights in the three-day program.

Official spokesmen said Macmillan and Adenauer ranged over the main topics of the timing and agenda for an East-West summit conference, economics and disarmament.

3 Die In Crash Of Plane In Va.

COVINGTON, Va. (UPI) — A small private plane crashed into the side of a remote southwest Virginia mountain Tuesday, killing the pilot and two passengers.

Rescue teams had to beat their way through dense underbrush to reach the wreckage on Big Mountain, about 18 miles south-southeast of Covington. It took more than four hours to remove the bodies in jeeps.

Killed were the pilot, Jack Miller, 34, Vinton, Va.; Russell Ames, 39, project engineer for Industrial Rayon Corp., Cleveland, Ohio; and David C. McVey, 47, of Wilmette, Ill., a Chicago suburb.

A formal investigation to try to determine the cause of the crash was begun.

Herter Urges Allies Shoulder More Aid Load

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Christian A. Herter told this country's European Allies Tuesday the time has come for them to shoulder more of the burden of aiding underdeveloped areas.

Herter spoke out on what he called "this critical area of world leadership" in a speech before legislators representing the North Atlantic Treaty Organization countries.

He pledged the United States would continue to carry a fair share of the economic burden while also providing weapons and dollars for military defenses against the Soviet Union.

Herter's carefully prepared speech foreshadowed a determined campaign by the Eisenhower administration to persuade prosperous European nations, as well as Japan, Canada, Australia and New Zealand, to step up substantially their spending in Africa and Asia.

At present, these nations are giving about 1¼ billion dollars annually in such help. Ninety per cent of this, however, goes to their own overseas territories.

One Dead, 3 Missing In Bomber Crash

WINDSOR, Mo. (UPI)—A B-47 Stratojet bomber crashed and burned Tuesday eight miles north of here at the edge of Missouri's rugged Ozark country. The body of one airman was found in the wreckage.

Three others aboard the plane from McConnell Air Force Base at Wichita, Kan., were reported missing. They were on a routine training flight, Air Force officials said.

Irish Envoy Will Send His 'Problem' Son Home

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Irish ambassador said Tuesday he is sending his 21-year-old son home to Ireland. The son has been in repeated trouble with police, and last week his car killed a Negro widow.

In his announcement, Ambassador John J. Hearne mentioned nothing about the difficulties his son David Patrick has had with the law over the past 2½ years.

The envoy said he is sending his son home to continue his education there, adding that David will leave for Ireland in the near future. David, who has been studying at American University, has said "I hope to remain in school here."

This apparently ends a situation which was diplomatically uncomfortable for both the State Department and the Irish government.

Young David figured in four incidents of disorderly conduct dating back to May 1957—the latest only about five weeks ago—according to a report filed by police with the State Department.

In each instance, he was freed under diplomatic immunity.

Then, last Wednesday night, David's automobile struck and killed Jessie Hamlin as the 54-year-old domestic was crossing a street. Police quoted the ambassador's son as saying he ran into Mrs. Hamlin while trying to avoid another pedestrian. The victim was hurled 41 feet.

David claimed diplomatic immunity and escaped arrest in Mrs. Hamlin's death.

Khrush Boasts Of Hydrogen War Rockets

MOSCOW (UPI)—Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, in a speech made public Tuesday night, said Russia has one factory where 250 rockets with hydrogen warheads were turned out "on an assembly line basis within a year."

"If attacked, we will be able to raze to the ground all our enemies," he said in an address in the Kremlin to a group of Soviet journalists last Saturday. The official Tass News Agency released details of the speech Tuesday night.

He combined his report on Soviet armed strength with another appeal for disarmament.

"We are ready to sink all this in the sea," he said, "in the interest of insuring peace on earth. Far from desiring war we do not even want to have the means of waging war."

But Russia is prepared to defend itself, he said.

He said it has stockpiled so many rockets, atomic and hydrogen warheads that "this year the Soviet army is at the height of its invincible might."

Radio DJ Quits; Blames 'Payola'

NEW YORK (AP)—A disc jockey says he quit a $60,000-a-year radio job in Detroit because of incessant commercials, subservience to ratings and pressure of payola.

Writing in the current issue of Life magazine, Ed McKenzie, formerly of Detroit station WXYZ, says:

"Because of the charts that are put together by numbers of music trade publishers that rate the popularity of records, I had to play music on my program that I would never have played otherwise.

"And the charts are phony because of the most disgusting part of the radio industry—payola."

Payola is described by McKenzie as "offering disc jockeys cash to play records they wouldn't ordinarily play."

Freeze Slows Great Lakes Iron Ore Race

Mass Of Arctic Air Spreads Eastward Into Appalachians

CHICAGO (UPI) —Skippers on the Great Lakes and vital inland waterways of the Middle West battled Tuesday night to get through the ice and gales of one of the worst November cold waves on record.

The sub-zero cold slowed the race to get iron ore to the nation's recently-opened steel mills before winter weather freezes the Great Lakes shut for the season.

Freighters on Lake Michigan and Lake Superior bucked high winds, ice, and 500-foot banks of steam rising from the rapidly cooling waters. At least 25 freighters had to hug Lake Michigan's west shore rather brave icy waves 15 to 18 feet high farther out.

On the Mississippi River and other inland waterways, the freeze slowed traffic to a crawl. One string of barges got stuck in the Mississippi ice. In Michigan, ore boats were halted in Portage Lake because a bridge was frozen tight. The locks on the Fox River in Wisconsin's Appleton-Menasha-Green Bay area were frozen so tight that not even Coast Guardsmen's axes could break them open.

The big freeze was part of a vast, arctic cold wave which stretched from the blizzard-swept Rocky Mountains to the Appalachians and Gulf states.

The cold wave toppled records which had stood for as long as 20 years in at least 20 cities. Eleven records were broken in Iowa alone, every reporting station in Minnesota and the Dakotas registered below zero temperatures, and Drummond, Mont., reported a bone-freezing 25 below.

The U.S. Weather Bureau issued cold wave warnings from Georgia into western New York and predicted a hard freeze from Georgia into Texas. The nation's western two thirds were promised a warm-up but the national 30-day forecast was for continued cold.

In Chicago, the largest city to be frozen in, police found the body of a woman "frozen stiff as a board" in record three - above temperatures. The woman, Mrs. Jewel Dean Pounds, 48, was doing so well at a hospital that doctors said she might not even have to be treated for frostbite.

Milwaukee's one - above cold made it the bitterest Nov. 17 since the start of records in 1880.

Churchill Ill, Cancels Talk With Adenauer

LONDON (UPI) —Sir Winston Churchill, two weeks from his 85th birthday, suffered "a little bit of chest trouble" Tuesday and took to his bed. He was forced to cancel a meeting Tuesday night with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

But a spokesman for the elder statesman of Britain said he was expected to fight off his "indisposition" and should be recovered by Wednesday.

"He had a little bit of chest trouble," a secretary said at his London home. "His personal doctor visited him earlier in the evening and he had dinner in bed. He should be up and about in the morning.

"Of course, with elderly people you can expect these little upsets from time to time," the secretary said.

There was no medical elaboration. Earlier, a spokesman for the Churchill household said the former prime minister was "indisposed" but had not suffered a stroke.

The old warrior, plagued with respiratory ailments all his life, has suffered two strokes in recent years.

Vapor Cloud Rocket Shot Again Delayed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Unfavorable weather Tuesday delayed for another 24 hours a series of vapor cloud experiments planned by the civilian space agency at Wallops Island, Va.

The first of a series of three sodium vapor experiments originally was set by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration for dusk Monday night.

It was changed to Tuesday night but NASA announced that it had been rescheduled for Wednesday evening. The second shot will be attempted at dawn on Thursday and another at dusk Thursday.

Conviction Of Parents In Death Of Baby They Denied Medical Care Reversed

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — The Court of Appeals Tuesday reversed an involuntary manslaughter conviction of a Hagerstown contractor and his wife who said their religion prevented them from obtaining medical care for their sick infant child.

The high court ordered new trials for Mr. and Mrs. Ollen O. Craig, whose 6-months-old daughter died of pneumonia. The court ruled the state failed to prove that the child died because of gross negligence on the part of the parents.

The court, however, in its unanimous decision said Maryland law implies a parental duty of providing medical care and that religion, or prayer, is not a legal substitute for medical care.

But the court said:

"No matter how regrettable the child's death, nor how gross the (Craigs') negligence may have been, (they) cannot be held criminally responsible unless there were a causal connection between their negligence and the death (of the child). . ."

"We hold that the state's evidence was not sufficient to sustain a finding that gross negligence on the part of the (Craigs) was the proximate cause of the child's death."

The court noted that the state presented testimony which held the child may have been cured of pneumonia if given antibiotics and other drugs in the early stages of her illness.

"But in this case," the court said, "we have no testimony that the seriousness of the child's illness was apparent to the parents until the last two or three days of the child's illness. . ."

The child died after an 18-day illness."

In other questions raised by the Craigs in their appeal, the court held that:

1. That the religious freedom of the parents, members of the Church of God, was not violated.

A person, the court said, "cannot, under the guise of religious conviction, disobey the laws of the land made for the protection of the health and safety of society."

2. That the parents were not deprived of due process of the law. The court held the parental duty to provide medical aid to minors is implied in Maryland law and that further basis can be found in common law.

3. That the Craigs' contention "they were denied equal protection of the law . . . is likewise without merit."

A Washington County Circuit Court jury had found the Craigs guilty of involuntary manslaughter and Judge D. K. McLaughlin fined them each $500. The husband also was sentenced to 18 months in the House of Correction.

ARMED HELICOPTER—The harmless appearing military helicopter now has teeth. It carries six SS-II missiles, made by Nord Aviation of France. Bell Helicopter Corp. at Ft. Worth, Tex., announced yesterday it has sent a helicopter to the Army Missile Agency in Alabama armed with 62-pound rockets which the firm says can destroy a tank. Their speed builds up to more than 600 feet per second, or about 410 miles an hour. Maximum practical range is 3,500 feet. The 'copter use of missiles will be tested in Alabama for possible later battlefield readiness. (AP Photofax)

Tawes Says State Must Resist 'Urge To Splurge'

BALTIMORE (AP)—Gov. Tawes said Tuesday Maryland must resist "the urge to splurge" off its growing surplus in the state treasury.

He indicated spending requests coming before him will get a good, hard look and warned against committing surplus monies to future spending programs which will require another round of tax increases.

"The public treasury is not just a big chest of money to be dipped into to give everybody what he wants," the governor told a luncheon meeting of the Salvation Army Auxiliary.

It is derived from tax dollars to satisfy public needs and these must be met in order of urgency, Tawes said.

The governor said the state finds itself in "reasonably good financial condition" because of a sound and stable tax structure which is producing sufficient revenues off a rising economy.

Fiscal experts are forecasting a surplus of $10,742,000 at the end of the current fiscal year next June 30 and the amount of "extra" revenue for balancing next year's budget should be considerably higher than that when trends are projected into 1961.

Tawes indicated, however, that he is thinking along the same lines as the Legislative Council's James Committee, which has cautioned against spending up the surplus available. The committee has warned that adding this amount to a permanent spending level will make further tax increases mandatory in another year or so.

Noted Brazilian Composer Dies

RIO DE JANEIRO (UPI)—Heitor Villa-Lobos, former child prodigy who became a world famous composer, died here Tuesday of uremia after a prolonged illness. He was 75.

Villa-Lobos had been ill for more than a year and had suffered several cerebral hemorrhages during that time.

Villa-Lobos, who made his debut as a cellist at the age of 12, took up the guitar in secret while learning to play the piano. He played at supper clubs and dance halls and went on to become one of Brazil's foremost composers for the guitar.

In the early 1930's, Villa-Lobos became an international figure in the world of music. After touring the provinces of Brazil he had gained an almost encyclopedic knowledge of Brazilian folk music.

A meeting with pianist Artur Rubinestein and two trips to Paris, in 1923 and 1929, further widened his musical outlook. Many of his guitar pieces were dedicated to the famous guitarist Segovia. Others were dedicated to his wife, Mindinha.

Montgomery Leads

BALTIMORE (AP) — Montgomery County, with a request for six million dollars, leads the nine counties which have asked for financial assistance from the State Department of Education.

The 12 million dollar total would go for new schools and auxiliary facilities.

According to Bernard G. Geyer, department assistant supervisor of finance, most of the money would come from state funds.

Bra Or Falsies, Both Sides Lose Damage Suits

WASHINGTON (AP) — The woman called it a brassiere and asked $40 damages. The laundromat operators called it rubber-like falsies and asked $101.10. Both lost.

The case was heard Tuesday by Judge DeWitt S. Hyde of Municipal Court.

Miss Pamela Champagne, 21, said the clothes dryer was overheated and damaged the bra.

The laundromat operators sought payment because, they said, the rubber padding became ignited and put the machine out of commission.

The judge, in ruling against Miss Champagne, said there was no evidence the dryer was not reasonably fit to carry out the purpose for which it was intended. The young woman, he said, "should have governed herself accordingly."

Samuel Warner, one of the owners of the laundromat, argued that the makers of the brassiere involved cautioned customers not to employ heat in washing or drying.

Judge Hyde held however that the legal test in the case was whether ordinary prudence would have suggested to Miss Champagne that to put the garment into the machine would result in damage to the mechanism.

It appeared to him, he said, that she had "no reason to believe that the garment would catch fire in the dryer."

Baltimore Music Figure Succumbs

BALTIMORE (AP) — Frederick R. Huber, founder of the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra and for the last 39 years managing director of the Lyric Theater, died Tuesday in Union Memorial Hospital. He was 75.

Huber was admitted to the hospital three weeks ago for treatment of lung cancer. He had been ill intermittently for several years but still fulfilled his duties at the Lyric.

Serving as municipal director of music from 1918 until 1942, he was believed to be the first man to hold a position of this kind in the United States.

He also had performed as a concert pianist and served as manager of the Peabody Conservatory of Music Summer School, manager of the Peabody publicity and concert bureau, director of Radio Station WBAL, manager of the Baltimore Choir Bureau, local representative of the Metropolitan and Chicago Opera Companies and state director of music of the National Youth Administration.

Newsmen threw question after question at him but Clark smiled and declined to confirm his manager's statement that he would divest himself of his record and music publishing sidelines.

On the "Bandstand" program, the handsome Clark spins records, interviews the singers who make the records, and chats with teenage girls and boys who dance while the music plays. The program runs 2½ hours Monday through Friday.

Given the same choice as Clark, Anthony Mammarella, producer of the "Bandstand" program for seven years—Clark took over in 1956—resigned. He also relinquished the producer's post in Clark's Saturday show.

Mammarella said in a statement he wanted to remain in the record and music publishing business.

It was Mammarella's statement that brought out the ABC policy. Apparently the network set it down last week, informing employes of a general policy forbidding anyone working on a network show to engage in the music publishing or record business.

Man's Body Found Off Md. Coast

OCEAN CITY, Md. (AP) — The Coast Guard Tuesday pulled from the Atlantic about seven miles off the Maryland coastline the body of a man which had been in the water from two to three weeks.

It was turned over to a funeral home at Berlin, Md., and State Police notified.

The body was found by Charles Parker, operating the fishing boat Chicopee. He notified the Coast Guard station here, which brought the body in.

The Coast Guard gave this description of the body: A white man, five-feet-ten, 140-160 pounds, 30 to 40 years old, slender to medium build, wearing black loafers size 7 with flecks of white and copper paint on them, a brass key —but no papers — in the pockets, a belt with the letter "B" on the buckle and two pairs of pants. Distinguishing features of the face were missing.

Good Weather Aids Late Crop Harvest

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — Farmers have had good weather for harvesting late crops and for germination of fall-planted grains, the Maryland Crop Reporting Service said Tuesday.

The service combined a report on conditions in October with a rundown on expected crop yields. Some crops made strides over last year, while others did not measure up.

As of Nov. 1, commercial apple production in the state totaled 1,400,000 bushels, or 10 per cent above the 1958 crop. Most growers finished harvesting during October and others completed it the first part of this month.

However, low prices have discouraged salvage of drops in many orchards.

The reporting service, which pools information from the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the University of Maryland Extension Service, listed these other production figures:

Corn — Early summer drought hurt more than was expected, and the indicated yield of 55 bushels per acre as of Nov. 1 is 5 bushels below the Oct. 1 indicated yield and 7 bushels under the record 1958 yield. Because farmers planted more acres of the crop, the 27,610,000 bushels is less than one per cent below the 1958 crop and third largest on record.

Soybeans — The 4,200,000 bushels are one per cent below 1958 crop but third largest on record. Average yield of 21 bushels per acre is only one bushel below record 22.

Irish potatoes — Production of 465,000 hundredweight is 24 per cent below the 1958 crop and average yield of 97 cwt. is 18 bushels below last year but above 10-year average.

Sweet potatoes — Estimated crop of 480,000 cwt. is 29 per cent below 1958 crop and smallest since 1956. Yields small and disappointing.

Eggs — Ten-month total of 338 million exceeds 1958 output by two per cent.

Trolley Operator Fatally Stricken

BALTIMORE (AP) — The operator of a streetcar involved in a spectacular downtown accident six weeks ago was fatally stricken at his home Tuesday.

Joseph T. Hinton, 56, was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Joseph's Hospital. A spokesman for the medical examiner said the man apparently had suffered a heart attack but an autopsy was scheduled.

Ten persons were hurt Oct. 5 when the streetcar left its track near Redwood and Charles streets and struck eight motor vehicles. Hinton told police had had blacked out shortly before the accident.

An ostrich can cover approximately twenty-five feet in one stride.

Blonde Victim Tells Of Alleged Kidnap, Assault

BALTIMORE (AP) — A slim, blonde government clerk testified Tuesday she was "scared to death" when a man armed with a knife allegedly abducted and raped her last Aug. 30.

"To tell the truth, I was too scared," she replied when defense counsel asked her if she didn't scream or try to fight the attacker off.

On trial on charges of kidnaping with intent to rape two FBI office workers of Washington, D. C. are Ronald E. Garrison, 28, a mechanic, and Joseph L. Price, 30, an ice cream plant worker.

The abduction and attack took place, the women told authorities, after they had been to a dance at College Park, Md., and two men at the affair had followed them in another car.

According to the 23-year-old blonde, the men forced their way into the car she was driving when stopped at the intersection of Tuckerman and Kansas.

She testified the man who forced her to move over then took the wheel and drove out Georgia Avenue and to a lonely spot at Norbeck, Md. The attack occurred there, she told the all-male jury under Chief Federal Judge Roszel C. Thomsen.

She said both men held a switchblade knife on her and her companion from time to time, and that once Price drew it across her arm lightly, making a cut.

The young woman, who was subjected to a three-and-a-half hour cross examination today, told how her attacker unzipped her dress in back, pulled it off her and forced her to submit.

She said she did not scream but kicked the horn a couple of times and kicked the attacker against the dashboard. "He told me he'd cut my head off" if she didn't yield to him, she related.

"Weren't you two making love, didn't you let him put his arm around you and didn't you kiss him?" asked defense counsel Cyril S. Lawrence of Washington.

"No," was the intent reply of the witness, who leaned forward in the chair and fiddled with a ring on her finger while testifying.

Still to be heard from is the 24-year-old red haired companion.

168 Families To Lose Homes

ABERDEEN, Md. (AP) — House-hunting became a major preoccupation Tuesday for 168 families who will have to get out of government-owned apartments within 90 days.

The Army announcement also affects 24 enlisted men's families, but they will be furnished housing in a development near Aberdeen Proving Ground.

Practically all the civilians who have gotten notices are employes at the proving ground.

The evictions are necessary under a new federal housing law, Army authorities explained. Title to the 796-unit housing project passes from Chesapeake Gardens, Inc., to the Army, which also takes over furniture, appliances and other property.

In 1950, when the project was opened, existing legislation permitted civilian families working for the Army to occupy the dwellings. Now, only military families can. Title to the project, which cost a seven million dollars, was awarded the Army at a Federal Court hearing in Baltimore last Friday.

License Plate Steel Supply Adequate

BALTIMORE (AP) — No interruption in the manufacture of Maryland motor vehicle license plates is foreseen because of the steel industry labor dispute, the head of the state prison industrial system reported Tuesday

C. William White, head of the State Use Industries, said the plate-manufacturing program has not been greatly affected by the steel strike.

"We have enough steel on hand to take us through the latter part of December," said White, "and we believe we will get enough from the mill before then to continue production as planned."

White estimated 600 tons of steel go into the making of the 2,400,000 plates — 1,200,000 sets of two each — for Maryland-registered vehicles.

TRAGEDY IN ICY CREEK—Lawler McGovern, 48, Rochester, Minn., farmer, drowned when this tractor overturned in the bed of this icy creek, pinning him beneath it. His brother, Wilfred, who managed to free himself, held Lawler's head above water as long as he could as the machine settled down, dragging the victim with it. Man at left is a rural fireman. RF Amplifiers Will Help Power New "Ion" Engine

BALTIMORE (AP) — A new step toward space travel apparently has been made with the recent completion of three radio-frequency amplifiers to help power a new, experimental "ion" engine.

Developed by the Westinghouse Electric Corporation's X-ray and electronics division, the amplifiers all designed to power a new type space engine drawn up for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration by the Lewis Research Center at Cleveland.

In principle, an "ion" engine is similar to a vacuum tube. In the tube, electrons are "pulled" across a gap between two metallic plates, the anode and cathode. This flow of electrons increases, or amplifies, the voltage output.

But in an ion engine, it is the electrically charged particles — the ions — that are pulled. Not across a gap, as in the tube, but through an electrostatic field. The speeding ions then stream out the engine's rear, as a jet, creating a tremendous thrust.

Westinghouse says its new amplifiers will accelerate the ions — get them racing enough to thrust a space ship up to 216,000 miles an hour.

William J. Delaney, Jr., Westinghouse manager, predicted his amplifiers' size will be reduced 75 per cent eventually.

"Ionic space propulsion has a tremendous potential, because the systems can manufacture their own fuel in flight," he said.

Sleeping Sickness Symposium Today

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—A Symposium on sleeping sickness will be held at the University of Maryland Wednesday, with some 250 specialists in medicine and veterinary science expected to attend.

Among them will be a delegation from New Jersey, where more than 18 persons died from the disease this summer. One case in Maryland was confirmed.

In medical terms, the conference will take up what is called eastern equine encephalomyelitis. The program is sponsored by the university's departments of veterinary science, medicine and entomology.

Scientists say the virus of EEE is primarily an infection of wild birds. It may be transmitted to man, horses or other vertebrates by mosquitoes or other arthropods.

Some 15 to 20 cases were observed in horses in Maryland this year.

Elevated Derails

CHICAGO (UPI) — An elevated train derailed and rammed into the platform of a loop station during the morning rush hour Tuesday and thousands were late for work. No one was reported hurt in the crash, which halted traffic on the Ravenswood, Evanston and Lake Street lines.

One bee hive may hold as many as 70 thousand bees.

Jail Business Booms

TOWSON, Md. (AP) — Two years ago, when the new Baltimore County jail was opened, some 35 prisoners were behind bars. Now there are 112.

"It seems that the finer the jail, the more customers we have," said Dale Anderson, chairman of the County Council at a budget hearing.

The jail's current budget is $135,000. It is asking $149,000 for next year.

GIFT FOR EVELYN—It was a tender scene at Honolulu airport as cancer-stricken Evelyn Hicks, 12, many leis around her neck, accepted a doll gift from Kathy Vail (left), 9. Evelyn, from Anguin, Calif., dreamed of a Hawaiian vacation. Her dream came true when a Honolulu radio station arranged the trip for her and her family after The Associated Press carried a story describing the girl's plight and wishes. Evelyn, doctors say, has only a short time to live. Kathy was one of about 300 persons who were on hand for her arrival. (AP Photofax)

Defector Hangs Up On His Despondent Mother

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI)—A 20-year-old ex-Marine, who renounced his American citizenship, hung up on his despondent mother Monday when she telephoned him in Russia.

Mrs. Marguerite Oswald, a widow, reached her son, Lee Harvey Oswald, at the Metropole Hotel in Moscow.

He said, "Hello, hello" and she said "Hello, hello Lee."

Then she heard a click and the line was dead. Mrs. Oswald started crying.

"I have nowhere to turn. I am completely alone now," Mrs. Oswald said.

Mrs. Oswald, 52, said her son had cut off all family ties.

Mrs. Oswald said her son wrote her after he left the United States last month and was en route to Russia, but she has heard nothing from him since he arrived there.

On Oct. 31 Oswald said he would never return to the United States.

He said reading Karl Marx converted him and he preferred to live under a communistic form of government.

Thornton Predicts Ike Won't Make His Scheduled Trip To Russia Next Spring

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Dr. Spencer Thornton, 30 - year - old Baptist seminary student who forecast the current Hawaiian mountain volcanic eruptions four months before they occurred, Monday predicted that President Eisenhower would not make his scheduled trip to the Soviet Union next spring.

Dr. Thornton, who says there is nothing mystical about the way he predicts newsmaking events, soon will reveal his secrets and working methods in a book he is compiling while attending the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary here.

"I guess I made a believer out of at least one person with my prediction on the Jack Paar show last August that the Mauna Loa mountain would start spewing lava last weekend. On the Aug. 18 show (Paar's master of ceremonies) Hugh Downs said if the volcano started erupting when I said it would it would make a believer of him," he laughed.

On that Aug. 18 show and a later one Dr. Thornton also forecast that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev would make a startling peace announcement regarding disarmament (which he did before the United Nations on his U. S. visit); that there would be a famine in South China this winter and that Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas would get the Democratic presidential nomination and Vice President Richard M. Nixon the GOP nomination. He also forecast that Nixon would win the presidential election.

Other successes for Dr. Thornton's mental gymnastics include his correct forecasting of the winner of this year's Miss America pageant, the recent Japanese floods, and the successful Russian moonshot. He also predicted that Bert T. Combs would win the Kentucky gubernatorial election over GOP opponent John M. Robsion, Jr. Combs won by a record-breaking margin.

The coronation of the present Duke of Windsor as king of Great Britain never took place.

Circle Meeting

Plans and preparations for the decorations and table arrangements for the dedication banquet November 23 were made at the regular meeting of Circle 8, St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Monday afternoon. Circle members will meet at the church at 9:30 p. m. on Monday to begin preparations for the dinner which will be served to members of the congregation and guests of St. Paul's.

Mrs. Howard Irwin presided at the business session, at which time a letter of thanks from Mrs. H. C. Utterbach for setting and decorating tables for the October and November dinners, of the Mountain Conference of the United Lutheran Church Women, was read. A new member was welcomed, Mrs. Carl Fawcett. The devotional leader was Mrs. Martha Weller, and hostesses for the afternoon were Miss Elvira Lilya and Mrs. Myrtle Hurley.

The next meeting will be held at the church on December 21. Hostesses will be Mrs. Helen Browne and Mrs. Harold Inskeep, and the devotions will be conducted by Mrs. Martin Sharp.

Personals

Mrs. N. S. Yoder, Pinto, is a patient in Sacred Heart Hospital.

E. F. Foremann is spending the winter in Tampa, Fla.

Mrs. Betty Nicklin, 109 North Centre Street, is a patient in Sacred Heart Hospital.

State Board Will Meet Here In 1961

The 1961 spring meeting of the board of the State Council of Homemakers Clubs will be held in Cumberland, Mrs. Douglas Smith announced at the county achievement program held at LaVale Methodist Church. Reporting on the state meeting in Baltimore last month, Mrs. Smith said she had been elected state chairman of the alumni committee of the RWSC Club and will represent it on the state council. Short Course will be held June 20-26.

Mrs. Arthur Evans was elected president and Mrs. Raymond Minke, treasurer. They were installed by Mrs. William Rilling. An auditing committee was appointed and includes Mrs. Ruthella Fey, Mrs. James Orr and Mrs. Ernest Screen.

A Thanksgiving thought was offered by Mrs. Roy Shryock, followed by prayer. Miss Mary Wise commented on the achievement booklets and gave an illustrated talk on adult camp. Mrs. Joseph Thompson, Baltimore, state chairman of citizenship and civil defense and president of the Baltimore club, was the guest speaker. She told of the triennial meeting of the Associated Country Women of the World, and showed slides of Scotland and commented on places she visited. She said the women are working to better family life, but are bound by tradition and do not enjoy the freedom of American women. Mrs. K. O. Nelson told of her experiences as Mrs. Maryland of 1959. Mrs. James R. Smith outlined committee programs and urged working together to attain the goal to strengthen the home and family life by being more efficient homemakers and citizens.

Group singing was led by Mrs. Paul Gilford. A skit on projects was presented by Mrs. James Armstrong, with Mrs. Bert Browne, Mrs. A. E. Kesecker, Mrs. Roy Smith, Mrs. Winnie Brode, Mrs. LaMar Wentling and Mrs. Harry Miller taking part.

3 Groups To Hold Service

Park Place WSCS made donations and plans for a joint Thanksgiving service with the LaVale Methodist and LaVale Baptist participating, at the meeting with Mrs. Bruce Bower presiding. A Christmas gift was made to Asbury Home and $15 was sent to the George O. Robinson Home, Puerto Rico. The Thanksgiving service will be in the church November 26 at 10:30 a. m.

The group sang, "Come Ye Thankful People," and offered prayer. Mrs. Walter Bennett read the Scripture. Mrs. Cletus Mallow led a program on intercessory prayer and stewardship. She read an article, "Here We Offer," and concluded with prayer. Mrs. Louis Plummer read a Thanksgiving story. Routine reports were given. The gift of the month was won by Mrs. Plummer.

A social followed and refreshments were served by Mrs. Raymond Koontz, Mrs. William Lucas, Mrs. Ralph Hendrickson and Mrs. Joseph Hatfield.

Mrs. James Albert Simmons

Patricia Ann Cadigan Is Bride Of James Simmons

Miss Patricia Ann Cadigan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy F. Cadigan, Coatesville, Pa., became the bride of James Albert Simmons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Simmons, Paw Paw, W. Va., November 7. The ceremony was solemnized in St. Cecelia Catholic Church, Coatesville, with Rev. Henry J. Kiggins officiating. White chrysanthemums were used in the decorations.

The bride had her sister, Miss Helen Cadigan, as her maid of honor; Miss June Gartley and Mrs. Dorothy Mihilak, bridesmaids. Lynn Simmons served as his brother's best man, while Timothy F. Cadigan Jr. and James Cadigan, brother and cousin of the bride, were ushers. Mrs. Edward Rissell Sr. played the Ave Maria, the processional from the opera Lohengrin and Mendelssohn's recessional.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of hand clipped Chantilly lace and nylon tulle, fashioned with a lace bodice with pointed waistline, and sleeves, with sequins and pearls trimming the Sabrina neckline. The bouffant skirt had alternating vertical panels of scalloped lace and tulle over underskirt of ruffled tulle. Her imported tulle veil fell from a lace cap trimmed in pearls. She carried a white prayer book with white orchid and stephanotis marker.

Her attendants wore ballerina-length dresses of white silk organza with draped bodice, wide lace midriff and circular skirt trimmed in front with lace appliques and bows. The maid of honor carried red roses, and the bridesmaids, talisman roses. Their headdresses were single strands of matching roses.

The bride's mother wore a Dior blue dress with matching velvet hat, while the bridegroom's mother had a pink costume. Each had a white orchid corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Paw Paw High School and is employed by Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania. The bridegroom also is a graduate of Paw Paw High School and of Greenbriar Military School, and is serving with the Army.

For their wedding trip to Florida the bride wore a gray and white tweed suit with black feathered hat and black accessories. She will reside at home while her husband is stationed in Seoul, Korea.

A dinner and reception was held at the West End fire hall, Coatesville. Out of town guests attended from New Jersey, Virginia and West Virginia.

Public Is Invited To 4-H Program

Parents, 4-H members and friends are invited to attend the annual 4-H Achievement program, which will be held tonight at 7:30 in the auditorium of Compton Hall, Frostburg State Teachers College.

The first part of the program will be a skit by the Collegiate 4-H Club, portraying a group from outer space in 1960, reminiscing about the '59 program. Miss Patricia King will be narrator. The cast includes Miss Bettie Umstead, Miss Grace Kifer, Miss Katherine Roach, Miss Darlene Logue, Miss Carol Butka, Miss Grace Peffer, Philip Beeman, Kenneth Moreland and Larry Fresh.

A talent program includes a piano solo by Stella Struntz of the LaVale club; a novelty dance number by Kathleen Trost with Beverly Wattenschaidt at the piano, Lonaconing club; and vocal solo by Marlene Clark, accompanied by Ann Hardinger, Bedford Road club, and a singing group by the Flintstone-Polish Mountain club.

Awards will be presented by Miss Nancy Marsteller and James Arnold. There also will be introduction of guests and recognition of local leaders. The Frostburg junior and senior girls and Mt. Savage boys will be host clubs.

Club To Recess For Winter

The Polish Mountain Homemakers Club decided to discontinue meetings during the winter, and will resume in April. Mrs. Broze Lough conducted the meeting at the home of Mrs. George McKenzie. The Lord's Prayer was said and the quotation of the month was given. Mrs. Franklin Roland gave the history and words of the hymn, "Come Ye Thankful People, Come." Roll call was answered to "For what am I most thankful this November?" Pennies for friendships were collected.

Mrs. Trecia Hamons was elected president and Mrs. McKenzie, treasurer. The club voted to contribute $5 to the Maude A. Bean memorial books.

Routine reports were given and chairmen for 1960 were appointed. They are Mrs. Horace Fisher, Mrs. Hamons, clothing; Mrs. Edna Crock, family life; Mrs. Lough, food and nutrition; Mrs. Emory Davis, health, safety, home furnishing and music; Mrs. McKenzie, home management, home and yard beautification; Mrs. Fisher, art and publicity; Mrs. Roland, international relations, citizenship; Mrs. Josephine Grubb, recreation, fair and exhibits.

Following the singing of "Over the River and Through the Woods," refreshments were served. Others present were Mrs. Fisher, Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Crock.

North Cumberland Homemakers will meet tomorrow at 1:15 in Fairview Avenue Church social hall, due to the Thanksgiving holiday.

Third Order Has Profession Of Novices

Profession of novices for the Third Order of St. Francis was conducted on Sunday afternoon during the services in SS. Peter and Paul Church. They were Mrs. Cecelia Albright, Mrs. Bertha Boley, Mrs. Anna Simpson, Mrs. Kathryn Hunter, Mrs. Nancy K. Hinea, Mrs. Helena Schott, Mrs. Anna Chambers, Mrs. Dorothy Hartman, Mrs. Agnes Zapf, Miss Mary Murray, Mrs. Mary Ritter, Miss Kathlyn Wolfe, Mrs. Angela Neely, Howard Jefferson.

Rev. Sylvan Fondriest, O.F.M. Cap., local director, conducted the services. The organization has a membership of approximately 250.

Opti-Mrs. To Meet

The Opti-Mrs. will meet at 8 tonight at the Fort Cumberland Hotel. Hostesses will be Mrs. Mamie Winfield, Mrs. Hilda Funkhauser and Mrs. Maxine Hudson.

The soft look is part of the Priceless Look, nicely illustrated here by MACSHORE'S short-sleeved classic, in little-or-no-iron Dacron-and-cotton. Special detailing includes the lace-trimmed tab and front, and Peter Pan collar. White, beige, mint. Sizes 30 to 38.

MONDAY IS MOTHER'S DAY

(AND DOES SHE HATE IT!)

Yes, Monday is Mother's Day . . . Every Monday, Mother knows that it's her day to do the family laundry . . . and does she hate it!

Well, does she hate it in your home?

She won't if she knows that the family's clothes will be washed without her having to slop around in dirty water!

Take away this mess and you take the "blues" out of washday for Mom. An automatic electric washer does take the mess and work out of washdays, you know.

Mother just pops the clothes into the machine, sets one dial and then just "sets."

All the dirty clothes are soon fresh and clean and Mother has found extra time to be with her family.

Go on, turn Mondays into fun days for Mother . . . Take another step into the All-Electric Future and get an automatic washer from your local electric appliance dealer or the

Circle Meeting

Plans and preparations for the decorations and table arrangements for the dedication banquet November 23 were made at the regular meeting of Circle 8, St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Monday afternoon. Circle members will meet at the church at 9:30 p. m. on Monday to begin preparations for the dinner which will be served to members of the congregation and guests of St. Paul's.

Mrs. Howard Irwin presided at the business session, at which time a letter of thanks from Mrs. H. C. Utterbach for setting and decorating tables for the October and November dinners, of the Mountain Conference of the United Lutheran Church Women, was read. A new member was welcomed, Mrs. Carl Fawcett. The devotional leader was Mrs. Martha Weller, and hostesses for the afternoon were Miss Elvira Lilya and Mrs. Myrtle Hurley.

The next meeting will be held at the church on December 21. Hostesses will be Mrs. Helen Browne and Mrs. Harold Inskeep, and the devotions will be conducted by Mrs. Martin Sharp.

Personals

Mrs. N. S. Yoder, Pinto, is a patient in Sacred Heart Hospital.

E. F. Foremann is spending the winter in Tampa, Fla.

Mrs. Betty Nicklin, 109 North Centre Street, is a patient in Sacred Heart Hospital.

State Board Will Meet Here In 1961

The 1961 spring meeting of the board of the State Council of Homemakers Clubs will be held in Cumberland, Mrs. Douglas Smith announced at the county achievement program held at LaVale Methodist Church. Reporting on the state meeting in Baltimore last month, Mrs. Smith said she had been elected state chairman of the alumni committee of the RWSC Club and will represent it on the state council. Short Course will be held June 20-26.

Mrs. Arthur Evans was elected president and Mrs. Raymond Minke, treasurer. They were installed by Mrs. William Rilling. An auditing committee was appointed and includes Mrs. Ruthella Fey, Mrs. James Orr and Mrs. Ernest Screen.

A Thanksgiving thought was offered by Mrs. Roy Shryock, followed by prayer. Miss Mary Wise commented on the achievement booklets and gave an illustrated talk on adult camp. Mrs. Joseph Thompson, Baltimore, state chairman of citizenship and civil defense and president of the Baltimore club, was the guest speaker. She told of the triennial meeting of the Associated Country Women of the World, and showed slides of Scotland and commented on places she visited. She said the women are working to better family life, but are bound by tradition and do not enjoy the freedom of American women. Mrs. K. O. Nelson told of her experiences as Mrs. Maryland of 1959. Mrs. James R. Smith outlined committee programs and urged working together to attain the goal to strengthen the home and family life by being more efficient homemakers and citizens.

Group singing was led by Mrs. Paul Gilford. A skit on projects was presented by Mrs. James Armstrong, with Mrs. Bert Browne, Mrs. A. E. Kesecker, Mrs. Roy Smith, Mrs. Winnie Brode, Mrs. LaMar Wentling and Mrs. Harry Miller taking part.

3 Groups To Hold Service

Park Place WSCS made donations and plans for a joint Thanksgiving service with the LaVale Methodist and LaVale Baptist participating, at the meeting with Mrs. Bruce Bower presiding. A Christmas gift was made to Asbury Home and $15 was sent to the George O. Robinson Home, Puerto Rico. The Thanksgiving service will be in the church November 26 at 10:30 a. m.

The group sang, "Come Ye Thankful People," and offered prayer. Mrs. Walter Bennett read the Scripture. Mrs. Cletus Mallow led a program on intercessory prayer and stewardship. She read an article, "Here We Offer," and concluded with prayer. Mrs. Louis Plummer read a Thanksgiving story. Routine reports were given. The gift of the month was won by Mrs. Plummer.

A social followed and refreshments were served by Mrs. Raymond Koontz, Mrs. William Lucas, Mrs. Ralph Hendrickson and Mrs. Joseph Hatfield.

Mrs. James Albert Simmons

Miss Patricia Ann Cadigan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy F. Cadigan, Coatesville, Pa., became the bride of James Albert Simmons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Simmons, Paw Paw, W. Va., November 7. The ceremony was solemnized in St. Cecelia Catholic Church, Coatesville, with Rev. Henry J. Kiggins officiating. White chrysanthemums were used in the decorations.

The bride had her sister, Miss Helen Cadigan, as her maid of honor; Miss June Gartley and Mrs. Dorothy Mihilak, bridesmaids. Lynn Simmons served as his brother's best man, while Timothy F. Cadigan Jr. and James Cadigan, brother and cousin of the bride, were ushers. Mrs. Edward Rissell Sr. played the Ave Maria, the processional from the opera Lohengrin and Mendelssohn's recessional.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of hand clipped Chantilly lace and nylon tulle, fashioned with a lace bodice with pointed waistline, and sleeves, with sequins and pearls trimming the Sabrina neckline. The bouffant skirt had alternating vertical panels of scalloped lace and tulle over underskirt of ruffled tulle. Her imported tulle veil fell from a lace cap trimmed in pearls. She carried a white prayer book with white orchid and stephanotis marker.

Her attendants wore ballerina-length dresses of white silk organza with draped bodice, wide lace midriff and circular skirt trimmed in front with lace appliques and bows. The maid of honor carried red roses, and the bridesmaids, talisman roses. Their headdresses were single strands of matching roses.

The bride's mother wore a Dior blue dress with matching velvet hat, while the bridegroom's mother had a pink costume. Each had a white orchid corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Paw Paw High School and is employed by Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania. The bridegroom also is a graduate of Paw Paw High School and of Greenbriar Military School, and is serving with the Army.

For their wedding trip to Florida the bride wore a gray and white tweed suit with black feathered hat and black accessories. She will reside at home while her husband is stationed in Seoul, Korea.

A dinner and reception was held at the West End fire hall, Coatesville. Out of town guests attended from New Jersey, Virginia and West Virginia.

Public Is Invited To 4-H Program

Parents, 4-H members and friends are invited to attend the annual 4-H Achievement program, which will be held tonight at 7:30 in the auditorium of Compton Hall, Frostburg State Teachers College.

The first part of the program will be a skit by the Collegiate 4-H Club, portraying a group from outer space in 1960, reminiscing about the '59 program. Miss Patricia King will be narrator. The cast includes Miss Bettie Umstead, Miss Grace Kifer, Miss Katherine Roach, Miss Darlene Logue, Miss Carol Butka, Miss Grace Peffer, Philip Beeman, Kenneth Moreland and Larry Fresh.

A talent program includes a piano solo by Stella Struntz of the LaVale club; a novelty dance number by Kathleen Trost with Beverly Wattenschaidt at the piano, Lonaconing club; and vocal solo by Marlene Clark, accompanied by Ann Hardinger, Bedford Road club, and a singing group by the Flintstone-Polish Mountain club.

Awards will be presented by Miss Nancy Marsteller and James Arnold. There also will be introduction of guests and recognition of local leaders. The Frostburg junior and senior girls and Mt. Savage boys will be host clubs.

Club To Recess For Winter

The Polish Mountain Homemakers Club decided to discontinue meetings during the winter, and will resume in April. Mrs. Broze Lough conducted the meeting at the home of Mrs. George McKenzie. The Lord's Prayer was said and the quotation of the month was given. Mrs. Franklin Roland gave the history and words of the hymn, "Come Ye Thankful People, Come." Roll call was answered to "For what am I most thankful this November?" Pennies for friendships were collected.

Mrs. Trecia Hamons was elected president and Mrs. McKenzie, treasurer. The club voted to contribute $5 to the Maude A. Bean memorial books.

Routine reports were given and chairmen for 1960 were appointed. They are Mrs. Horace Fisher, Mrs. Hamons, clothing; Mrs. Edna Crock, family life; Mrs. Lough, food and nutrition; Mrs. Emory Davis, health, safety, home furnishing and music; Mrs. McKenzie, home management, home and yard beautification; Mrs. Fisher, art and publicity; Mrs. Roland, international relations, citizenship; Mrs. Josephine Grubb, recreation, fair and exhibits.

Following the singing of "Over the River and Through the Woods," refreshments were served. Others present were Mrs. Fisher, Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Crock.

North Cumberland Homemakers will meet tomorrow at 1:15 in Fairview Avenue Church social hall, due to the Thanksgiving holiday.

Third Order Has Profession Of Novices

Profession of novices for the Third Order of St. Francis was conducted on Sunday afternoon during the services in SS. Peter and Paul Church. They were Mrs. Cecelia Albright, Mrs. Bertha Boley, Mrs. Anna Simpson, Mrs. Kathryn Hunter, Mrs. Nancy K. Hinea, Mrs. Helena Schott, Mrs. Anna Chambers, Mrs. Dorothy Hartman, Mrs. Agnes Zapf, Miss Mary Murray, Mrs. Mary Ritter, Miss Kathlyn Wolfe, Mrs. Angela Neely, Howard Jefferson.

Rev. Sylvan Fondriest, O.F.M. Cap., local director, conducted the services. The organization has a membership of approximately 250.

Opti-Mrs. To Meet

The Opti-Mrs. will meet at 8 tonight at the Fort Cumberland Hotel. Hostesses will be Mrs. Mamie Winfield, Mrs. Hilda Funkhauser and Mrs. Maxine Hudson.

The soft look is part of the Priceless Look, nicely illustrated here by MACSHORE'S short-sleeved classic, in little-or-no-iron Dacron-and-cotton. Special detailing includes the lace-trimmed tab and front, and Peter Pan collar. White, beige, mint. Sizes 30 to 38.

County To Keep Trees Around Court House

A storm of protest against a proposal to cut down 18 trees located in the rear and on both sides of the Court House to provide space for angle parking resulted in the Allegany County Board of Commissioners reversing their stand.

The county board met with Police Commissioner Philmore Fleming, Chief B. Frank Gaffney and Fire Chief Virgil Parker last Friday on the problem posed by parking on Prospect Square which circles the Court House.

The City of Cumberland pointed out that it would be impossible for the large hook and ladder fire truck or even the smaller trucks to obtain access to the section in the rear of the Court House in case of fire and they wanted something done to ease the situation.

Speaking out at yesterday's session against the tree-cutting plan was Mrs. Rudolph Steinberger, of the Garden Club, Mrs. Ralph C. Isiminger of the same group and Mrs. Robert Horstman, a member of the Community Council's beautification committee.

Mrs. Steinberger said there are too few places within the city which are picturesque and to cut down the Court House area trees would be tragic. She said that when trees anywhere are cut down the section reverts to a "desert".

She said that trees last many years, while autos have only a few years of usefulness. The other women echoed her statements.

Commissioner John J. Rowan, president of the board, said that he had reconsidered his stand in the matter and was now against cutting down the trees. He said that the parking problem is the responsibility of the city and if it wants to it could paint the curbing all around the Court House, if so desired.

Commissioner William A. Wilson also commented that he had agreed to the tree cutting and angle parking plan last Friday but since that time he has been "bombarded with protests from individuals and organizations". Wilson said that as an elected official he would abide by the wishes of the people. "I did not receive a single inquiry in which the proposal was supported". Wilson added.

Wilson said that at the outset he wished to make it clear that he appreciated the city officials interest in cooperating in the matter and not taking an arbitrary position.

Commissioner John T. Mason, who had been delegated by the board to have the proposal drawn up, said he did his best to have a good plan drawn up. Some of the trees are dying and within a few years will have to be removed, Mason said. He also said that a published report that $500 had been spent this past summer in trimming and fertilizing the trees was in error and that the cost was only $200 and the trimming eliminated the hazard to pedestrians from limbs falling on them.

It was also stated by board members and some of the protestants that Court House employes and people who park on the square all day long could easily arrange to park elsewhere the same as most other people working in the downtown section.

Others who added their voice of protest were Louis B. Young, Mrs. Irene MacDonald, Mrs. Walter C. Capper and Clarence Shaffer. The lone spokesman for cutting the trees was Edward Clark and he pointed to the ones in the rear of the Court House as dying for lack of water and sunlight.

Association To Meet

The Police and Firemen's Welfare Association will meet Thursday, 8 p. m., at Shaw's Cafe on Oldtown Road.

County Accepts High Bid For Westernport School

Three bids were received yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners for the old Hammond Street School Building in Westernport.

Highest offer, $3,000, for the property was made by Horace P. Whitworth Jr., an attorney, and George Failing, both of Westernport. Other bids were $2,050 by Delbert W. Martin, of Mt. Savage, and Robert Keyes, of Barton, who bid $1,675. The board accepted the high bid.

Hammond Street School was dropped for educational purposes last year upon completion of the new Bruce High School and the transfer of the Hammond Street elementary pupils to the old Bruce building.

The average age of the 38 public school buildings in Allegany County is, oddly enough, 38 years, according to statistics taken from records compiled by Arthur G. Ramey, supervisor of school bus transportation for the Board of Education.

The oldest one in operation is Centre Street School in Cumberland which was constructed in 1885.

The next in antiquity is Central Elementary School which was built in 1889 and had additions constructed on the original building in 1911, 1919 and 1940.

Hammond Street School was constructed in 1891.

Virginia Avenue School is fourth oldest, being built in 1893 with rooms being added in 1924.

The same year the present Beall Elementary School was constructed. It received additions in 1909 and 1919 and was used as a high school until 1940 when the new Beall High was put into use.

Another school built before the turn of the century was Midland, in 1889. Hill Street in Frostburg was constructed in 1900 with rooms being added in 1914.

1911—John Humbird, 1940.
1913—Luke, 1920.
1914—Columbia Street, 1921, 1958.
1916—LaVale, 1932, 1928, 1948.
1921—Carver, 1956.
1921—Flintstone, 1940, 1954.
1921—Corriganville, 1953.
1921—East Side, 1928, 1959.
1922—Johnson Heights, 1928, 1957.
1922—Mt. Royal.
1922—Westernport Elementary old Bruce High), 1940.
1924—Oldtown, 1940, 1954.
1925—Allegany, 1933, 1940, 1958.
1930—Cresaptown, 1940.
1930—McCoole, 1953.
1936—Fort Hill High School.
1940—Piney Plains
1940—West Side.
1940—Eckhart.

Some of the trees are dying and within a few years will have to be removed, Mason said. He also said that a published report that $500 had been spent this past summer in trimming and fertilizing the trees was in error and that the cost was only $200 and the trimming eliminated the hazard to pedestrians from limbs falling on them.

It was also stated by board members and some of the protestants that Court House employes and people who park on the square all day long could easily arrange to park elsewhere the same as most other people working in the downtown section.

Others who added their voice of protest were Louis B. Young, Mrs. Irene MacDonald, Mrs. Walter C. Capper and Clarence Shaffer. The lone spokesman for cutting the trees was Edward Clark and he pointed to the ones in the rear of the Court House as dying for lack of water and sunlight.

Association To Meet

The Police and Firemen's Welfare Association will meet Thursday, 8 p. m., at Shaw's Cafe on Oldtown Road.

County Accepts High Bid For Westernport School

Three bids were received yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners for the old Hammond Street School Building in Westernport.

Highest offer, $3,000, for the property was made by Horace P. Whitworth Jr., an attorney, and George Failing, both of Westernport. Other bids were $2,050 by Delbert W. Martin, of Mt. Savage, and Robert Keyes, of Barton, who bid $1,675. The board accepted the high bid.

Hammond Street School was dropped for educational purposes last year upon completion of the new Bruce High School and the transfer of the Hammond Street elementary pupils to the old Bruce building.

The average age of the 38 public school buildings in Allegany County is, oddly enough, 38 years, according to statistics taken from records compiled by Arthur G. Ramey, supervisor of school bus transportation for the Board of Education.

The oldest one in operation is Centre Street School in Cumberland which was constructed in 1885.

The next in antiquity is Central Elementary School which was built in 1889 and had additions constructed on the original building in 1911, 1919 and 1940.

Hammond Street School was constructed in 1891.

Virginia Avenue School is fourth oldest, being built in 1893 with rooms being added in 1924.

The same year the present Beall Elementary School was constructed. It received additions in 1909 and 1919 and was used as a high school until 1940 when the new Beall High was put into use.

Another school built before the turn of the century was Midland, in 1889. Hill Street in Frostburg was constructed in 1900 with rooms being added in 1914.

The remainder of the schools, listed with the years of construction and the dates of additions are as follows:

1911—John Humbird, 1940.
1913—Luke, 1920.
1914—Columbia Street, 1921, 1958.
1916—LaVale, 1932, 1928, 1948.
1921—Carver, 1956.
1921—Flintstone, 1940, 1954.
1921—Corriganville, 1953.
1921—East Side, 1928, 1959.
1922—Johnson Heights, 1928, 1957.
1922—Mt. Royal.
1922—Westernport Elementary old Bruce High), 1940.
1924—Oldtown, 1940, 1954.
1925—Allegany, 1933, 1940, 1958.
1930—Cresaptown, 1940.
1930—McCoole, 1953.
1936—Fort Hill High School.
1940—Piney Plains
1940—West Side.
1940—Eckhart.
1941—Beall High.
1952—Mt. Savage.
1953—Ellerslie.
1953—Valley High.
1953—Lincoln.
1955—Parkside.
1956—North East.
1956—Bruce.

Penn Avenue PTA To Meet Today

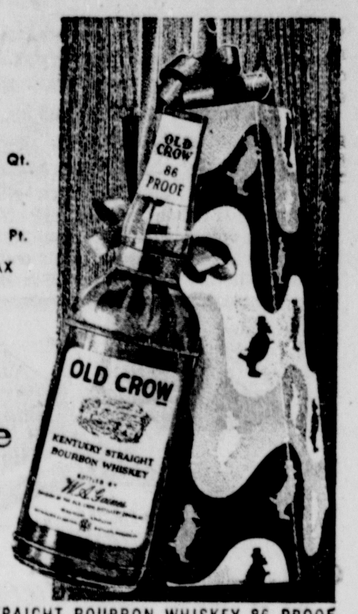

The Pennsylvania Avenue Parent-Teacher Association will hold its second meeting of the year tomorrow at the school from 7:30 to 9 p. m., according to James Dickey, association secretary.

The group will observe "Dad's Night" and a program featuring the Fort Hill boys ensemble is scheduled.

Officer Henry Appeals Suspension

Suspended Patrolman Kenneth Lee Henry, 34, underwent surgery yesterday at Sacred Heart Hospital and hospital attaches said his condition is "satisfactory."

Officer Henry has been a patient at the hospital since November 11 when he was injured in a fracas with three men on North Mechanic Street while off duty. It was reported he suffered a depressed fracture of the skull.

He was suspended the following day by Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore Fleming with approval of Police Chief B. Frank Gaffney, for alleged misconduct.

Yesterday, Henry, through his attorney, Thomas N. Berry, filed notice of appeal with Fleming and sent a copy to the chairman of the Civil Service Commission, Francis A. Kenney.

Berry's letter to Fleming said: "I am transmitting herewith a notice of appeal on behalf of Officer Kenneth Lee Henry, a member of the Cumberland Police Department, respecting his appeal from a notice of suspension from duty dated November 12, 1959, arising out of an incident at the Hudson Service Station on North Mechanic Street at or about midnight of November 11, 1959.

"As the language of Section 36, subsection (i) of the charter is somewhat ambiguous, a duplicate original of the notice of appeal is being filed with the chairman of the Civil Service Commission."

Fleming said the suspension of Henry is routine procedure in such cases and that neither he nor Chief Gaffney has been able to talk to the officer and get his story because of his condition. Nothing can be done until an investigation of the incident is completed including the talk with Henry and completing statements from witnesses to the fracas, it was said.

Under Civil Service procedure governing such appeals, the officer must file notice within five days, which Henry has done. Within the next five days, the Commissioner of Police must file specific charges on which the suspension is based; and then within the next five days the Civil Service Commission can set the case for a hearing.

However, this timetable will be offset by Henry's condition which will delay completion of the Police Department's investigation.

Under normal circumstances, the specific complaint should be filed by Saturday but because of the extenuating circumstances it may be some days beyond that time.

Henry has been a member of the force two years.

Named Archpriest

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Domenico Cardinal Tardini, Vatican secretary of state, is the new archpriest of St. Peters Basilica, it was announced Tuesday. Pope John XXIII signed the appointment Nov. 14, but it was revealed only Tuesday. Tardini replaces Federico Cardinal Tedeschini who died Nov. 2.

Woodrow Wilson was the first President since John Adams to deliver his message to Congress in person.

THE LITTLE WOMAN

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN: For my 19th birthday my boy friend gave me a diamond.

My mother says it is so small that he should be ashamed of himself. Also, she wants me to return it and tell him I'd rather have no ring than one that is "embarrassing" to show.

I am not ambarrassed. The ring is what he can afford and I'm happy he was sensible and didn't go into debt for a larger one. She says an engagement ring should last forever, and if I don't take her advice I'll be sorry later. What is your opinion?—DENNY

DEAR DENNY: I have news for your mother. A small diamond will last just as long as a large one. Maybe longer—because sometimes the larger ones are repossessed by the finance company or the credit manager of the store.

Tell your mother to stop trying to brainwash you with her warped notions of what is important. Your sense of values is better than hers. Good luck.

DEAR ANN: Where do parents' responsibility end? We raised five children and survived two periods of unemployment when I went out and worked.

After 29 years, (and two in-laws living with us) our oldest daughter tells us she's unhappy in her marriage and wants to come home with her three children. Her husband is easy-going, makes a good living and the kids adore him. But he caught her cheating and slapped her face. I'm sure he must have been pushed to the brink.

Our daughter is pretty and lively and I have reason to believe she has had a few affairs with other men.

I'm not in good health and my in-laws are trying at times. My husband is nervous and three youngsters would be bad for him. We are crowded as it is. Four more would be impossible. Yet we love our daughter and grandchildren and don't want to turn our backs on them. What shall we do?—M.A.C.

DEAR M.A.C.: If you want to help your daughter, don't make it easy for her to break up her marriage. Urge her to seek the help of a clergyman or a marriage counselor. These experts in the field have saved many situations; situations which were "beyond hope."

Make it plain to your daughter if she leaves her husband she's on her own. From the sound of things you have your hands plenty full as it is.

DEAR ANN: We've been married seven years and have four lovely kids. My husband says I'm a "nagger." If you agree with him, then I'm willing to go down in defeat.

This is what we fight about: I phone him at the office every day at 4 if he hasn't phoned me what time he'll be home for dinner. He says people in the office make remarks when I call and he wants me to cut it out.

When I don't know what time he's coming home the kids and I wait and then they get mean. Sometimes I give the kids their dinner at 7:30, and then he walks in at 10 o'clock and I have to go back in the kitchen. I need advice.—B. C.

DEAR B, C.: Stop calling your husband at the office if he doesn't like it. Tell him if you don't hear from him by 4 p. m. you will assume he'll be home by 6. Agree to wait until 6:30. If he doesn't show by 6:30 eat with the kids and let him scrounge around by himself.

If he calls and says he'll be home too late for the kids to wait, feed them at 6, eat some bread and butter, wait for him and have dinner together.

ANNOUNCE RECALL

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — A. O. Smith Corp. announced the recall of 140 of its auto division production workers and said about 2,500 more will be returned to their jobs over the next four weeks. Plant employment had been cut sharply because of the steel strike.

Ministerial Group Names Committees

The Cumberland Ministerial Association committees have been named for the coming year, appointments having been announced Monday.

Social action and education, Rev. Everett Culp, chairman; and Rabbi Max Selinger (additional ministers will be named to this committee).

Special services, Rev. Louis Emerick, chairman; and Herman Smith, Rev. George S. Widmyer, Rev. B. F. Hartman, Rev. Robert Nimon, Rev. George Bell, and Rev. Harold McClay.

Recreation and youth activities, Lt. Richard McConniel, chairman; Rev. Bruce Price, Rev. James D. Elliott, Rev. Emil Teyssier, Dwight Evans and Rev. F. G. Wanek.

Memberships are being renewed in the association, to which approximately 50 persons engaged in religious work belong.

$10 Million Estate

CHICAGO (UPI)—Paul V. Galvin, who died Nov. 5, left an estate of more than $10 million, according to a petition filed Tuesday in Cook County Probate Court. He was founder and chairman of the board of Motorola, Inc. According to Attorney Charles E. Green, Galvin left half of the estate's residue, after bequests of cash and stock, to the widow and the other half in trust for charitable, scientific, religious literary and educational purposes.

GS Training Course Today

The second session of a refresher course for Girl Scout leaders will be held today from 9:30 a. m. to 2:30 p. m. at the Girl Scout House, 72 Greene Street.

A panel of three from Cumberland Council will conduct a discussion on a national program study and ways of implementing the material into the local program. Participating will be Mrs. C. E. Howell, program chairman; Mrs. Raymond Chaney, Neighborhood chairman; and Miss Olive Hurlburt, Scout executive.

The afternoon session will be devoted to a crafts' workshop. Weaving and sugar molding will be two of the crafts.

On request from new leaders a second outdoor session at Camp Tioga will be held Thursday from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m. A variety of skills will be presented. Those who are not planning to cook should take a box lunch. Anyone needing transportation should meet at the Scout House at 9:45 a. m.

Another opportunity for leadership training this week is the last session of the square dance workshop at St. Matthew's Church, Bowling Green. Jack Drumond will be the instructor.

Local Garbage Contractor May Change Building Plan

The city's garbage contractor would give up plans to construct a garage on Memorial Avenue under certain considerations.

The contractor, E. A. Dougherty, had planned to build the garage for his trucks, but the plan was opposed by residents of the area, the Mayor and Council voted to reject the permit, the Board of Zoning Appeals also voted to reject it and Dougherty carried his appeal to Allegany County Circuit Court where it is pending.

Dougherty's attorney, Thomas B. Finan, has advised the city of the possibility of the contractor giving up the garage plan at the Memorial Avenue site.

A final decision, however, hinges on Dougherty recovering an investment of $3,000 already made in land; and the location of another site from which it will be economical for him to operate.

Finan said Dougherty would like to cooperate. He has $3,000 invested in the lots and has informed Finan that both the C&A Gas Company and C&P Telephone Company intend to construct garages close to his present lots so it will be practically impossible for him to sell them for residential purposes. This location is also zoned as commercial, it was said.

Finan's letter said Cumberland Steel Company has already delivered steel for the garage but added, however, the material could probably be used at another location.

Finan said Dougherty feels he will probably face objection no matter where he goes unless he locates at a place where it is not economical to operate.

Dougherty also feels that there has been gross misunderstanding on the part of the public as to the alleged nuisance which they believe use of the land will create.

Finan asked City Attorney William R. Carscaden for his idea on how Dougherty can recover his investment in the lots, assuming he can find another garage location. It is felt, Finan said, that it might be years before Dougherty finds a purchaser for the lots at the actual price paid for them.

Ohio Youth's Steer Is Grand Champion

TIMONIUM, Md. (AP)—A 950-pound Hereford steer shown by Dennis Hinrichs, 18, of Woodville, Ohio, was judged the grand champion steer at the Eastern National Livestock Show Tuesday.

The reserve grand champion, a Hereford weighing 905 pounds, was exhibited by James Linthicum, 17, of Dayton, Md.

Runners-up were a shorthorn entered by Penn State and an Aberdeen Angus by Lyle Lewter of Lubbock, Tex. They were judged the winners in the open class competition Monday.

Hinrichs and Linthicum are 4-H Club members.

The champions will go on the auction block to the highest bidder Wednesday. Last year a packing house paid a record price of $4.01 a pound for the grand champion. The current market price for cattle is about 29 cents a pound.

The show continues through Thursday.

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (UPI) — Police had no trouble finding the burglar who had climbed a tree, jumped to the roof of the home of Mrs. Millie B. Schroth, pried open a second-floor window and ransacked the place.

There he was on Mrs. Schroth's sun porch, dozing peacefully, a crowbar and pliers by his side.

VA Outlines War Orphan Education Plan

Age has little effect on the War Orphans Schooling program of the Veterans Administration, according to Samuel Weston, local VA representative.

Judging from recent letters and telephone calls, he said, many veterans believed that such children had to be at least 18 years of age to qualify for government assistance.

Actually, the age range is from 14 to 31 years, Mr. Weston noted. Some handicapped children may begin a special vocational or restorative course at a younger age.

An otherwise eligible orphan who served in the armed forces for a period preceding his 23d birthday may still take advantage of the benefits within five years after his first release or discharge and prior to his 31st birthday.

Recent changes in law, Mr. Weston observed, make it possible for physically handicapped children to begin at 14.

To be eligible for education benefits under the War Orphan program, Mr. Weston explains, applicants must be children of a veteran who died from disease or injury incurred or aggravated in line of duty in active wartime service, such as the Spanish-American War, World War I, World War II or the Korean War.

Young men and women in school under the War Orphans program will receive up to $110 per month. In some instances of special restorative training, the amount may be increased.

Mr. Weston said that full information on this program and other VA programs and veteran affairs may be obtained at his office, third floor, Post Office Building.

SMALL CAR CLUB

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Owners of automobiles with a wheelbase of 110 inches or less can now join a nationwide organization formed here to look out for the interests of the small-car set.

Richard S. Ross, founder and president of the Small Auto Club, whose headquarters are at 1717 Walnut St., Philadelphia, said the group would exchange information on performance and repairs of small cars, campaign for safe driving and work for legislation that does not discriminate against small-car owners.

Group To Aid Farmers With Price Bargaining

By BERNARD BRENNER
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The American Farm Bureau Federation is quietly completing plans to set up a new organization designed to give farmers a stronger hand in bargaining for the prices of their crops.

The farm group's new marketing and bargaining subsidiary will start out in a small way. It is expected to begin operations next year with a one-man staff concentrating on service to local and area - wide farmer cooperatives which sell fruits and vegetables to processors.

But this relatively small start does not disguise the fact that the nation's biggest farmer organization is stepping into an area of growing importance in the fast-changing farm and food industry.

The Farm Bureau subsidiary, not yet formally named, will be working with farmers who contract for the sale of their crops without going through local or central open markets. In many cases, contracts are signed before the crops involved are even planted.

Contract marketing has been widely used in the past by farmers producing crops for canning, sugar beets and several other commodities. Farm Bureau officials now see signs that the system will spread to other major crops that have, until now, been sold mostly in bulk through open markets.

Farm Bureau spokesmen said that after their new subsidiary gets started on its program of aid to local bargaining groups in the fruit and vegetable field, the next step is likely to be expansion into poultry marketing. After that, they said, may come the same type of activity in marketing hogs, cattle and other livestock.

The main job of the new organization, these officials said, will be to strengthen the hand of local and area farmer bargaining groups by giving them as much information as the buyers have.

The local groups would be fed reports on supply and demand conditions and contract prices for their crop in other areas. The new national group would also analyze proposed contract terms in advance and might give legal and other aid in setting up new farmer bargaining groups.

If producers of any one commodity want to coordinate the work of bargaining groups in scattered growing areas, the new Farm Bureau subsidiary could serve as a clearing house, officials said.

Why the growing interest in direct farmer bargaining with buyers and advance contracting?

"Contracts for production of goods to meet certain specifications have long been used by business and industry to reduce risk," explained Farm Bureau president Charles B. Shuman.

"Farmers need a device to reduce marketing risks and uncertainties. We would like to reduce the number of middlemen who are required to handle, sort and recondition our products. Before starting the costly process of producing a crop, we should know something of the desired quality, quantity and price of the finished product. Contractual marketing may be a step toward these desired results for the producers of many commodities."

Doctor's Combination of Ingredients Stops Stomach Gas Before It Starts

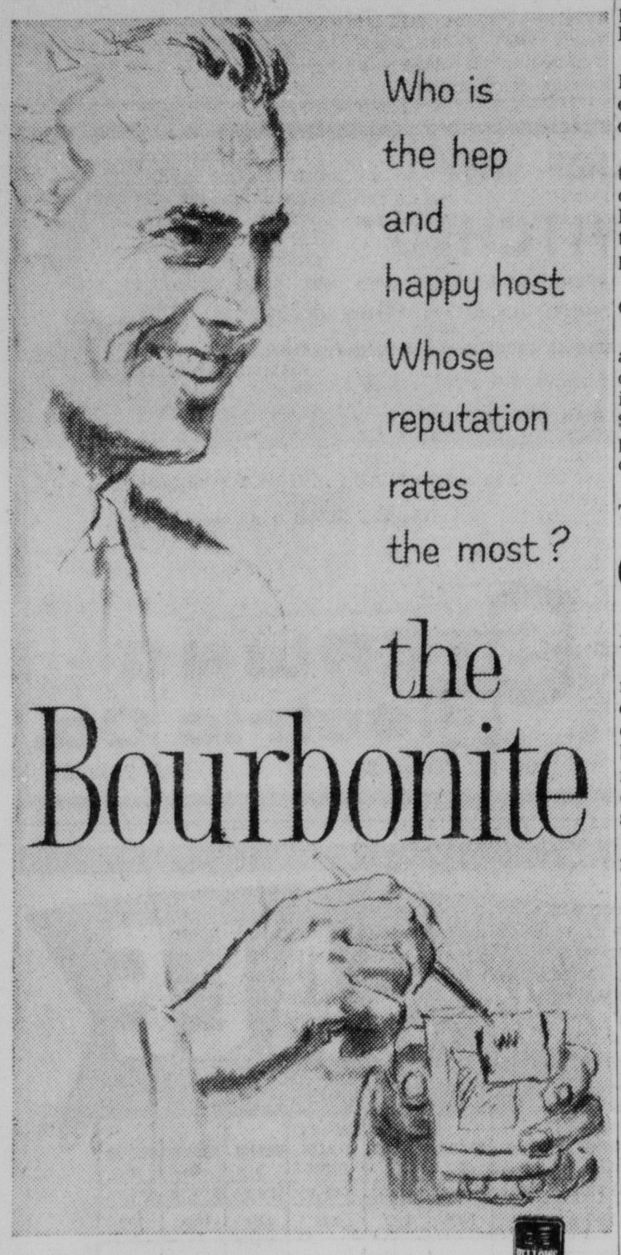

Buffalo, N.Y. (Special)—Thousands of people who suffered for years from gassy stomach, heartburn, belching after meals and other symptoms of acid indigestion now report wonderful relief, thanks to a remarkable formula developed by a prominent doctor and known as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

Containing not just one or two, but a special combination of 7 ingredients, this famous medicine is designed to stop stomach gas before it even starts.

Instead of upsetting the delicate acid-balance of the stomach, as too frequent use of soda and alkalizers often does, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery actually promotes more normal stomach activity.

Taken regularly, it tones up your digestive system and helps you avoid gas pains, heartburn and sour stomach. Once your stomach is working properly, you can eat what you like without fear of distress.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has helped so many people that over 38 million bottles have been sold. Get it at your druggist's today in liquid or tablets. Your money back if not entirely satisfied.

Ohio Youth's Steer Is Grand Champion

TIMONIUM, Md. (AP)—A 950-pound Hereford steer shown by Dennis Hinrichs, 18, of Woodville, Ohio, was judged the grand champion steer at the Eastern National Livestock Show Tuesday.

The reserve grand champion, a Hereford weighing 905 pounds, was exhibited by James Linthicum, 17, of Dayton, Md.

Runners-up were a shorthorn entered by Penn State and an Aberdeen Angus by Lyle Lewter of Lubbock, Tex. They were judged the winners in the open class competition Monday.

Hinrichs and Linthicum are 4-H Club members.

The champions will go on the auction block to the highest bidder Wednesday. Last year a packing house paid a record price of $4.01 a pound for the grand champion. The current market price for cattle is about 29 cents a pound.

The show continues through Thursday.

VA Outlines War Orphan Education Plan

Age has little effect on the War Orphans Schooling program of the Veterans Administration, according to Samuel Weston, local VA representative.

Judging from recent letters and telephone calls, he said, many veterans believed that such children had to be at least 18 years of age to qualify for government assistance.

Actually, the age range is from 14 to 31 years, Mr. Weston noted. Some handicapped children may begin a special vocational or restorative course at a younger age.

An otherwise eligible orphan who served in the armed forces for a period preceding his 23d birthday may still take advantage of the benefits within five years after his first release or discharge and prior to his 31st birthday.

Recent changes in law, Mr. Weston observed, make it possible for physically handicapped children to begin at 14.

To be eligible for education benefits under the War Orphan program, Mr. Weston explains, applicants must be children of a veteran who died from disease or injury incurred or aggravated in line of duty in active wartime service, such as the Spanish-American War, World War I, World War II or the Korean War.

Young men and women in school under the War Orphans program will receive up to $110 per month. In some instances of special restorative training, the amount may be increased.

Mr. Weston said that full information on this program and other VA programs and veteran affairs may be obtained at his office, third floor, Post Office Building.

SMALL CAR CLUB

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Owners of automobiles with a wheelbase of 110 inches or less can now join a nationwide organization formed here to look out for the interests of the small-car set.

A Plan To Cut Auto Fatalities

Columbia University research indicates three of every four fatalities in U. S. automobile traffic would be no worse than injury cases if all cars had shock-absorbing interiors and doors that did not fly open, seats and cushions that stayed put, and safety belts or some other device to keep people in their seats.

With traffic claiming more than 37,000 lives a year, the possibility of reducing the toll to below the 10,000 mark cannot be shrugged off.

The estimate of possible greater survival in auto mishaps comes from Dr. James L. Malfetti of Columbia's Safety Research Institute. Working under special grants, he has concluded the inherent limitations of human beings are responsible for 80 to 95 per cent of all accidents.

As there is little chance of improving upon the human being, the university researcher believes the hope of greater safety in automobile traffic must be attained through compensating improvements in motor vehicles.

Among possibilities he mentions are automatic devices in each vehicle to measure such "tension responses" as the driver's grip on the steering wheel, his heart rate, frequency and magnitude of head movements, breathing cycle characteristics, and hand tremor.

Through readings checked automatically against pre-determined values, the devices he envisions would give warning when drivers are not in condition to be behind a wheel. Dr. Malfetti believes such devices might even be geared to take over operation of a car under certain circumstances, presumably to bring it to a halt.

Such equipment might be prohibitive in cost, if cost can be balanced against human lives. But the padded interiors and other changes that could cut fatalities by 75 per cent should be within reach at reasonable expense.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Where Do They Disappear To

Whereas we are told that the United States now has the largest labor force this country has ever known, and on the other hand, we are told that automation is rapidly reducing that labor force and that 3,200,000 persons are out of work—try to get a nurse.

Where have they disappeared to? Or where have competent typists disappeared to? The evils of inflation are most clearly presented in the absurd picture of untrained young ladies demanding $60 and $70 a week for beginners' pay as office workers—the kind of girls who should pay their bosses for teaching them their jobs. Most such girls are college graduates and assume that four years in a cow college has given them a skill. It does not.

A nurse writes to me:

". . . Would you encourage your daughter or a friend's daughter to spend 12 years in school, another 3 becoming an R.N. and another 2 to get a college degree for the complete disregard given their welfare and ability to live on a moderately decent scale? . . ."

Frankly, no! I am encouraging my daughter to do a job that pays even less—to teach. But what she will actually do, I have no idea. Fathers no longer count in our feminist society.

The problems of inflation hit at all the professions and skills. Besides, the various government-provided securities paid out of taxes have given a status to the worker which is lowering morale because loyalty to a job, to a place, to an organization, to a firm is being replaced by what are quite correctly called fringe benefits. Nursing is a profession, requiring high skill and dedication. A life could depend upon the alertness of a nurse. I, who owe my added days to such skill, know how to value nurses. But how much can hospitals pay them?

My correspondent says:

". . . What benefits, encouragement or pension plans are given to nurses? Just how do you figure a nurse saves to take care of herself when she can no longer serve? The R.N. has been put in the position of 'low man on the totem pole' and 50% of them have climbed off . . ."

Every word of this is true. I know of a nurse who quit a hospital which charged her for a blood test after she had performed an onerous duty which might have imperilled her life. That the administrator of that hospital was stupid is no excuse.

What needs to be done about nurses is for one of the Foundations to undertake an impartial, uninfluenced-by-hospital-administrators study of the present economic condition of nurses and their environmental conditions while on duty at hospitals.

It is true that a doctor must be in absolute control of the situation at all times; on the other hand, he need not be a tough guy. If a nurse cannot take orders, she should be fired but is that not also true of the doctor who does not know how to give orders?

One of the most curious facts of a nurse's life is the very poor food she gets in hospital cafeterias and dining rooms. Surrounded by dieticians and scientists, nurses are usually fed a filling, starchy diet which is, according to the same dieticians, unwholesome.

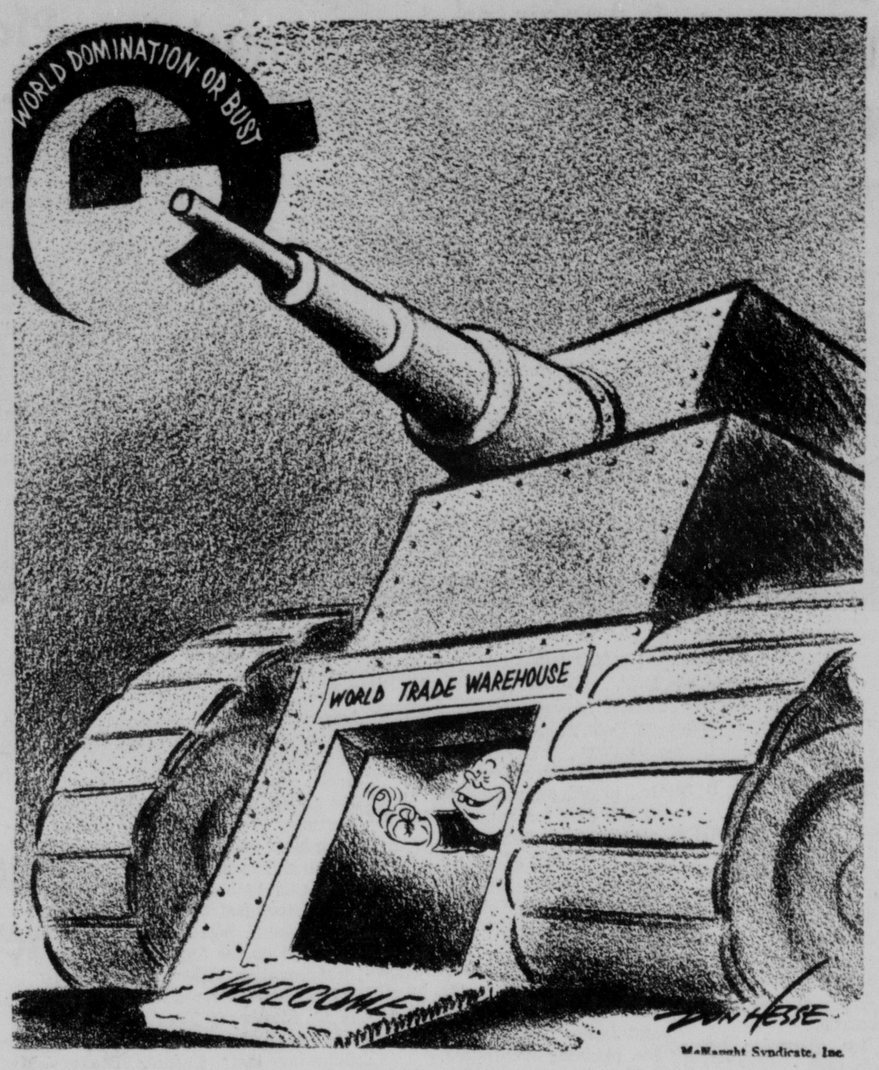

Inflation has made food expensive and it becomes a serious problem in a hospital. The cost of operating hospitals, particularly those supported by charity, could become prohibitive in an inflationary period. And a hospital is precisely the place where skimping and cutting corners ought not to be. Nurses, in particular, need to have the highest morale; they must feel that they are wanted and needed. Nurses must be alert; it is often the sharp eye of a nurse, her "sixth" sense that has saved a life by catching the "accident" in the treatment or in the patient that can cause death.

Such a person must not be dissatisfied. She needs to be chipper and cheerful and hopeful to serve her patient. Too much depends upon her attitude. Hers is a job of applied psychology all day long. It is a nerve-wracking job and she should be decently paid for it.

How to do that in the present state of most hospitals? I think that that requires careful study not from the standpoint of what can be done but what should and must be done.

Where Angels Fear To Tread

Cattle Feeding Additive That Can Cause Cancer Is Still Being Used

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — There has been a hot backstage wire-pulling contest to keep another cancer-causing ingredient from being banned for farm use. One of the biggest industries in the nation, represented by the American Feed Manufacturers Association, has lined up on one side. Against it are the doctors of the National Cancer Institute. In the middle is Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare Arthur Flemming.

At issue is a feeding additive called diethylstilbestrol which is used in the feeding of about 85 per cent of the beef cattle of the nation. Developed by Iowa State University and marketed exclusively by Eli Lilly & Co., it has been found by the National Cancer Institute to produce cancer in mice, rats, rabbits and guinea pigs.

The institute came up with some evidence that stilbestrol, as it's known in the trade, generates a residue in turkeys, chickens and live stock which might induce cancer in people, especially women. Iowa State University has been warned of this fact. The Food and Drug Administration has also sent out warnings to feed producers regarding the effect on animals. But, unlike cranberries, no action has been taken.

The medical profession generally is at sixes and sevens as to whether stilbestrol can induce cancer in humans and some doctors do not agree with the findings of the National Cancer Institute. However, the institute laboratory tests are categorical that stilbestrol does cause cancer in animals, and some of its doctors feel that it is potentially more dangerous than contaminated cranberries.

Delaney Law Is Clear

Stilbestrol contains female hormones similar to those produced by female glands. When fed to steers, turkeys or chickens, it has a neutralizing effect on the male sex, producing more fat in a shorter time. But an overdose of these hormones, already present in women's bodies, could cause cancer of the breast or the uterus, doctors of the Cancer Institute have found. Institute doctors point out that the danger from eating normal amounts of meat is not great, but is cumulative. Thus traces of the drug eaten in meat are likely to stimulate dormant cancer in a woman whose breast has already been removed because of cancer. Or a woman using cosmetics in which carcinogens are present might suffer from stilbestrol in meat.

In any event, whether dangerous or not, an amendment to the last law sponsored by Rep. James Delaney, New York Democrat, is quite clear that any additive, even if producing cancer only in animals, must be banned.

"No additive shall be deemed to be safe," reads the Delaney Amendment, "'if it is found to induce cancer when ingested by man or animal, or if it is found, after tests which are appropriate . . . to induce cancer in man or animal."

However, stilbestrol is still licensed for use by the Food and Drug Administration on the ground that it was used prior to the revision of the Food and Drug Act of September 6, 1958 and that tests since then have not been conclusive.

Lobbying Battle

It's at this point that a lobbying tug-of-war has taken place behind the scenes of the Health, Education, and Welfare Department.

Hired by the cattle feeders to keep stilbestrol on the market is Bradshaw Mintener, who led the Eisenhower write-in campaign in Minnesota, thereby turning the political tide from Taft to Ike in 1952. Mintener is not only close to the White House but served as Assistant Secretary of HEW, the department before which he now lobbies He was once in charge of Food and Drug and is a member of the editorial board of the Food, Drug and Cosmetic Journal. He is also a great friend of Secretary Flemming. The two work closely together in church affairs.

Mintener first presented the views of the fattle-feed manufacturers in a letter to Food and Drug Commissioner George Larrick on June 18. He followed this up with informal visits and phone calls to key figures on Capitol Hill and inside the Health, Education, and Welfare Department, which has jurisdiction over Food and Drug.

Finally on October 16 a delegation of seed manufacturers called upon Secretary Flemming. These included I. S. Riggs of Quaker Oats, chairman of the Feed Manufacturers Association; W. E. Glennon, association president; and J. D. Sykes of Ralston Purina.

Quaker Oats and Ralston Purina are the two biggest distributors of stilbestrol in cattle feed. Quaker Oats executives have been heavy financial backers of Eisenhower, and early in the Administration, Douglas Stuart, its president, was made Ambassador to Canada, while Don Lourie, president, was made Assistant Secretary of State.

The October 16 meeting was inconclusive, and a follow-up conference took place October 27 with Food and Drug Deputy Commissioner John Harvey and Chief Counsel W. W. Goodrich.

Another off-the-record meeting between Secretary Flemming, Riggs and Sykes took place in a Washington hotel. In addition, the feed manufacturers pressured Congressman Delaney to soften his amendment at the next session of Congress. So far he has not yet agreed.

Meanwhile, thanks either to technicalities in the law or intensive lobbying, there has been no action regarding silbestrol. The Food and Drug Administration sent this letter last June to feed processors clearly stating that stilbestrol induced cancer:

"Upon further consideration of available scientific data, we find that it has not been demonstrated that all arsenic compounds or that didenestrol-biacetiate are carcinogenic, and we therefore are writing to correct the record. Diethylstilbestrol, however, has been found to produce cancer when fed." (This has reference to the feeding of animals).

However, there has been no action to ban the feeding of stilbestrol to livestock and poultry.

Reporter Buys A Share In The Morning Star

By Joseph Alsop

MACAO

In a long and misspent life, this reporter has acquired a good deal of information but not much absolute knowledge.

Rather shockingly moreover, a large share of the items I regard as absolute knowledge concern the cheapest places to buy luxuries. For instance, there is that back street of Indian shops in Bangkok where you can get palace emeralds the size of gumdrops for very nearly the price of gumdrops. I might mention others but will not.

This rather personal preface seems to be required because here in Macao, on a journey made to interrogate recent escapees from Communist China, I have just stumbled across the biggest, most luxurious bargain I can remember. It was better, really, than my best yet, the superb early Chinese bronzes I got in the war years in North China for hardly more than twice the cost of their weight in metal.

The first step in giving tips to bargain hunters is to indicate the right address, especially if the place is a bit out of the way. You go, then, down to the part of Macao by the bay, where all the strip of land between the road and the seawall is covered with the sad makeshift huts and the minutely tilled little vegetable patches of the peasants who have run away from Chairman Mao's new paradise on earth.

Note them well, for they have something to do with my bargain. Some of the refugees are even living in the same poor sampans they used for their flight, having dragged the little crafts ashore and roofed them with mats. Almost no refugee family has more than the equivalent of ten or eleven U. S. dollars a month — yet they think themselves immeasurably better off than they were.

Just across the avenue from the thickest conglomeration of refugee hovels, there is the big School of the Morning Star. Ring the gate-bell. The old gardener opens the gate, shoos away a surging, welcoming crowd of clean, plump, wonderfully gay little girls, and shows you to the school's immaculate, bare reception room. Here, after a brief pause, appears the Reverend Mother Maria Tolmira of the Order of Franciscan Missionaries of Mary.

Mother Tolmira is very tall, very slender, dressed in spotless white robes, with beautiful work-worn hands and a face of such ascetic beauty that you ask yourself at once who should paint her. (Jan van Eyck might be up to the job, you decide later on.) With gentle graciousness, the Reverend Mother arranges to find the newcomers in the squatter colony; she knows them all. Then, to make conversation, you ask about her own work.

Mother Tolmira is Polish, it appears, and she was driven to Mocao after a quarter century of missionary labor in China. She thinks now that this sudden exile was "almost a sign of God's grace," because she has found so much to do in Macao. Many of the refugees have children. Many of the children are hungry. All need education. And all the girl children of all the refugees in Macao are Mother Tolmira's special task and province.

"Years ago we began our school in bamboo huts," she says gravely. "What else could we do? They needed us. Then Doctor Lobo (the chief Macao millionaire) said he would build a real school and asked me to draw up the plans. He did not really expect me to plan anything quite so big, I'm afraid" — here what can only be called a glint of cheerfully predatory humor is briefly visible in the Reverend Mother's clear grey eye — "but he approved in the end, so here we are, with seven hundred and eighty girls in the school and not nearly room enough for all we ought to have."

The poorest children, the Reverend Mother explains, get free food and education. About six hundred whose parents have the best jobs by Macao standards, pay the magnificent sum of thirty-five American cents a month for their schooling and a big daily meal of bread and rice and milk.

"It is not much but it is a lot of money for us, and every month fifty or sixty cannot pay," says Mother Tolmira. "Then God has to provide. He always does, somehow."

There, in effect, was my bargain. Who could resist the chance to educate a child and keep it fed and healthy too for a total outlay of $7.20 per annum? I bought three dozen chances on the spot.

The Reverend Mother's thanks were sweet, indeed. But there was a certain something in the way she looked, at the check, and a certain something too in the way she began to talk about how she wanted to build an orphanage for two hundred homeless refugee children for a mere $7,000 — yet to be located. "Get it built," she added placidly, "and then God will provide the orphans' keep as well." This certain something that Mother Tolmira commands is downright mesmeric. As earlier, less worthwhile bargains had been heavily depleting, I hastily promised to make my purchase of a share in the work of the "Scuola Stella Matutina" into an annual affair. On the way home, I told the story to my friend the Spanish Jesuit, Father Ruiz. Father Ruiz laughed so hard he all but fell off his motorscooter. "Joseph," he said, not perhaps very flatteringly, "for her poor children Mother Maria Tolmira could get money out of the devil himself."

MISSILE FIGHT—Reorganization and realignment of the government's missile and space agencies, which already has resulted in the resignation of Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris as head of the Army Ordnance Missile Command at Huntsville, Ala., has not ended the feuding. Further upheavals are expected, although they probably won't be as spectacular as the events that preceded Medaris' departure.

The basic fight behind the headlines is deceptively simple. It is a matter of money. None of the missile agencies are getting the appropriations they think they need. Each is trying to get more at the expense of the other. As long as the White House and Budget Bureau place ceilings on spending for missile and space projects the basic conditions will continue to exist.

No one in Washington really believes that reshuffling of the agencies will contribute significantly to the United States catching up to Russia in her successful moon probes with their excellent guidance systems and extremely powerful rocket engines.

But most informed persons believe the shuffle has quieted the rival services down for a while, and hope that some progress will be achieved before the next blow-up.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

We are in the age of the breast-beaters. It is the time of the public confession. Television personalities have sinned. The producers insist that they sinned first. Some insist that they sinned the most, but will not tell us about it until all the cameras and lights are in place. Movie stars sell their sins at $4.95 per autobiography.

The sins are hackneyed. Mr. Charles Van Doren, a bright man, earned a lot of money by answering questions in public after some private coaching. It is pretty cheap of NBC to fire this man from the Dave Garroway show because of an earlier mistake. He wasn't on the Garroway show to answer questions. His acting was innocent and lousy.

To my way of thinking, the National Broadcasting Company was trying to purge itself publicly, exactly as Van Doren did in Washington. NBC was saying, in effect, "May we, who are without stain, be permitted to cast the first stone?" They hit Van Doren right in the forehead with a dismissal notice.

The confession kick started, I think, with Lillian Roth's "I'll Cry Tomorrow." Miss Roth, who is still a good singer, resurrected her whole career by telling the world that she was a three-fisted drinker. The reading public read it, smacked its lips over the juicy passages, and begged for more.

Since then, everyone has been so busy confessing that a real sinner cannot be heard in the bedlam. We have ladies who say, in print, that they are illegitimate children, that they lived with handsome scoundrels who were good at pining and weeping, if nothing else. A sportscaster tells us he was a drug addict, a poor actress with a great name suffers from an overdose of heels.

If everybody will please keep quiet for a moment, I have a few confessions of my own. Come to think of it, I have lots of them. Let us concentrate on the more publishable ones.

A few weeks ago I had dinner in the Stork Club with Janet Kern of the Chicago American and, well — no check. The only reason I mention it is that Miss Kern is one of those women who might, if given a chance, confess first. Then there was the time, in 1934, when Captain Eddie Rickenbacker flew me to Florida — no ticket.

To write a column about Joe E. Lewis, the Happy Hooligan of comics, I went to the Copacabana and ate like mad — no money. Jack Paar plugs my books on his program and I take $320 pay from him every time he does it. There was a girl in Phoenix — nothing. Book publishers send their non-fiction works to me free in hopes that I will give them a little plugeroo in the column.

I get little gifts from loaded readers who hope that I will not mention their names. Not long ago, I took a beautiful movie star to dinner and got my money back by holding her hand from shrimp to sherbet. It would have done your heart good to see her cut that steak one-handed.

Madame Chiang Kai-shek has graciously invited me to be her guest in Formosa, but should I? That's a lot of carfare. The State of Israel has extended a similar invitation, but I'm not going to do it unless I can come back with something to confess.

There is no end to it. A week or two ago, a lisping female impersonator was on the Paul Coates show and — limp wrist and all — he confessed that he has a wife. This shook me so badly that I shut the set off and went back to reading Leonard Sillman's "Straightened Out At Last," which is a confusing confession of frustration.

Some years ago, when I was broke — I cracked my children's piggy banks and took the money and never returned it. Is this interesting? Then there was the time I put the raw clams in my mother-in-law's bed. Or the time I told my father I was playing hooky when I was really at school. Now there was a base lie.

It it's confessions you want, I could go on and on. . .

Tranquilizers Can Only Postpone Problems

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

There are more than 100 brands of tranquilizers each with a different trade name. I don't know how a physician can possibly know the names of all these drugs, let alone the best choice to induce emotional calm.

This is the age of anxiety and there is no doubt that these mood changers have been helpful in making the lives of many people more pleasant. But escape from frustrations is only a partial solution to our pursuit of happiness. Alcohol and opiates have been resorted to as escape mechanisms for centuries, without the slightest benefit to mankind.

Modern tranquilizers are used to control the numerous symptoms brought on by anxiety. These manifestations range from neurotic tension to insanity. Best results are obtained when tension is severe enough to produce headache, backache, irritability, fatigue, restlessness, undue nervousness, difficulty in concentration, and insomnia. The products are useful also in warding off nervous breakdowns and in making the psychotic patient more cooperative and amenable to treatment.

On the other hand, there are millions who rely on tranquilizers instead of self-control. They want peace of mind without the discipline.

As a general rule, anxiety stems from two equal and opposing ideas or feelings. Each demands expression that cannot be dissolved by drugs. This is why our modern tranquilizers do not cure; they hold the conflict in abeyance to fend for himself.

The use of these drugs may be contrary to sound thinking but their popularity is proof that a need exists for such products. Tranquilizers should not be taken unless a definite emotional illness is present, because the ensuing serenity threatens our sense of responsibility and the ability to fight back.

ACHING ON ACTIVITY

Mrs. J. writes: What would cause an achy sensation in the chest and arms when making beds and washing windows? I don't become short of breath nor does my pulse rise at these times.

REPLY

There are many possible origins of this type of disease and a thorough examination would be needed to uncover the cause. Pain may be referred from the back, for example, or from pressure on nerves or blood vessels in the neck. It could come from the heart, even though you are not short of breath.

HAMMER TOE

S. L. B. writes: Can anything be done about a hammer toe that has developed in a 72-year-old woman?

REPLY

Pads and longer shoes may help but operation is needed for permanent results. The advisability of surgery on a 72-year-old person depends upon her physical condition, particularly the circulation in the feet.

STONY EYES

H. W. writes: Are cold, glassy, expressionless eyes due to a physical condition or to the personality?

REPLY

Both may play a role. The professional gambler, for example, has cold eyes and a poker face. Victims of Parkinson's disease develop a typical staring, immobile facial expression.

PERNICIOUS ANEMIA

M. S. writes: What are the symptoms of pernicious anemia?

REPLY

Weakness, sore tongue, numbness, and tingling of the extremities are the commonest. Loss of appetite and diarrhea may develop. Pallor and flabbiness occur in time. Lack of coordination and paralysis of the lower extremities may ensue unless vitamin B12 or liver is employed.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

A Plan To Cut Auto Fatalities

Columbia University research indicates three of every four fatalities in U. S. automobile traffic would be no worse than injury cases if all cars had shock-absorbing interiors and doors that did not fly open, seats and cushions that stayed put, and safety belts or some other device to keep people in their seats.

With traffic claiming more than 37,000 lives a year, the possibility of reducing the toll to below the 10,000 mark cannot be shrugged off.

The estimate of possible greater survival in auto mishaps comes from Dr. James L. Malfetti of Columbia's Safety Research Institute. Working under special grants, he has concluded the inherent limitations of human beings are responsible for 80 to 95 per cent of all accidents.

As there is little chance of improving upon the human being, the university researcher believes the hope of greater safety in automobile traffic must be attained through compensating improvements in motor vehicles.

Among possibilities he mentions are automatic devices in each vehicle to measure such "tension responses" as the driver's grip on the steering wheel, his heart rate, frequency and magnitude of head movements, breathing cycle characteristics, and hand tremor.

Through readings checked automatically against pre-determined values, the devices he envisions would give warning when drivers are not in condition to be behind a wheel. Dr. Malfetti believes such devices might even be geared to take over operation of a car under certain circumstances, presumably to bring it to a halt.

Such equipment might be prohibitive in cost, if cost can be balanced against human lives. But the padded interiors and other changes that could cut fatalities by 75 per cent should be within reach at reasonable expense.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Where Do They Disappear To

Whereas we are told that the United States now has the largest labor force this country has ever known, and on the other hand, we are told that automation is rapidly reducing that labor force and that 3,200,000 persons are out of work—try to get a nurse.

Where have they disappeared to? Or where have competent typists disappeared to? The evils of inflation are most clearly presented in the absurd picture of untrained young ladies demanding $60 and $70 a week for beginners' pay as office workers—the kind of girls who should pay their bosses for teaching them their jobs. Most such girls are college graduates and assume that four years in a cow college has given them a skill. It does not.

A nurse writes to me:

". . . Would you encourage your daughter or a friend's daughter to spend 12 years in school, another 3 becoming an R.N. and another 2 to get a college degree for the complete disregard given their welfare and ability to live on a moderately decent scale? . . ."

Frankly, no! I am encouraging my daughter to do a job that pays even less—to teach. But what she will actually do, I have no idea. Fathers no longer count in our feminist society.

The problems of inflation hit at all the professions and skills. Besides, the various government-provided securities paid out of taxes have given a status to the worker which is lowering morale because loyalty to a job, to a place, to an organization, to a firm is being replaced by what are quite correctly called fringe benefits. Nursing is a profession, requiring high skill and dedication. A life could depend upon the alertness of a nurse. I, who owe my added days to such skill, know how to value nurses. But how much can hospitals pay them?

My correspondent says:

". . . What benefits, encouragement or pension plans are given to nurses? Just how do you figure a nurse saves to take care of herself when she can no longer serve? The R.N. has been put in the position of 'low man on the totem pole' and 50% of them have climbed off . . ."

Every word of this is true. I know of a nurse who quit a hospital which charged her for a blood test after she had performed an onerous duty which might have imperilled her life. That the administrator of that hospital was stupid is no excuse.

What needs to be done about nurses is for one of the Foundations to undertake an impartial, uninfluenced-by-hospital-administrators study of the present economic condition of nurses and their environmental conditions while on duty at hospitals.

It is true that a doctor must be in absolute control of the situation at all times; on the other hand, he need not be a tough guy. If a nurse cannot take orders, she should be fired but is that not also true of the doctor who does not know how to give orders?

One of the most curious facts of a nurse's life is the very poor food she gets in hospital cafeterias and dining rooms. Surrounded by dieticians and scientists, nurses are usually fed a filling, starchy diet which is, according to the same dieticians, unwholesome.

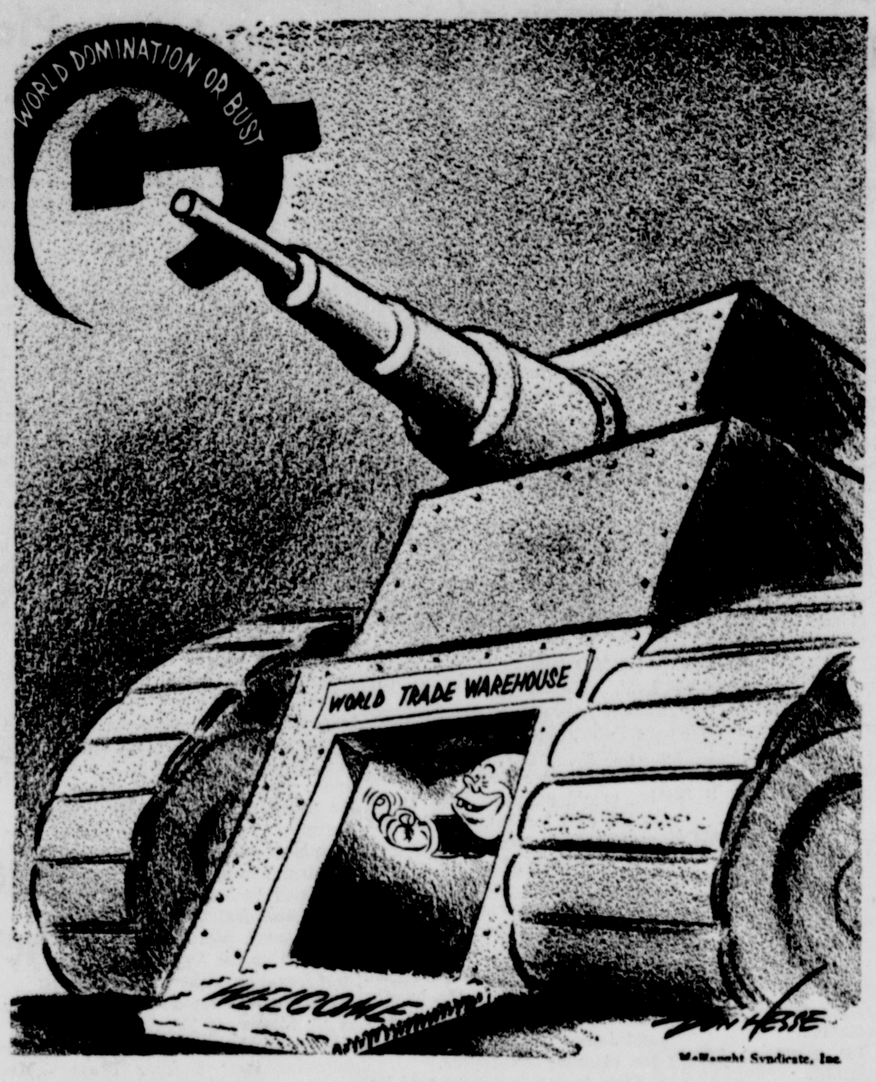

Inflation has made food expensive and it becomes a serious problem in a hospital. The cost of operating hospitals, particularly those supported by charity, could become prohibitive in an inflationary period. And a hospital is precisely the place where skimping and cutting corners ought not to be. Nurses, in particular, need to have the highest morale; they must feel that they are wanted and needed. Nurses must be alert; it is often the sharp eye of a nurse, her "sixth" sense that has saved a life by catching the "accident" in the treatment or in the patient that can cause death.

Such a person must not be dissatisfied. She needs to be chipper and cheerful and hopeful to serve her patient. Too much depends upon her attitude. Hers is a job of applied psychology all day long. It is a nerve-wracking job and she should be decently paid for it.

How to do that in the present state of most hospitals? I think that that requires careful study not from the standpoint of what can be done but what should and must be done.

Where Angels Fear To Tread

Reporter Buys A Share In The Morning Star

By Joseph Alsop

MACAO

In a long and misspent life, this reporter has acquired a good deal of information but not much absolute knowledge.

Rather shockingly moreover, a large share of the items I regard as absolute knowledge concern the cheapest places to buy luxuries. For instance, there is that back street of Indian shops in Bangkok where you can get palace emeralds the size of gumdrops for very nearly the price of gumdrops. I might mention others but will not.

This rather personal preface seems to be required because here in Macao, on a journey made to interrogate recent escapees from Communist China, I have just stumbled across the biggest, most luxurious bargain I can remember. It was better, really, than my best yet, the superb early Chinese bronzes I got in the war years in North China for hardly more than twice the cost of their weight in metal.

The first step in giving tips to bargain hunters is to indicate the right address, especially if the place is a bit out of the way. You go, then, down to the part of Macao by the bay, where all the strip of land between the road and the seawall is covered with the sad makeshift huts and the minutely tilled little vegetable patches of the peasants who have run away from Chairman Mao's new paradise on earth.

Note them well, for they have something to do with my bargain. Some of the refugees are even living in the same poor sampans they used for their flight, having dragged the little crafts ashore and roofed them with mats. Almost no refugee family has more than the equivalent of ten or eleven U. S. dollars a month — yet they think themselves immeasurably better off than they were.

Just across the avenue from the thickest conglomeration of refugee hovels, there is the big School of the Morning Star. Ring the gate-bell. The old gardener opens the gate, shoos away a surging, welcoming crowd of clean, plump, wonderfully gay little girls, and shows you to the school's immaculate, bare reception room. Here, after a brief pause, appears the Reverend Mother Maria Tolmira of the Order of Franciscan Missionaries of Mary.

Mother Tolmira is very tall, very slender, dressed in spotless white robes, with beautiful work-worn hands and a face of such ascetic beauty that you ask yourself at once who should paint her. (Jan van Eyck might be up to the job, you decide later on.) With gentle graciousness, the Reverend Mother arranges to find the newcomers in the squatter colony; she knows them all. Then, to make conversation, you ask about her own work.

Cattle Feeding Additive That Can Cause Cancer Is Still Being Used

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — There has been a hot backstage wire-pulling contest to keep another cancer-causing ingredient from being banned for farm use. One of the biggest industries in the nation, represented by the American Feed Manufacturers Association, has lined up on one side. Against it are the doctors of the National Cancer Institute. In the middle is Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare Arthur Flemming.

At issue is a feeding additive called diethylstilbestrol which is used in the feeding of about 85 per cent of the beef cattle of the nation. Developed by Iowa State University and marketed exclusively by Eli Lilly & Co., it has been found by the National Cancer Institute to produce cancer in mice, rats, rabbits and guinea pigs.

The institute came up with some evidence that stilbestrol, as it's known in the trade, generates a residue in turkeys, chickens and live stock which might induce cancer in people, especially women. Iowa State University has been warned of this fact. The Food and Drug Administration has also sent out warnings to feed producers regarding the effect on animals. But, unlike cranberries, no action has been taken.

The medical profession generally is at sixes and sevens as to whether stilbestrol can induce cancer in humans and some doctors do not agree with the findings of the National Cancer Institute. However, the institute laboratory tests are categorical that stilbestrol does cause cancer in animals, and some of its doctors feel that it is potentially more dangerous than contaminated cranberries.

Delaney Law Is Clear

Stilbestrol contains female hormones similar to those produced by female glands. When fed to steers, turkeys or chickens, it has a neutralizing effect on the male sex, producing more fat in a shorter time. But an overdose of these hormones, already present in women's bodies, could cause cancer of the breast or the uterus, doctors of the Cancer Institute have found. Institute doctors point out that the danger from eating normal amounts of meat is not great, but is cumulative. Thus traces of the drug eaten in meat are likely to stimulate dormant cancer in a woman whose breast has already been removed because of cancer. Or a woman using cosmetics in which carcinogens are present might suffer from stilbestrol in meat.

In any event, whether dangerous or not, an amendment to the last law sponsored by Rep. James Delaney, New York Democrat, is quite clear that any additive, even if producing cancer only in animals, must be banned.

"No additive shall be deemed to be safe," reads the Delaney Amendment, "'if it is found to induce cancer when ingested by man or animal, or if it is found, after tests which are appropriate . . . to induce cancer in man or animal."

However, stilbestrol is still licensed for use by the Food and Drug Administration on the ground that it was used prior to the revision of the Food and Drug Act of September 6, 1958 and that tests since then have not been conclusive.

Lobbying Battle

It's at this point that a lobbying tug-of-war has taken place behind the scenes of the Health, Education, and Welfare Department.

Hired by the cattle feeders to keep stilbestrol on the market is Bradshaw Mintener, who led the Eisenhower write-in campaign in Minnesota, thereby turning the political tide from Taft to Ike in 1952. Mintener is not only close to the White House but served as Assistant Secretary of HEW, the department before which he now lobbies. He was once in charge of Food and Drug and is a member of the editorial board of the Food, Drug and Cosmetic Journal. He is also a great friend of Secretary Flemming. The two work closely together in church affairs.

Mintener first presented the views of the fattle-feed manufacturers in a letter to Food and Drug Commissioner George Larrick on June 18. He followed this up with informal visits and phone calls to key figures on Capitol Hill and inside the Health, Education, and Welfare Department, which has jurisdiction over Food and Drug.

Finally on October 16 a delegation of seed manufacturers called upon Secretary Flemming. These included I. S. Riggs of Quaker Oats, chairman of the Feed Manufacturers Association; W. E. Glennon, association president; and J. D. Sykes of Ralston Purina.

Quaker Oats and Ralston Purina are the two biggest distributors of stilbestrol in cattle feed. Quaker Oats executives have been heavy financial backers of Eisenhower, and early in the Administration, Douglas Stuart, its president, was made Ambassador to Canada, while Don Lourie, president, was made Assistant Secretary of State.

The October 16 meeting was inconclusive, and a follow-up conference took place October 27 with Food and Drug Deputy Commissioner John Harvey and Chief Counsel W. W. Goodrich.

Another off-the-record meeting between Secretary Flemming, Riggs and Sykes took place in a Washington hotel. In addition, the feed manufacturers pressured Congressman Delaney to soften his amendment at the next session of Congress. So far he has not yet agreed.

Meanwhile, thanks either to technicalities in the law or intensive lobbying, there has been no action regarding silbestrol. The Food and Drug Administration sent this letter last June to feed processors clearly stating that stilbestrol induced cancer:

"Upon further consideration of available scientific data, we find that it has not been demonstrated that all arsenic compounds or that didenestrol-biacetiate are carcinogenic, and we therefore are writing to correct the record. Diethylstilbestrol, however, has been found to produce cancer when fed." (This has reference to the feeding of animals).

However, there has been no action to ban the feeding of stilbestrol to livestock and poultry.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

We are in the age of the breast-beaters. It is the time of the public confession. Television personalities have sinned. The producers insist that they sinned first. Some insist that they sinned the most, but will not tell us about it until all the cameras and lights are in place. Movie stars sell their sins at $4.95 per autobiography.

The sins are hackneyed. Mr. Charles Van Doren, a bright man, earned a lot of money by answering questions in public after some private coaching. It is pretty cheap of NBC to fire this man from the Dave Garroway show because of an earlier mistake. He wasn't on the Garroway show to answer questions. His acting was innocent and lousy.

To my way of thinking, the National Broadcasting Company was trying to purge itself publicly, exactly as Van Doren did in Washington. NBC was saying, in effect, "May we, who are without stain, be permitted to cast the first stone?" They hit Van Doren right in the forehead with a dismissal notice.

The confession kick started, I think, with Lillian Roth's "I'll Cry Tomorrow." Miss Roth, who is still a good singer, resurrected her whole career by telling the world that she was a three-fisted drinker. The reading public read it, smacked its lips over the juicy passages, and begged for more.

Since then, everyone has been so busy confessing that a real sinner cannot be heard in the bedlam. We have ladies who say, in print, that they are illegitimate children, that they lived with handsome scoundrels who were good at pining and weeping, if nothing else. A sportscaster tells us he was a drug addict, a poor actress with a great name suffers from an overdose of heels.

If everybody will please keep quiet for a moment, I have a few confessions of my own. Come to think of it, I have lots of them. Let us concentrate on the more publishable ones.

A few weeks ago I had dinner in the Stork Club with Janet Kern of the Chicago American and, well — no check. The only reason I mention it is that Miss Kern is one of those women who might, if given a chance, confess first. Then there was the time, in 1934, when Captain Eddie Rickenbacker flew me to Florida — no ticket.

To write a column about Joe E. Lewis, the Happy Hooligan of comics, I went to the Copacabana and ate like mad — no money. Jack Paar plugs my books on his program and I take $320 pay from him every time he does it. There was a girl in Phoenix — nothing. Book publishers send their non-fiction works to me free in hopes that I will give them a little plugeroo in the column.

I get little gifts from loaded readers who hope that I will not mention their names. Not long ago, I took a beautiful movie star to dinner and got my money back by holding her hand from shrimp to sherbet. It would have done your heart good to see her cut that steak one-handed.

Madame Chiang Kai-shek has graciously invited me to be her guest in Formosa, but should I? That's a lot of carfare. The State of Israel has extended a similar invitation, but I'm not going to do it unless I can come back with something to confess.

There is no end to it. A week or two ago, a lisping female impersonator was on the Paul Coates show and — limp wrist and all — he confessed that he has a wife. This shook me so badly that I shut the set off and went back to reading Leonard Sillman's "Straightened Out At Last," which is a confusing confession of frustration.

Some years ago, when I was broke — I cracked my children's piggy banks and took the money and never returned it. Is this interesting? Then there was the time I put the raw clams in my mother-in-law's bed. Or the time I told my father I was playing hooky when I was really at school. Now there was a base lie.

It it's confessions you want, I could go on and on. . .

Food prices probably will be lower next year than this, Washington's Agriculture Marketing service reports. Now, that's the kind of news item that sets our teeth on edge—in a pleasant way!

The AMS also predicts that the average American will consume three pounds more meat in 1960 than in 1959. Steak or hamburger?

A Soviet scientist come forth with the statement that the two moons of Mars probably are just hollow, artificial satellites and not real moons. Wonder if Congress will feel called upon to investigate THAT!

Whole Town Making Fight For Loveable 3-Year-Old Girl's Future Happiness

EDITOR'S NOTE — Here's a heartwarming story about the fight a whole town is making for a loveable little 3-year-old. They want her future to be more certain than her parentage, and happier than her birth.

PARSONS, W. Va. (AP) — It's remembrance for Rosemary here in the autumn-tinted hills of Tucker County.

Rosemary is a winsome little blonde, 3 years old, who has captured the hearts of her foster parents and Parsons' other 2,000 inhabitants as well.

Not long ago, the Parsons Ministerial Assn. proclaimed "Prayer Sunday for Rosemary."

And then Mayor C. G. Shaffer issued a formal proclamation for a "Rosemary Day" in Parsons. That was on the day that Forest Isner and his wife went to Charleston to plead for the governor's intervention in their custody fight.

Mayor Shaffer called upon all citizens to halt work for one hour and pray for success of the Isner mission.

The present dilemma has been building for months. The Isners are a church-going couple in Parsons, the Tucker County seat just a few miles from the Maryland state line.

Isner, 47, works at the local leather factory. Mrs. Isner is 48. They have three daughters. Only the 13-year-old daughter is at home; the other two, ages 23 and 25, are married and have homes of their own.

Rosemary joined the Isner household as a ward of the State just seven days after she was born out of wedlock on Oct. 13, 1956. The arrangement was under a foster home contract with the State Department of Public Assistance (DPA). Rosemary was to stay with the Isners until the DPA could find a permanent home for her.

There was one vexing interference after another. First, Rosemary needed a minor operation. Then a couple who arranged to adopt Rosemary backed out at the last minute because they wanted a boy.

When a satisfactory permanent adoptive home finally was found, the Isners had grown too fond of Rosemary and refused to give her up.

When the DPA was insistent, the Isners went to court and Circuit Judge Ernest A. See threw out the foster home contract on a technicality and said the Isners could keep their ward.

The DPA appealed to the State Supreme Court and Judge See was reversed. Judge See commented:

"I feel that this decision is the darkest day that has ever happened in West Virginia so far as child welfare is concerned."

Delegations to Charleston were formed. The DPA still stood firm. It said the placement contract contained a specific clause that forbade the Isners from adopting Rosemary. Also, they were too old to care for a child so young, the DPA said.

The Isners by now had filed a formal application to adopt Rosemary, maintaining that they were no longer even foster parents under the Supreme Court decree. They asked the governor to intervene.

So, while the home folks prayed and Rosemary stayed behind, Mr. and Mrs. Isner went to Charleston to keep an appointment finally granted by Gov. Cecil H. Underwood.

The Isners and Underwood conferred for two hours. The governor also talked with five officials of the DPA. They said all the publicity would be no good for little Rosemary, because the whole countryside would know of her illegitimate background.

Thereupon, Isner said he would be willing to get another job and move where nobody knew them, if they could only keep Rosemary.

The Rev. Rankin Roach, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Parsons, who accompanied the Isners on their visit to the governor, says: "When a man doesn't say no, faith gives you hope."

Mrs. Isner says she harbors "no hard feelings" toward the DPA. "Our love for the child is the only thing."

And what about the governor He says his decision will be based "entirely on what I think is best for the child, and nothing else."

Lack Of Cars Delays Normal Coal Output

FAIRMONT, W. Va. (UPI) — Many northern West Virginia coal mines are being delayed in the return to normal production by a lack of railroad cars, it was revealed Tuesday.

The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, due to heavy demand by steel companies for the cars to be used in hauling iron ore from lakeports to the mills, has been unable to keep pace in furnishing mines with the extra cars.

The B&O was able to furnish but 1,100 cars last week although coal mine orders totaled 2,500. The shortage was particularly noticeable in the Gauley region in the lower end of the so-called northern coal field.

However, in the southern part of the state the situation is reversed. The Chesapeake & Ohio, the Norfolk & Western and the Virginian railroads say they have no car shortage.

However, these three railroads haul little ore and even with a sharp increase in demand for hoppers last week they still had no shortage.

Railway Recalls Furloughed Men

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (UPI)— The Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Co. announced the recall Tuesday of 133 men laid off since early last month at its locomotive and car maintenance shop here.

A spokesman said 65 of the men would report for work Wednesday. The other 68 go to work Dec. 1, raising employment in that department back to 301 men.

The railroad laid off 1,535 men during the steel strike. They are being recalled gradually. Some 200 were called back Oct. 26 at the Russell, Ky., shops and another 125 early this month at various points in the C&O system.

Safe Stolen

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va. (UPI) —An experienced glass cutter apparently participated in the theft early Tuesday of a 900-pound safe from a dairy store here. Authorities said entrance to the building was gained by cutting a hole in the glass of a side door. The safe contained some $350.

GSA Renews Effort To Sell Ordnance Plant

Contract Awarded New Jersey Firm

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)— Major chemical companies and steel manufacturers are being urged to take another look at the Morgantown ordnance works which the General Services Administration has been trying to sell since last year.

This new selling effort described in the current issue of Chemical Week magazine is largely the work of the Harry A. Taylor Co., East Orange, N. J.

GSA awarded the Taylor firm a one-year contract as exclusive agent after the government failed to attract bidders for the works originally costing $64,000,000.

According to the publication, Taylor is making wide use of detailed plant study done for GSA by the firm of Singmaster and Breyer.

—A friendly political climate at the federal and local levels.

—A surplus of labor in the Morgantown area at a cost of 20 to 25 per cent less than in the South Charleston area.

—The availability of low cost fuel and power.

—Room for expansion around the 800 acre site.

The S & B report noted the plant could put out either ammonia or methanol or both. However, since Morgantown is ringed by several other ammonia plants, the logical step would be to turn to maximum methanol production, S&B said.

S&B also brought out the fact that most methanol producers are in the southwest, offering the Morgantown plant a wide market in the northeast.

At full production, the plant could turn out 18,700,000 gallons of methanol a year, S&B said. Two million gallons of that production could be converted to 11,000,000 pounds of 100 per cent formaldehyde.

If a prospective buyer wants to use the plant's ammonia producing facilities to make nitrogen compounds, it would cost about $22,000,000 plus the price of the plant, S&B said. However, the buyer would have a completely integrated plant at about half the cost of building a new one of the same capacity.

The coke plant, available as a package apart from the chemical plant, could produce 400,000,000 of coke a year for an interested steel maker, S&B said.

Plead Guilty To Violations

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)— Operators of five establishments in Hancock and Marshall Counties entered guilty pleas Tuesday to various charges of violating West Virginia beer laws.

The pleas came at the opening of four days of hearings by the State Beer Commission for some 20 places in the Northern Panhandle, all accused of liquor or gambling violations.

The commission said no penalties would be announced until the hearings are completed.

Entering guilty pleas to liquor charges were Joy Land Bar, Newell; 500 Bar and Clover Club, both of Chester, and Ovies Recreation, Moundsville. Sandalwood Bar at McMechen, Marshall County, pleaded guilty to a gaming charge. Liquor charges were dismissed against the latter.

Loans Up

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI)—Business loans by major banks in the 5th Federal Reserve District, including most of West Virginia, increased by $789,000 last week to a total of $739,178,000, a report said Tuesday.

Episcopal Canon To Preach At Oakland Church

OAKLAND—St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, Oakland, will have as guest preacher Sunday, Rev. Walter G. Hards, Canon of the Cathedral Church of the Incarnation, Baltimore.

Canon Hards will celebrate Holy Communion at 8 a. m., and will conduct morning prayer and preach at 11 a. m. As of December 1, Canon Hards will become Rector of St. David's Church, Baltimore.

While Canon Hards is in Oakland the rector of St. Matthew's, Rev. W. Shelby Walthall, will be preaching at the morning service in the Baltimore Cathedral. In the afternoon and evening he will lead a College Conference sponsored by the Canterbury Club of the Cathedral. Mr. Walthall's special subject will be "Christianity and Race."

The Oakland clergyman has been working with the U. S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare on a program of adult education. He has offered his "Plan of Action" to the department as well as to many prominent persons throughout the country. The purpose of the proposals is to help raise the economic, cultural and social levels of the adult population in order to speed up the Supreme Court's desegregation order of 1954.

The Young People's Fellowship of St. Matthew's have planned a bowling party on Sunday night following their Evening Prayer service at the parish house. They plan to meet at the parish house at 7 o'clock.

FAIRMONT, W. Va. (UPI) — Many northern West Virginia coal mines are being delayed in the return to normal production by a lack of railroad cars, it was revealed Tuesday.

The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, due to heavy demand by steel companies for the cars to be used in hauling iron ore from lakeports to the mills, has been unable to keep pace in furnishing mines with the extra cars.

The B&O was able to furnish but 1,100 cars last week although coal mine orders totaled 2,500. The shortage was particularly noticeable in the Gauley region in the lower end of the so-called northern coal field.

However, in the southern part of the state the situation is reversed. The Chesapeake & Ohio, the Norfolk & Western and the Virginian railroads say they have no car shortage.

However, these three railroads haul little ore and even with a sharp increase in demand for hoppers last week they still had no shortage.

Railway Recalls Furloughed Men

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (UPI)— The Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Co. announced the recall Tuesday of 133 men laid off since early last month at its locomotive and car maintenance shop here.

A spokesman said 65 of the men would report for work Wednesday. The other 68 go to work Dec. 1, raising employment in that department back to 301 men.

The railroad laid off 1,535 men during the steel strike. They are being recalled gradually. Some 200 were called back Oct. 26 at the Russell, Ky., shops and another 125 early this month at various points in the C&O system.

Safe Stolen

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va. (UPI) —An experienced glass cutter apparently participated in the theft early Tuesday of a 900-pound safe from a dairy store here. Authorities said entrance to the building was gained by cutting a hole in the glass of a side door. The safe contained some $350.

GSA Renews Effort To Sell Ordnance Plant

Contract Awarded New Jersey Firm

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)— Major chemical companies and steel manufacturers are being urged to take another look at the Morgantown ordnance works which the General Services Administration has been trying to sell since last year.

This new selling effort described in the current issue of Chemical Week magazine is largely the work of the Harry A. Taylor Co., East Orange, N. J.

GSA awarded the Taylor firm a one-year contract as exclusive agent after the government failed to attract bidders for the works originally costing $64,000,000.

According to the publication, Taylor is making wide use of detailed plant study done for GSA by the firm of Singmaster and Breyer.

Among the plan's attractive features outlined in the S & B report:

—A friendly political climate at the federal and local levels.

—A surplus of labor in the Morgantown area at a cost of 20 to 25 per cent less than in the South Charleston area.

—The availability of low cost fuel and power.

—Room for expansion around the 800 acre site.

The S & B report noted the plant could put out either ammonia or methanol or both. However, since Morgantown is ringed by several other ammonia plants, the logical step would be to turn to maximum methanol production, S&B said.

At full production, the plant could turn out 18,700,000 gallons of methanol a year, S&B said. Two million gallons of that production could be converted to 11,000,000 pounds of 100 per cent formaldehyde.

If a prospective buyer wants to use the plant's ammonia producing facilities to make nitrogen compounds, it would cost about $22,000,000 plus the price of the plant, S&B said. However, the buyer would have a completely integrated plant at about half the cost of building a new one of the same capacity.

The coke plant, available as a package apart from the chemical plant, could produce 400,000,000 of coke a year for an interested steel maker, S&B said.

Plead Guilty To Violations

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)— Operators of five establishments in Hancock and Marshall Counties entered guilty pleas Tuesday to various charges of violating West Virginia beer laws.

The pleas came at the opening of four days of hearings by the State Beer Commission for some 20 places in the Northern Panhandle, all accused of liquor or gambling violations.

The commission said no penalties would be announced until the hearings are completed.

Entering guilty pleas to liquor charges were Joy Land Bar, Newell; 500 Bar and Clover Club, both of Chester, and Ovies Recreation, Moundsville. Sandalwood Bar at McMechen, Marshall County, pleaded guilty to a gaming charge. Liquor charges were dismissed against the latter.

Loans Up

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI)—Business loans by major banks in the 5th Federal Reserve District, including most of West Virginia, increased by $789,000 last week to a total of $739,178,000, a report said Tuesday.

Episcopal Canon To Preach At Oakland Church

OAKLAND—St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, Oakland, will have as guest preacher Sunday, Rev. Walter G. Hards, Canon of the Cathedral Church of the Incarnation, Baltimore.

Canon Hards will celebrate Holy Communion at 8 a. m., and will conduct morning prayer and preach at 11 a. m. As of December 1, Canon Hards will become Rector of St. David's Church, Baltimore.

While Canon Hards is in Oakland the rector of St. Matthew's, Rev. W. Shelby Walthall, will be preaching at the morning service in the Baltimore Cathedral. In the afternoon and evening he will lead a College Conference sponsored by the Canterbury Club of the Cathedral. Mr. Walthall's special subject will be "Christianity and Race."

The Oakland clergyman has been working with the U. S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare on a program of adult education. He has offered his "Plan of Action" to the department as well as to many prominent persons throughout the country. The purpose of the proposals is to help raise the economic, cultural and social levels of the adult population in order to speed up the Supreme Court's desegregation order of 1954.

The Young People's Fellowship of St. Matthew's have planned a bowling party on Sunday night following their Evening Prayer service at the parish house. They plan to meet at the parish house at 7 o'clock.

Junior Class At Paw Paw To Give Play

Margaret Kline To Direct Endeavor

PAW PAW, W. Va. — The Junior Class of Paw Paw High School will present the play "You're Only Young Once," on November 20 at 7:30 p. m. in the high school auditorium. The play is being directed by Mrs. Margaret Kline.

In this play are many school people. Among these are the principal, the coach, the English teacher, the football star, the honor student, the "ladies man," the president of the P.T.A., and many others. The setting is the principal's office on the morning of the big game and the senior hop. Things begin to happen and every line becomes a chuckle as the teen-age problems of students seem to mount.

The characters are Joseph Milburn—A high school boy; Ronald Bohrer—the high school football star; Mayo Eaton — football coach; Eugene Hare — all brawn and no brains; Thomas Malcolm —the football star's rival and in love with football; Wallace Abe —a boy who wants to popular; Sandra Woods — Wallace's mother; Judy Oyerly — a glamor girl; Leona Kesecker — the popularity queen; Caryol Chambers — a shy but attractive girl; Roberta Peters — a budding journalist; Rosalea Whitacre — a busy body namored by the football star; Nettie Kidwell — the lady principal; Lloyd Leach — the male vice principal; Rosalea Judy — the principal's secretary; Nylene Stotler — the English teacher; Marguerite Richardson — the girls' advisor; Darrell Hogbin — the mathematics teacher; Saundra Eaton — president of the P.T.A.; Wallace Peters — a motion picture equipment salesman. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Beall Juniors Win Best Play Plaque

Deaths And Funerals

Father Of Local Woman Fatally Hurt

Loy D. Stutler, 61-year-old employe at the Anmoore (W. Va.) plant of the National Carbon Company, died Wednesday of injuries suffered in a fall while working earlier in the day.

He was the father of Mrs. Aneca Bowen, of Cumberland. Company spokesmen said Stutler was loading a plant furnace when he slipped from the brick structure and fell about eight feet to the concrete floor. Stutler apparently suffered a fractured skull in the mishap and died in an Anmoore hospital some eight hours later.

A resident of Anmoore, near Clarksburg, Stutler was a veteran employe of the National Carbon Company, having spent nearly 18 years as a furnace loader. The firm is making an investigation into the causes of the accident.

Plant records show the injury was the first lost-time accident in 97 days for the approximately 700 employes at Anmoore. Prior to that, the plant had worked 668 days without a lost-time accident.

Stutler was a native of Doddridge county, W. Va., and a son of the late Stephen and Alice (Davisson) Stutler.

W. C. NOYES

W. C. (Doc) Noyes, 52, a son of Mrs. Martha Noyes, this city, died Monday in a Charleston, W. Va., hospital a few hours after suffering a heart attack.

Mr. Noyes was a well-known Kanawha County (W.Va.) educator and resided at Dunbar.

He was principal of Dunbar Junior High School, and well-known in southern West Virginia as an official in scholastic athletic contests. He was a graduate of Marshall College.

Mr. Noyes is also survived by a sister, Mrs. M. T. Powers, of 649 Washington Street.

Premium Rates For Employers At Maximum

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The State Department of Employment Security confirmed Tuesday that premium rates for all insured employers during the last quarter of this year will be at the maximum 2.7 per cent.

The 1958 Unemployment Compensation Amendment provided that all insured employers be charged the maximum rate the quarter after the level of the Unemployment Compensation Fund dropped below $40,000,000.

On Sept. 30, the end of the third quarter, the balance was reported at $38,289,640.

The West Virginia Chamber of Commerce reported last Saturday that insured employers would be paying the maximum report during this quarter and all of next year.

"Under the amendment, reduced rates cannot again be made effective until the fund is above $45,000,000 on Jan. 1 of a calendar year," Employment Security Director F. Duane Hill said.

"It is the unofficial opinion of this department that the fund cannot be above $45,000,000 on Jan. 1, 1960. If this is correct, all employers' rates will be at the maximum of 2.7 per cent throughout all of 1960."

Hill noted that during the first 10 months of this year, employers contributed some $16,600,000 to the fund, about $3,000,000 more than the record $13,800,000 paid in all of 1948.

He also noted that during 1958, the department paid out some $40,000,000 while collecting only about $11,000,000. This compared with about $24,000,000 paid out from January through October of this year.

The department's weekly report showed a 1.1 per cent increase to 3,070 in the number of new claims filed last week for jobless benefits. Of this total, 410 came from workers furloughed as a result of the steel strike.

The total number of claims handled last week was 17,292, an increase of nearly 1 per cent over the week before. Claimants received $412,984 when the fund balance was reported at $35,188,145.

Temperatures Near Zero In West Virginia

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—A frigid air mass, which moved into West Virginia early Tuesday, sent residents scurrying for the fireside.

Temperatures neared the zero mark Tuesday night. Weather observers said the readings probably would set a record for so early in the year.

Sunny and cold weather was predicted for Wednesday, with temperatures ranging from 30-35 degrees.

The cold air, from Canada via the Midwest, followed a rainy Monday. Some snow flurries were reported in the Mountain State Tuesday.

The frigid air halted rain and cleared away heavy fog that blanketed other areas, virtually halting airline service in several places Monday.

Temperatures late Tuesday were in the 20s and the weather bureau said they probably would go in to the teens before Wednesday.

Appeal Lost In Ouster

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—A group of Logan County residents Tuesday lost an appeal to the State Supreme Court in their attempt to oust three members of the Logan County Board of Education.

The high court upheld the action of Logan County Circuit Judge C. C. Chambers who dismissed proceedings against the trio, Joe D. Blair, Thomas Davis and Earl Justice.

The petitioners sought the ouster on grounds the three men acted illegally in doing business with a water company in which Blair had an interest.

The high court said Blair did not, "within the meaning of the statute, exercise any voice, influence or control in entering into any contract with the board" since it had no choice but to buy water from his company which serve schools in the Man area.

There is no other water source in the area and the Supreme Court noted that "it is mandatory for water companies to furnish the services and for the board to pay for same."

The opinion also said the other two board members could not be removed under the statute for formally voting for acceptance of the water contracts.

Junior Class At Paw Paw To Give Play

Margaret Kline To Direct Endeavor

PAW PAW, W. Va. — The Junior Class of Paw Paw High School will present the play "You're Only Young Once," on November 20 at 7:30 p. m. in the high school auditorium. The play is being directed by Mrs. Margaret Kline.

In this play are many school people. Among these are the principal, the coach, the English teacher, the football star, the honor student, the "ladies man," the president of the P.T.A., and many others. The setting is the principal's office on the morning of the big game and the senior hop. Things begin to happen and every line becomes a chuckle as the teen-age problems of students seem to mount.

The characters are Joseph Milburn—A high school boy; Ronald Bohrer—the high school football star; Mayo Eaton — football coach; Eugene Hare — all brawn and no brains; Thomas Malcolm —the football star's rival and in love with football; Wallace Abe —a boy who wants to popular; Sandra Woods — Wallace's mother; Judy Oyerly — a glamor girl; Leona Kesecker — the popularity queen; Caryol Chambers — a shy but attractive girl; Roberta Peters — a budding journalist; Rosalea Whitacre — a busy body namored by the football star; Nettie Kidwell — the lady principal; Lloyd Leach — the male vice principal; Rosalea Judy — the principal's secretary; Nylene Stotler — the English teacher; Marguerite Richardson — the girls' advisor; Darrell Hogbin — the mathematics teacher; Saundra Eaton — president of the P.T.A.; Wallace Peters — a motion picture equipment salesman. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Deaths And Funerals

Father Of Local Woman Fatally Hurt

Loy D. Stutler, 61-year-old employe at the Anmoore (W. Va.) plant of the National Carbon Company, died Wednesday of injuries suffered in a fall while working earlier in the day.

He was the father of Mrs. Aneca Bowen, of Cumberland. Company spokesmen said Stutler was loading a plant furnace when he slipped from the brick structure and fell about eight feet to the concrete floor. Stutler apparently suffered a fractured skull in the mishap and died in an Anmoore hospital some eight hours later.

A resident of Anmoore, near Clarksburg, Stutler was a veteran employe of the National Carbon Company, having spent nearly 18 years as a furnace loader. The firm is making an investigation into the causes of the accident.

Plant records show the injury was the first lost-time accident in 97 days for the approximately 700 employes at Anmoore. Prior to that, the plant had worked 668 days without a lost-time accident.

Stutler was a native of Doddridge county, W. Va., and a son of the late Stephen and Alice (Davisson) Stutler.

W. C. NOYES

W. C. (Doc) Noyes, 52, a son of Mrs. Martha Noyes, this city, died Monday in a Charleston, W. Va., hospital a few hours after suffering a heart attack.

Mr. Noyes was a well-known Kanawha County (W.Va.) educator and resided at Dunbar.

He was principal of Dunbar Junior High School, and well-known in southern West Virginia as an official in scholastic athletic contests. He was a graduate of Marshall College.

Mr. Noyes is also survived by a sister, Mrs. M. T. Powers, of 649 Washington Street.

FRED C. ELLIOTT

SPRINGS, Pa.—Fred C. Elliott, formerly of Springs, died Saturday in a hospital in Orlando, Fla.

Mr. Elliott was born in Somerset County, and is survived by his widow, Mary L. (Rodamer) Elliott, also formerly of here.

The body will arrive at the Newman Funeral Home, Grantsville, today and services will be conducted there tomorrow at 2 p. m. by Rev. Walter Otto. Burial will be in Springs Cemetery.

MRS. CHARLES HELMAN

PURGITSVILLE, W. Va.—Mrs. Susan Helman, 75, wife of Charles N. Helman, died Monday at her home near here.

Born near Purgittsville, she was a daughter of the late Isaac and Harriett J. (High) Leatherman.

Surviving, besides her husband, are four daughters, Mrs. Aldith L. Rimker and Mrs. Clyde Haggerty, both of here, and Mrs. Charles Crites and Mrs. George Hedrick, both of Moorefield; two sons, Hayward, of here, and Charles Helman, Albuquerque, N. M.; two sisters, Mrs. James Helman and Mrs. Clarence Shoemaker, both of here; a brother, N. E. Leatherman, Morgantown; 10 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Services will be conducted tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. at White Pine Church by Rev. Lowell Rogers and Rev. Owen Preston. Burial will be in Helman Cemetery.

The body is at the residence.

MRS. C. L. BURCH

BAKER, W. Va.—Mrs. Sudie E. Burch, 67, wife of C. L. Burch, of here, died Monday at University of Virginia Hospital in Charlottesville, Va.

A daughter of the late John W. and Victoria (Hulver) Miller, she was born at Baker.

Services will be conducted today at 2 p. m. at Baker Evangelical United Brethren Church by Rev. B. F. Spitzer and Rev. Robert Nair. Burial will be in Baker Cemetery.

The body is at the residence and will be taken to the church at 1 p. m.

MRS. ROBERT SWISHER

PARSONS, W. Va. — Mrs. Georgia H. Swisher, 54, wife of Robert H. Swisher, of here, died yesterday in an Elkins nursing home where she had been a patient five weeks. She had been in ill health several years.

A native of Randolph County, she was a daughter of the late William and Celia (Allender) Shoemaker. She was a member of St. John's Methodist Church.

Surviving, besides her husband, are four sons, Robert H. Jr., Hyattsville, Md.; Airman 1/c Richard, with the Air Force in Alaska; Pvt. David, stationed with the Army at Fort Jackson, S. C.; five daughters, Mrs. Joseph Moore, Baltimore; Mrs. Katie Simon, Beverly; Mrs. Harriett Rosier, Parsons; Miss Betsy Swisher, St. Mary's, and Miss Nina Swisher, at home; a brother, Richard Shoemaker, Daytona Beach, Fla., and nine grandchildren.

The body will be at the Greenlief Funeral Home after 7 p. m. today. Services will be conducted Friday at 2 p. m. by Rev. Joseph Stump, pastor of St. John's Church. Burial will be in Parsons Cemetery.

HAYRIDE ON THE WATER

PLEASURE BOUND. Hay-filled barge loaded with couples proceeds downriver. Chaperones, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Diehl, stand in center. Barge was powered by single 70 horsepower outboard motor.

Remember the old-fashioned hayride when Grandfather loaded the hayrick with hay, hitched up the family team and trotted them off down the country road with his cargo of laughing young couples?

Those days are gone, but the hayride in other forms is still with us. Father, likely or not, will use a truck to to transport the youngsters.

Down in Florida, the hayride has been given a new twist —a hayride on water.

It all started when a pretty young miss, Pat McLauchlin of Silver Springs decided to throw a party. She wanted something different —not the formal party or a rock and roll session. Living near the water, she got the loan of a flat barge, piled it high with hay and invited her friends for a cruise down the Silver River. Two chaperones went along. The ride ended with a hamburger feast on dry land. Everyone agreed the ride was great fun. It's pictured here.

Boys gang up on Zona Gore in attempt to throw her overboard. Stunt failed when she grabbed radio. Boys are Bruce Mozert, Don Meyers and Bob Hugli.

Keyser Is Made One-Point Choice Over Charles Town

Bill Barrett Picks Tornado To Win, 21-20

Friday Game May Determine Team In AA Title Playoff

By BILL BARRETT

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (UPI)—Only five games are scheduled this weekend for West Virginia college and high school football teams as the Prediction Train heads for its last stop.

There still is another weekend to go, but that could become a victim of weather if winter sets in soon. The lone tussle left after this week is the Class AA high school playoff.

The conductor rolled up a 38-9 record last week for an .808 average. He has had 476 correct calls against 101 misses for an .824 percentage.

This week's activity finds West Virginia closing its season at Morgantown against The Citadel, Marshall at the University of Buffalo and Bluefield State at Wilberforce, Ohio, to face Central State.

Class AAA Title Game

In the high school ranks, Parkersburg and Bluefield play at Charleston for the Class AAA championship. And Keyser entertains Charles Town in a match of unbeaten Class AA teams.

Now, for the final run of the season.

Thriller Is Expected

Keyser 21, Charles Town 20—A thriller all the way.

Touch Grid Loop Playoffs To Open Sunday At 3 P.M.

State Farm (7-0) will do battle with the Old Exports (5-2) at 3 p. m., and the Mapleside Bandits (6-1) will oppose the Park Punks (4-3) at 4 p. m., in the semi-finals of the playoffs in the Adult Touch Football League Sunday at Penn Avenue Field, it was announced last night by Gene Mason, director of the City Recreation Department.

Roy Manges is coach of State Farm, Fred Meeks heads the Old Exports, Jack White leads Mapleside and John Price has charge of the Park Punks.

Winners of Sunday games will tangle in the playoff finals Sunday, November 29, at 2 p. m., at Penn Avenue Field.

Chuvalo Stops Yvon Durelle

Canadian Champ Winner In 12th

TORONTO (UPI) — George Chuvalo defended his Canadian heavyweight championship Tuesday night by knocking out former Canadian and British Empire light heavyweight champ Yvon Durelle at 1:01 of the 12th and final round at Maple Leaf Gardens.

Win 19 Of 21

The Pittsburgh Pirates were almost a sure-thing in extra inning games in 1959. The club played 21 over-time contests, winning 19 and losing only two (one being Harvey Haddix's "Perfect 12" game in Milwaukee). These totals constitute the most extra inning games played in a season and the most over-time wins by any club since the National League began to keep such statistics in 1951.

When University of Florida basketball coach John Mauer taught at Miami of Ohio one of his pupils was Walt Alston, Los Angeles Dodger manager.

Callorette Stakes Is Pimlico Feature

PIMLICO, Md., (UPI)—Wheatley Stable's High Bid will go after her third straight stakes triumph Wednesday in the $20,000 added Callorette at Pimlico.

High Bid, who won the Vineland and Jersey Belle her last times out, shares high weight of 120 pounds with A Glitter and Guide Line in the mile and one-eighth event for fillies and mares.

A Glitter finished third to High Bid in the Vineland.

High Bid has won seven of 20 starts this year, including the Alabama at Saratoga last August. She will be ridden by Jockey Hank Moreno against 10 probable starters.

The rest of the field consists of Miss Crestes, Lopar, Sword Woman, Polamby, Movitave, Equifun, Milady Dares and Geechee Lou.

Hunting is Merciful

By FRANK KUCHIRCHUK

"I THINK anyone who shoots a deer is heartless," said the girl in the office. "They're so pretty!" This is the kind of comment one hears often, especially now that the deer season is here.

Yet records show the more we shoot deer, the more we have next year because nature kills them if men don't, and faster.

There are so many deer now, that by winter's end only the large, by standing on their hind legs, are able to reach leaves for food, so many starve to death — a cruel way to die. Those that do survive reproduce unhealthy young that are first to die the following winter.

The Michigan Conservation department, which took these photos, is solving this vexing problem by allowing the shooting of does, extending the season, offering more and more education, and by constant surveillance of the herd. Nevertheless, close to 50,000 starved to death last winter, in spite of 90,000 killed by hunters.

Top: Officer finds a starved deer. Lower: Dogs kill many.

A FEW DAYS before Thanksgiving the major league clubs will have a chance to do their Christmas shopping for next year a bit early.

For, starting on November 21, and continuing until December 15, the major league clubs may trade between leagues without any waivers asked from all the other clubs in their own league.

It's something new, of course, and it appears the Christmas shopping by those that have and those that want will be about as brisk as the weather should be at that time.

The Indians might peddle Rocky Colavito to the Los Angeles Dodges for pitcher Don Drysdale.

It would all be legal, and neither team would have to get waivers on their stars to acquire the inter-league change.

We're not saying, of course, that such will be the case although Mickey himself was quoted out of his Dallas bowling emporium as saying that he wouldn't be surprised if he was traded.

• • •

THE WHOLE thing seems like a good deal. There have been some strange inter-league trades in the past and the two-league waiver rule was adopted as a protection.

In Chicago, where the Cubs and the White Sox maintain their friendly rivalry, a ban has been put on Windy City trading by Phil Wrigley, owner of the Cubs, and he first took this stand several years ago when the White Sox signed several Cubs over a two-year period.

Frank (Trader) Lane of the Indians should be having himself a field day when this inter-league trading period opens. Not that his 1959 Indians need so much of a face-lifting, but Frankie is going to be sure his 1960 club wins it all.

Actually, while the Yankees generally don't give up much when they trade, the Bombers certainly are in need of help for the 1960 campaign. And the White Sox, even if they are champs, are a pretty sorry-looking lot for a major league pennant winner. They need help, too.

• • •

THE INTER-LEAGUE trading period also brings up again the plan, advocated by Hank Greenberg sometime ago, of having inter-league games as part of the regular schedule. Not a half-and-half proposition, however, but maybe one round where an American league club plays a National league club and so on down the line.

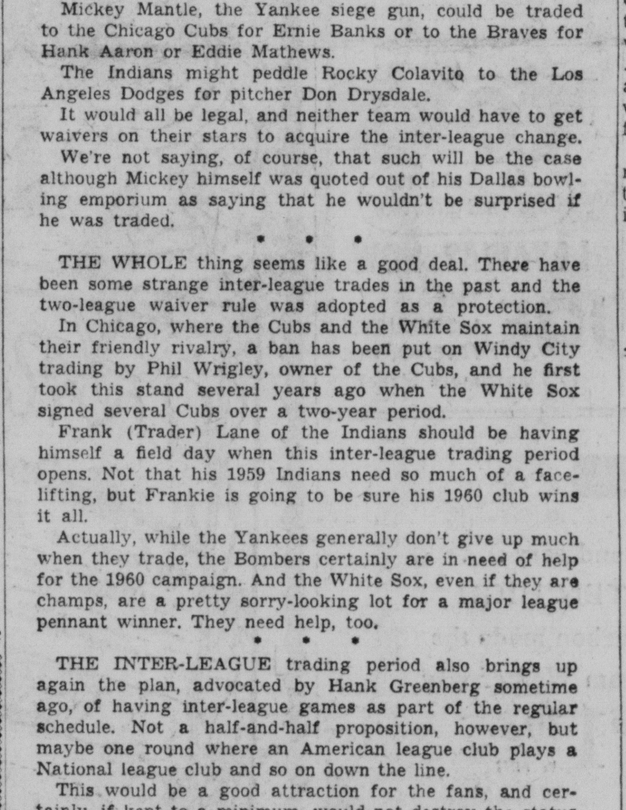

This would be a good attraction for the fans, and certainly, if kept to a minimum, would not destroy the status of each league.

• • •

WHAT WILL happen when we get the third major league is anybody's guess, but you can be sure some changes in baseball's schedules and rules will be made.

Bill McCovey Is Named N.L. Rookie Of Year

Hit Hearty .356 For San Francisco

BOSTON (UPI) — First baseman Willie McCovey of the San Francisco Giants Tuesday was unanimously voted 1959 National League rookie of the year by the Baseball Writers Association of America.

The 21-year-old Negro who hit a hearty .354 after joining the Giants for the latter part of the season became the second San Francisco first sacker to win the freshman honors in as many years.

Orlando Cepeda, the 1958 winner, was supplanted at first base by McCovey who joined the team last July 30. Cepeda was moved to the outfield.

McCovey, a strapping left-hander born in Mobile, Ala., in 52 games with the Giants racked up 68 hits in 191 trips, belted 13 home runs, five triples and nine doubles and knocked in 38 runs to spark the Giants' nearly successful pennant drive.

He was called up from the Giants' Phoenix farm club of the AAA Pacific Coast League which he was leading with a .373 average and jumped off to a sensational major league debut with four hits in four trips his first day.

Thereafter, McCovey set a torrid pace and ran a hitting streak to 22 games, one of the longest in the major leagues last season.

'Twas 14 Years Ago Won Last "Big One"

Bowers' Final Game Area Cage Records

By C. V. BURNS

FOOTBALL memories as Thanksgiving Day approaches:

It was just 14 years ago that Allegany High School scored its last victory over Fort Hill on Turkey Day and do you remember the score of that game?

It was 13-12.

The winning point was Stan Bishop's conversion from placement after Allegany's first touchdown in the opening period. And Ed Strock ran 55 yards for the six-pointer.

And do you know that Allegany won that one in spite of the fact it's backfield star — Noyes Thompson "Tommy" Powers — was carried off the field with a broken leg early in the battle and his replacement, "Dutch" Peterson, played a bangup game for the Campers.

Fort Hill scored a touchdown in the second period after blocking an Allegany punt. Two plays later, "Dick" White scampered over from the five.

In the third quarter Allegany drove 70 yards for its final score with Jimmy Radcliffe smashing over from the two.

A poor kick out-of-bounds on the Campers' 45 set up the Sentinels' final touchdown. Eleven plays later Johnny Brown plunged over from two yards out.

Lindbergh Cook was Allegany's defensive star.

Fort Hill and Allegany met twice that season and the opener was a 13-13 stalemate. Both teams went into the holiday battle undefeated with 7-0-1 records.

Do you remember who the coaches were?

Youngsters playing in next week's game don't because they were only little tots at that time.

That 1945 game (Nov. 22) marked the end of Walter L. Bowers' career as a football coach. Ten years later he gave up the basketball reins at the Campobello school after 29 years' service. Mel Henry, now at North Hagerstown High School, was Fort Hill's mentor and it was the third straight year that his team lost the holiday classic.

Wonder how many of the players who participated in that game you can remember? Well, here they are:

Pos.	Allegany	Fort Hill
LE	G. Brant	Siebert
LT	Auvil	Treiber
LG	Cook	Groves
C	E. Brant	McBride
RG	Robertson	O'Neal
RT	Yoder	Scott
RE	Bartlett	Ziler
QB	Price	Shaffer
LH	J. Radcliffe	Sensabaugh
RH	Strock	Brown
FB	Powers	White

Substitutes: Allegany — Smith, Bishop, Peterson, Tabor, Myers. Fort Hill—Turner, Lapp, Partleton, J. Manges, Freeland.

Officials for the game were Dr. Richard Goldberg and Les Weigal, of Johnstown, Pa., and Bruce M. Fisher, who coached Bedford High School's undefeated team (10-0) that year.

Yes,it all happened 14 years ago. Since then Fort Hill has won 11 times and two other games ended in ties.

Thirteen years is a long time to go without a victory.

WITH the scholastic basketball season approaching here's a list of records that have been established in the tri-state area, some of which may tumble during the next four months:

Most Points In W.M.I. League Season—Robert Kirk, Barton, 235 in 10 games, 1953. Highest average 23.5 points.

Highest Score In W.M.I. League Game — Barton 132, Midland 10, January 11, 1927.

Highest Score In P.V.C. Game — Fort Ashby 130, Capon Bridge 52, in 1957-58.

Highest Point Total In Area For Regular Season — Bill Maphis, Romney, 652 in 21 games, 1958-59.

Highest Average For One Season — Bill Maphis, Romney, 31.0 points per game for 21 games.

Most Points Scored In Season By P.V.C. Player — Bill Maphis, Romney, 509 in 17 games, 1958-59 season.

Highest Average For P.V.C. Player — Bill Maphis, Romney, 29.9 in 1958-59 season.

Most Points Scored In P.V.C. Game — Carl Hartman, Ridgeley, 62, in 1951.

Most Points By Cumberland Player — Tommy Smith, Carver, 495 in 21 games, 1955. Also highest average of 23.5.

Most Field Goals In P.V.C. Game — Carl Hartman, Ridgeley, 29, in 1951.

Highest Score Credited To Allegany County Girls Team — Central of Lonaconing, 162, Ursuline Academy, 3, in 1924.

Most Points Scored By Girl Player In One Game — Marie Boyd, Central High, Lonaconing, 156, in 1924.

Longest Winning Streak By Area Girls Team — 65 games by Central High, Lonaconing, ending in 1924. Modern record of 53 by Fort Hill girls, ended in 1958-59 season.

Longest Win Streak By Boys Team In W.M.I. League — 44 games by Allegany, 1944 to 1948. Have we missed any?

Alonzo Johnson To Fight Folley

Phoenix Heavy Go Set For Tonight

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) —Zora Folley, second-ranking contender for Ingemar Johansson's world heavyweight title, risks his standing against promising newcomer Alonzo Johnson Wednesday night in the main event of a charity ball.

The fight will be staged in a ring constructed over a swimming pool in the patio of the Caravan Inn East Hotel, and is the only contest on the card preceding a formal $25 a person dinner-dance.

Max Baer, the former world champion and a man who knows his way around cafe society, will refereee. The bout will be telecast nationally (by ABC).

Selection Draws Protest

Selection of Bear to referee the bout drew a formal protest from Johnson's handlers, who claimed Max had been a guest in the home of Folley's manager, Bill Swift, grandson of the meat-packing millionaire.

Johnson's co - manager, Mike Bazzone, said he had "no hope of getting a fair shake. We have to knock out Folley to win—if it goes the distance, we're dead."

"If the fight is close, I say Baer will vote for Folley," he said.

All the howling did no good with the state athletic commission, which cleared Baer as the referee. In addition, there will be two judges. Arizona uses the 10 points - must system of scoring fights.

Cystic Fibrosis Benefits

The cystic fibrosis charity will benefit from the bout, which at the $25 price is expected to draw only about 1,000 persons. To entice the ladies, a mink stole is being given away.

McCovey, a strapping left-hander born in Mobile, Ala., in 52 games with the Giants racked up 68 hits in 191 trips, belted 13 home runs, five triples and nine doubles and knocked in 38 runs to spark the Giants' nearly successful pennant drive.

He was called up from the Giants' Phoenix farm club of the AAA Pacific Coast League which he was leading with a .373 average and jumped off to a sensational major league debut with four hits in four trips his first day.

Thereafter, McCovey set a torrid pace and ran a hitting streak to 22 games, one of the longest in the major leagues last season.

'Twas 14 Years Ago Won Last "Big One"

Bowers' Final Game Area Cage Records

By C. V. BURNS

FOOTBALL memories as Thanksgiving Day approaches:

It was just 14 years ago that Allegany High School scored its last victory over Fort Hill on Turkey Day and do you remember the score of that game?

It was 13-12.

The winning point was Stan Bishop's conversion from placement after Allegany's first touchdown in the opening period. And Ed Strock ran 55 yards for the six-pointer.

And do you know that Allegany won that one in spite of the fact it's backfield star — Noyes Thompson "Tommy" Powers — was carried off the field with a broken leg early in the battle and his replacement, "Dutch" Peterson, played a bangup game for the Campers.

Fort Hill scored a touchdown in the second period after blocking an Allegany punt. Two plays later, "Dick" White scampered over from the five.

In the third quarter Allegany drove 70 yards for its final score with Jimmy Radcliffe smashing over from the two.

A poor kick out-of-bounds on the Campers' 45 set up the Sentinels' final touchdown. Eleven plays later Johnny Brown plunged over from two yards out.

Fort Hill's conversion specialist, a drop-kicker, missed both tries for the extra points and that was it.

Lindbergh Cook was Allegany's defensive star.

Fort Hill and Allegany met twice that season and the opener was a 13-13 stalemate. Both teams went into the holiday battle undefeated with 7-0-1 records.

Do you remember who the coaches were?

Youngsters playing in next week's game don't because they were only little tots at that time.

That 1945 game (Nov. 22) marked the end of Walter L. Bowers' career as a football coach. Ten years later he gave up the basketball reins at the Campobello school after 29 years' service. Mel Henry, now at North Hagerstown High School, was Fort Hill's mentor and it was the third straight year that his team lost the holiday classic.

Wonder how many of the players who participated in that game you can remember? Well, here they are:

Pos.	Allegany	Fort Hill
LE	G. Brant	Siebert
LT	Auvil	Treiber
LG	Cook	Groves
C	E. Brant	McBride
RG	Robertson	O'Neal
RT	Yoder	Scott
RE	Bartlett	Ziler
QB	Price	Shaffer
LH	J. Radcliffe	Sensabaugh
RH	Strock	Brown
FB	Powers	White

Substitutes: Allegany — Smith, Bishop, Peterson, Tabor, Myers, Fort Hill—Turner, Lapp, Partleton, J. Manges, Freeland.

Officials for the game were Dr. Richard Goldberg and Les Weigal, of Johnstown, Pa., and Bruce M. Fisher, who coached Bedford High School's undefeated team (10-0) that year.

Yes, it all happened 14 years ago. Since then Fort Hill has won 11 times and two other games ended in ties.

Thirteen years is a long time to go without a victory.

WITH the scholastic basketball season approaching here's a list of records that have been established in the tri-state area, some of which may tumble during the next four months:

Most Points In W.M.I. League Season—Robert Kirk, Barton, 235 in 10 games, 1953. Highest average 23.5 points.

Most Points In W.M.I. League Game—John J. Long, Allegany, 52, at Greene Street gym in 1924.

Highest Point Total In Area For Regular Season — Bill Maphis, Romney, 652 in 21 games, 1958-59.

Most Points Scored In Season By P.V.C. Player — Bill Maphis, Romney, 509 in 17 games, 1958-59 season.

Highest Average For P.V.C. Player — Bill Maphis, Romney, 29.9 in 1958-59 season.

Most Points Scored In P.V.C. Game — Carl Hartman, Ridgeley, 62, in 1951.

Most Points By Cumberland Player — Tommy Smith, Carver, 495 in 21 games, 1955. Also highest average of 23.5.

Most Field Goals In P.V.C. Game — Carl Hartman, Ridgeley, 29, in 1951.

Highest Score Credited To Allegany County Girls Team — Central of Lonaconing, 162, Ursuline Academy, 3, in 1924.

Most Points Scored By Girl Player In One Game — Marie Boyd, Central High, Lonaconing, 156, in 1924.

Longest Winning Streak By Area Girls Team — 65 games by Central High, Lonaconing, ending in 1924. Modern record of 53 by Fort Hill girls, ended in 1958-59 season.

Longest Win Streak By Boys Team In W.M.I. League — 44 games by Allegany, 1944 to 1948. Have we missed any?

Cold Weather Cuts Short Terp Drill

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—Coach Tom Nugent limited Maryland's football practice to one hour Tuesday and called off contact work because of cold weather.

With the mercury at 37 and the wind blowing at 25 miles an hour, the Terps called it a day after going through an offense dummy drill.

Alonzo Johnson To Fight Folley

Phoenix Heavy Go Set For Tonight

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) —Zora Folley, second-ranking contender for Ingemar Johansson's world heavyweight title, risks his standing against promising newcomer Alonzo Johnson Wednesday night in the main event of a charity ball.

The fight will be staged in a ring constructed over a swimming pool in the patio of the Caravan Inn East Hotel, and is the only contest on the card preceding a formal $25 a person dinner-dance.

Max Baer, the former world champion and a man who knows his way around cafe society, will referee. The bout will be telecast nationally (by ABC).

Selection Draws Protest

Selection of Bear to referee the bout drew a formal protest from Johnson's handlers, who claimed Max had been a guest in the home of Folley's manager, Bill Swift, grandson of the meat-packing millionaire.

Johnson's co - manager, Mike Bazzone, said he had "no hope of getting a fair shake. We have to knock out Folley to win—if it goes the distance, we're dead."

"If the fight is close, I say Baer will vote for Folley," he said.

All the howling did no good with the state athletic commission, which cleared Baer as the referee. In addition, there will be two judges. Arizona uses the 10 points - must system of scoring fights.

Cystic Fibrosis Benefits

The cystic fibrosis charity will benefit from the bout, which at the $25 price is expected to draw only about 1,000 persons. To entice the ladies, a mink stole is being given away.

Panthers Don Gloves

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Backfield players on the University of Pittsburgh football team wore gloves in practice Tuesday as the temperature dropped to the 20-degree mark by late afternoon.

Wisconsin, Washington Favored To Gain Bowl Berths

Both Given 7-Point Edge On Saturday

Gophers, Cougars Could Upset Dope; Kansas Is Choice

NEW YORK (UPI)—Wisconsin and Washington were tabbed seven-point favorites Tuesday to wrap up rival Rose Bowl berths by victories in two of Saturday's biggest showdown football games.

Wisconsin can clinch the Big Ten title with a 5-2 mark by beating Minnesota, and that's just what the oddsmakers expect. If the Badgers stumble, Northwestern can sneak in by making good as two-point picks over Illinois.

Washington can clinch the West Coast slot in the Pasadena classic by beating Washington State. But an upset would give Oregon, a heavy favorite, a chance to snatch the prize by beating Oregon State.

In another big game with bowl overtones, Kansas is a four-point favorite over Missouri. The winner of this game will represent the Big Eight in the Orange Bowl, provided bowl - ineligible Oklahoma (a 13 - point favorite) whips co-leader Iowa State.

Friday Night

Michigan St. 7 over Miami (Fla.)

Saturday

Ohio State 1 over Michigan
Tennessee 1 over Kentucky
Purdue 1 over Indiana
SMU 1 over Baylor
Dartmouth 2 over Princeton
Marquette 3 over Holy Cross
Stanford 5 over California
Yale 6 over Harvard
Penn State 7 over Pittsburgh
South Carolina 7 over N. Car. St.
Southern California 9 over UCLA
Clemson 12 over Wake Forest
Nebraska 12 over Kansas St.
Arkansas 13 over Texas Tech
TCU 13 over Rice
Iowa 14 over Notre Dame
Florida 15 over Florida State

Knicks, Syracuse Capture NBA Tilts

NEW YORK (UPI) — The New York Knickerbockers held Bob Pettit to 11 points to defeat the St. Louis Hawks, 105-97, Tuesday night and the Syracuse Nationals overcame a one-man scoring effort by Jack Twyman to beat the Cincinnati Royals, 121-116, in a National Basketball Association doubleheader.

The Knicks snapped their own five-game losing streak and dealt the Hawks their fourth loss in eight games by holding Pettit to one of the lowest point totals of his NBA career.

Kenny Sears scored 25 points and Guerin tallied 19 to lead the Knicks, while Cliff Hagan had 27 for St. Louis.

Schayes had 30 points and Johnny Kerr had 17. Twyman connected for 15 field goals and eight free throws for 38 points for Cincinnati.

Boston Celtics Win In Double Overtime

DETROIT (UPI) — Sam Jones scored six points in the second overtime Tuesday night to give the Boston Celtics a 131-129 win over the Detroit Pistons.

Jones had 28 points for the night to tie with Bill Sharman for Boston's scoring honors, while Gene Shue netted 35 for Detroit to lead both teams.

Regulation play ended in a 113-113 tie when referee Mendy Rudolph ruled no basket on a tipin by Detroit's Archie Dees as the buzzer sounded.

The teams were tied 65-all at the half and played even ball throughout the game.

Officials Named For Charles Town, Keyser Grid Tilt

Members of the Potomac Valley Football Officials Association have been assigned to work the Charles Town at Keyser game Friday at 1:30 p. m.

Both teams are undefeated and untied and have won nine games.

Nine Rec Loop Teams Attend Cage Meetings

High School, Men's Teams Represented

Five teams were represented at the meeting of the High School Rec Basketball League and representatives of four teams attended the Men's Rec Basketball League session held last night, at City Hall, according to Gene Mason, director of the City Recreation Department.

Those attending the High School loop meeting were Charles Roby, Diamond Bowling Alleys; George Charuhas, Allegany Hi-Y Club; Mickey Scaletta, Boggs Confectionery; Robert Saliga, Dunlop Tires, and John Daum, Police Boys Club.

The by-laws were read and discussed and will be voted upon next week.

The entry fee for high school circuit teams was set at $10 and the forfeit fee at $10. The latter will be returned if no games are forfeited.

Player rosters were limited to ten at any one time.

Each team will play one night game during the week and another game on Saturday.

The league is limited to 13 teams and the teams will be accepted in the order they post their entry fees.

Men's League teams represented last night were Lamar Martin, Martin's All-Stars; "Pickles" Doolan, Doolan's Clowns; Lee Cover, South End, and John Wilson, Redman's Club.

By-laws were read and discussed and will be voted on next week.

The entry fee for each team in this league is $35. There is no forfeit fee.

Team rosters are limited to 15 players at any one time. There will be a limit of nine quints in the Men's League and teams will be accepted on a first come first served basis.

Games in both leagues will be staged at the new Allegany High School and Fort Hill High School gymnasiums.

The High School league meets next Tuesday at 7 p. m., and the Men's League meets at 8 p. m., on the same day at City Hall. Entry fees will be due on that date and practice sessions for the week of November 30 will be assigned the teams.

Gil Haus Named General Manager

CLEVELAND (UPI) — J. Gilbert Haus has been appointed general manager of the Thistledown and Cranwood race tracks.

A former racing secretary at Randall Park, Haus was named to the post by Edward J. DeBartolo who four months ago purchased the two tracks for five million dollars.

Haus resigned as racing secretary at Delaware Park, where he had been since 1945, but will remain as managing director of the Rolling Rock Hunt Club in Pittsburgh.

TIME FOR A CHANGE—Protest about the type of cleats being worn by Cleveland Browns players in the game with Washington in the nation's capital brought about this scene as the Browns' equipment manager, Morris Kono, helps in the change. He is working on the cleats worn by Bobby Mitchell, halfback who scored three touchdowns for the Browns in the win over Washington. The cleats in question were made of nylon with an aluminum tip. Coach Paul Brown of the Browns declared the cleats were approved by the owners at the last league meeting.

Canada Cup Tests Open, Three-Way Duel Is Seen

Students Drafted As Imported Caddies Reject Wage Rate

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

MELBOURNE (AP)—Australia, South Africa and the United States are favored in the Canada Cup professional golf competition which starts Wednesday amid a shimmering feud about caddies.

Two golfers from each of 30 countries start the first of their four daily treks over the 6,853-yard, par 34-36—V Royal Melbourne Golf course at 10 a.m. 7 p.m. EST, Tuesday—in quest of the team title won last year by Ireland. There also is an individual competition, based on each golfer's 72-hole total.

Three Way Duel Seen

Final practice rounds did nothing to change the outlook for a three-way duel. Australia's Peter Thomson and Kel Nagle, who won the title five years ago, shot subpar totals in an informal round.

Gary Player and Harold Henning of South Africa came in with a pair of 68s, and the U.S. representatives—Sam Snead and Cary Middlecoff—whirled around in approximately par figures, using the small British ball.

Many of the golfers will have caddies who Tuesday were given hurried lessons on how to replace the clubs in the bags.

Caddying Fading Art

University students and amateur golfers were drafted to tote the bags when imported caddies from Sydney refused to work for the prevailing wage of 30 shillings—about $3.50—a round. Caddying is a fading art here.

Caddies were assigned through a blind draw, and through what officials termed "an amazing coincidence," the two Australians, Thomson and Nagle, drew their own pro caddies.

Keyser Trails Two Schools In State Ratings

Allegany, LaSalle Wins Would Help

BECKLEY, W. Va. (AP)—Keyser has the most complicated kind of a chance to get into the State Class AA high school football playoff game against Mullens.

Official ratings made available Tuesday by the West Virginia Secondary School Activities Commission had Keyser fourth in the Double A rankings, but a big game Friday afternoon with unbeaten Charles Town could set up Keyser as a mathematical contender for the playoff.

Keyser now has 99½ points for rating purposes and an 11.06 rating. It is behind Mount Hope (11.65) and Sissonville (11.16), both of which have finished their seasons and have no opponents still active.

Keyser will match 9-0 records with Charles Town in the Eastern Panhandle feature. A Keyser victory would be good for 16 points, and there is a possibility of picking up two bonus points from Maryland games on Thanksgiving Day.

A Charles Town victory would end the mad scramble for the Class AA playoff, leaving Mullens (8-2) to battle Mount Hope (8-1-1).

But if Keyser wins, it will hold its breath pending games between Cumberland Allegany and Cumberland Fort Hill.

Keyser beat LaSalle, and Triple-A Beall and Allegany. A Beall win over Double-A LaSalle wouldn't help Keyser.

A favorable turn of events for Keyser probably would give it an 11.75 rating, or 0.10 better than Mount Hope.

Terp Booters Win

DURHAM, N. C. (AP)—Maryland's soccer team whipped Duke 6-2 Tuesday and won the Atlantic Coast Conference title with an 8-0 record.

Henry Cooper Stops Erskine, Retains Crown

British Title Bout Ends In 12th Round

LONDON (AP) — Henry Cooper, British and British Empire heavyweight champion, stopped challenger Joe Erskine of Wales Tuesday night in the 12th round with a vicious combination of punches that left the former titleholder sprawled between the ropes.

Cooper dropped Erskine twice for seven-counts before he finished him off at 2:55 in the 12th. Although Erskine was helpless after Cooper's final two-fisted attack and obviously was out for the count, Referee Eugene Henderson stepped in immediately after Erskine went down. He stopped the fight, so the result was a technical knockout.

It was the second defense by Cooper, high-ranking challenger for Ingemar Johansson's world title. Both Cooper and Erskine had been stopped by Johansson before the Swede knocked out Floyd Patterson.

Cooper weighed 188¾ to Erskine's 192⅛.

It was a sensational fight throughout the 12 rounds with Cooper throwing the heavy punches while Erskine boxed brilliantly.

Air Force Receives Liberty Bowl Feeler

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Col. George Simler, director of athletics at the Air Force Academy, said Tuesday the Falcons have received a feeler about playing in the Liberty Bowl, a football game in Philadelphia Dec. 19.

"The game follows our exam week, so the likelihood of our accepting is rather remote," Simler said.

Air Force has a 5-2-1 record. It plays New Mexico in Denver Saturday.

Six Deer Killed In Allegany County During Bow Season

Nineteen deer were killed by bow and arrow hunters in Maryland Region No. 1, comprising Allegany, Garrett and Washington counties, during the 12-day special season which ended Saturday, according to Joseph A. Minke, regional game warden.

Seven whitetails were slain in Washington County, six in Allegany and six in Garrett.

Twenty-nine were killed in Region No. 1 last year.

Kills reported in Allegany County were:

John D. Smith, Morningside, Md., 100-doe, Town Hill.

Frances M. Mahaney, Cumberland, 65-doe, Green Ridge.

Eston P. Paxton, Hinkle Road, Cumberland, 90-doe, Polish Mt.

Ronald E. Bridges, Corriganville, 110-doe, Green Ridge.

John Nelson, Laurel, Md., 8-125, Green Ridge.

Jack Weaver, Cumberland, 6-130, Green Ridge.

Four of the six deer bagged in Allegany County were females. Four of the seven killed in Washington County were bucks. Tags on the Garrett County deer kill will be received today by Minke.

Terp Coaches Are Cleared In Death Of "Sonny" Lohr

Committee Rules "No Negligence On Anyone's Part"

By GORDON BEARD

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—A subcommittee of the University of Maryland Athletic Council Tuesday cleared the football coaching staff of negligence in the death of Charles (Sonny) Lohr.

Lohr, 19-year-old sophomore center from Bladensburg, Md., collapsed of heat exhaustion at the end of a practice drill Sept. 2 and died four days later in a Baltimore hospital.

The special four-man subcommittee was appointed by Dr. Wilson H. Elkins, university president, after three youths reported Lohr had undergone a prolonged workout under protest before his fatal collapse on the practice field.

Unfortunate Accident

A report, approved by the entire Athletic Council and forwarded to Elkins Tuesday, concluded "there was no negligence on anyone's part" and that the death "must be regarded a most unusual and unfortunate accident."

The practice session of Sept. 2, the report said, "was certainly no more strenuous than that associated with many other vigorous collegiate sports."

Robert D. Welshmer, 17-year-old football player at High Point High School in Beltsville, Md., said Lohr fell three or four times during one drill. He said although Lohr complained "I can't do it," he was ordered by an assistant coach to continue.

Two other young spectators supported Welshmer's account of the practice, which occurred on a hot afternoon.

The committee report concluded that Lohr's training routine in lieu of scrimmage "could not be considered excessive."

Mother Defended Staff

Mrs. Lucile Lohr, the boy's mother, and members of the football squad came to the defense of Coach Tom Nugent and his staff.

Several days after Lohr died, Mrs. Lohr wrote a note to Nugent, in his first year as head coach at Maryland, saying the family did not hold him responsible for the death.

Mrs. Lohr sat behind the Maryland bench in the season opener against West Virginia and when the Terps won 27-7, she was presented the game ball autographed by her son's teammates.

Geary Eppley, dean of men, headed the committee which conducted the investigation. Other members included Dr. Warren Johnson, professor of physical education, health and recreation for men; Dr. John E. Faber, professor and head of the department of micro-biology; and William Cobey, director of athletics.

Wisconsin, Washington Favored To Gain Bowl Berths

Both Given 7-Point Edge On Saturday

Gophers, Cougars Could Upset Dope; Kansas Is Choice

NEW YORK (UPI)—Wisconsin and Washington were tabbed seven-point favorites Tuesday to wrap up rival Rose Bowl berths by victories in two of Saturday's biggest showdown football games.

Wisconsin can clinch the Big Ten title with a 5-2 mark by beating Minnesota, and that's just what the oddsmakers expect. If the Badgers stumble, Northwestern can sneak in by making good as two-point picks over Illinois.

Washington can clinch the West Coast slot in the Pasadena classic by beating Washington State. But an upset would give Oregon, a heavy favorite, a chance to snatch the prize by beating Oregon State.

In another big game with bowl overtones, Kansas is a four-point favorite over Missouri. The winner of this game will represent the Big Eight in the Orange Bowl, provided bowl - ineligible Oklahoma (a 13 - point favorite) whips co-leader Iowa State.

Friday Night

Michigan St. 7 over Miami (Fla.)

Saturday

Ohio State 1 over Michigan
Tennessee 1 over Kentucky
Purdue 1 over Indiana
SMU 1 over Baylor
Dartmouth 2 over Princeton
Marquette 3 over Holy Cross
Stanford 5 over California
Yale 6 over Harvard
Penn State 7 over Pittsburgh
South Carolina 7 over N. Car. St.
Southern California 9 over UCLA
Clemson 12 over Wake Forest
Nebraska 12 over Kansas St.
Arkansas 13 over Texas Tech
TCU 13 over Rice
Iowa 14 over Notre Dame
Florida 15 over Florida State

Knicks, Syracuse Capture NBA Tilts

NEW YORK (UPI) — The New York Knickerbockers held Bob Pettit to 11 points to defeat the St. Louis Hawks, 105-97, Tuesday night and the Syracuse Nationals overcame a one-man scoring effort by Jack Twyman to beat the Cincinnati Royals, 121-116, in a National Basketball Association doubleheader.

The Knicks snapped their own five-game losing streak and dealt the Hawks their fourth loss in eight games by holding Pettit to one of the lowest point totals of his NBA career.

Kenny Sears scored 25 points and Guerin tallied 19 to lead the Knicks, while Cliff Hagan had 27 for St. Louis.

Schayes had 30 points and Johnny Kerr had 17. Twyman connected for 15 field goals and eight free throws for 38 points for Cincinnati.

Boston Celtics Win In Double Overtime

DETROIT (UPI) — Sam Jones scored six points in the second overtime Tuesday night to give the Boston Celtics a 131-129 win over the Detroit Pistons.

Jones had 28 points for the night to tie with Bill Sharman for Boston's scoring honors, while Gene Shue netted 35 for Detroit to lead both teams.

Regulation play ended in a 113-113 tie when referee Mendy Rudolph ruled no basket on a tipin by Detroit's Archie Dees as the buzzer sounded.

The teams were tied 65-all at the half and played even ball throughout the game.

Officials Named For Charles Town, Keyser Grid Tilt

Members of the Potomac Valley Football Officials Association have been assigned to work the Charles Town at Keyser game Friday at 1:30 p. m.

Both teams are undefeated and untied and have won nine games.

Nine Rec Loop Teams Attend Cage Meetings

High School, Men's Teams Represented

Five teams were represented at the meeting of the High School Rec Basketball League and representatives of four teams attended the Men's Rec Basketball League session held last night, at City Hall, according to Gene Mason, director of the City Recreation Department.

Those attending the High School loop meeting were Charles Roby, Diamond Bowling Alleys; George Charuhas, Allegany Hi-Y Club; Mickey Scaletta, Boggs Confectionery; Robert Saliga, Dunlop Tires, and John Daum, Police Boys Club.

The by-laws were read and discussed and will be voted upon next week.

The entry fee for high school circuit teams was set at $10 and the forfeit fee at $10. The latter will be returned if no games are forfeited.

Player rosters were limited to ten at any one time.

Each team will play one night game during the week and another game on Saturday.

The league is limited to 13 teams and the teams will be accepted in the order they post their entry fees.

Men's League teams represented last night were Lamar Martin, Martin's All-Stars; "Pickles" Doolan, Doolan's Clowns; Lee Cover, South End, and John Wilson, Redman's Club.

By-laws were read and discussed and will be voted on next week.

The entry fee for each team in this league is $35. There is no forfeit fee.

Team rosters are limited to 15 players at any one time. There will be a limit of nine quints in the Men's League and teams will be accepted on a first come first served basis.

Games in both leagues will be staged at the new Allegany High School and Fort Hill High School gymnasiums.

The High School league meets next Tuesday at 7 p. m., and the Men's League meets at 8 p. m., on the same day at City Hall. Entry fees will be due on that date and practice sessions for the week of November 30 will be assigned the teams.

Gil Haus Named General Manager

CLEVELAND (UPI) — J. Gilbert Haus has been appointed general manager of the Thistledown and Cranwood race tracks.

A former racing secretary at Randall Park, Haus was named to the post by Edward J. DeBartolo who four months ago purchased the two tracks for five million dollars.

Haus resigned as racing secretary at Delaware Park, where he had been since 1945, but will remain as managing director of the Rolling Rock Hunt Club in Pittsburgh.

TIME FOR A CHANGE—Protest about the type of cleats being worn by Cleveland Browns players in the game with Washington in the nation's capital brought about this scene as the Browns' equipment manager, Morris Kono, helps in the change. He is working on the cleats worn by Bobby Mitchell, halfback who scored three touchdowns for the Browns in the win over Washington. The cleats in question were made of nylon with an aluminum tip. Coach Paul Brown of the Browns declared the cleats were approved by the owners at the last league meeting.

Canada Cup Tests Open, Three-Way Duel Is Seen

Students Drafted As Imported Caddies Reject Wage Rate

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

MELBOURNE (AP)—Australia, South Africa and the United States are favored in the Canada Cup professional golf competition which starts Wednesday amid a shimmering feud about caddies.

Two golfers from each of 30 countries start the first of their four daily treks over the 6,853-yard, par 34-36—V Royal Melbourne Golf course at 10 a.m. 7 p.m. EST, Tuesday—in quest of the team title won last year by Ireland. There also is an individual competition, based on each golfer's 72-hole total.

Three Way Duel Seen

Final practice rounds did nothing to change the outlook for a three-way duel. Australia's Peter Thomson and Kel Nagle, who won the title five years ago, shot subpar totals in an informal round.

Gary Player and Harold Henning of South Africa came in with a pair of 68s, and the U.S. representatives—Sam Snead and Cary Middlecoff—whirled around in approximately par figures, using the small British ball.

Many of the golfers will have caddies who Tuesday were given hurried lessons on how to replace the clubs in the bags.

Caddying Fading Art

University students and amateur golfers were drafted to tote the bags when imported caddies from Sydney refused to work for the prevailing wage of 30 shillings —about $3.50—a round. Caddying is a fading art here.

Caddies were assigned through a blind draw, and through what officials termed "an amazing coincidence," the two Australians, Thomson and Nagle, drew their own pro caddies.

Keyser Trails Two Schools In State Ratings

Allegany, LaSalle Wins Would Help

BECKLEY, W. Va. (AP)—Keyser has the most complicated kind of a chance to get into the State Class AA high school football playoff game against Mullens.

Official ratings made available Tuesday by the West Virginia Secondary School Activities Commission had Keyser fourth in the Double A rankings, but a big game Friday afternoon with unbeaten Charles Town could set up Keyser as a mathematical contender for the playoff.

Keyser now has 99½ points for rating purposes and an 11.06 rating. It is behind Mount Hope (11.65) and Sissonville (11.16), both of which have finished their seasons and have no opponents still active.

Keyser will match 9-0 records with Charles Town in the Eastern Panhandle feature. A Keyser victory would be good for 16 points, and there is a possibility of picking up two bonus points from Maryland games on Thanksgiving Day.

A Charles Town victory would end the mad scramble for the Class AA playoff, leaving Mullens (8-2) to battle Mount Hope (8-1-1).

But if Keyser wins, it will hold its breath pending games between Cumberland Allegany and Cumberland Fort Hill.

Keyser beat LaSalle, and Triple-A Beall and Allegany. A Beall win over Double-A LaSalle wouldn't help Keyser.

A favorable turn of events for Keyser probably would give it an 11.75 rating, or 0.10 better than Mount Hope.

Air Force Receives Liberty Bowl Feeler

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Col. George Simler, director of athletics at the Air Force Academy, said Tuesday the Falcons have received a feeler about playing in the Liberty Bowl, a football game in Philadelphia Dec. 19.

"The game follows our exam week, so the likelihood of our accepting is rather remote," Simler said.

Air Force has a 5-2-1 record. It plays New Mexico in Denver Saturday.

Terp Booters Win

DURHAM, N. C. (AP)—Maryland's soccer team whipped Duke 6-2 Tuesday and won the Atlantic Coast Conference title with an 8-0 record.

British Title Bout Ends In 12th Round

LONDON (AP) — Henry Cooper, British and British Empire heavyweight champion, stopped challenger Joe Erskine of Wales Tuesday night in the 12th round with a vicious combination of punches that left the former titleholder sprawled between the ropes.

Cooper dropped Erskine twice for seven-counts before he finished him off at 2:55 in the 12th. Although Erskine was helpless after Cooper's final two-fisted attack and obviously was out for the count, Referee Eugene Henderson stepped in immediately after Erskine went down. He stopped the fight, so the result was a technical knockout.

It was the second defense by Cooper, high-ranking challenger for Ingemar Johansson's world title. Both Cooper and Erskine had been stopped by Johansson before the Swede knocked out Floyd Patterson.

Cooper weighed 188¾ to Erskine's 192⅛.

It was a sensational fight throughout the 12 rounds with Cooper throwing the heavy punches while Erskine boxed brilliantly.

Six Deer Killed In Allegany County During Bow Season

Nineteen deer were killed by bow and arrow hunters in Maryland Region No. 1, comprising Allegany, Garrett and Washington counties, during the 12-day special season which ended Saturday, according to Joseph A. Minke, regional game warden.

Seven whitetails were slain in Washington County, six in Allegany and six in Garrett.

Twenty-nine were killed in Region No. 1 last year.

Kills reported in Allegany County were:

John D. Smith, Morningside, Md., 100-doe, Town Hill.

Frances M. Mahaney, Cumberland, 65-doe, Green Ridge.

Eston P. Paxton, Hinkle Road, Cumberland, 90-doe, Polish Mt.

Ronald E. Bridges, Corriganville, 110-doe, Green Ridge.

John Nelson, Laurel, Md., 8-125, Green Ridge.

Jack Weaver, Cumberland, 6-130, Green Ridge.

Four of the six deer bagged in Allegany County were females. Four of the seven killed in Washington County were bucks. Tags on the Garrett County deer kill will be received today by Minke.

Terp Coaches Are Cleared In Death Of "Sonny" Lohr

Committee Rules "No Negligence On Anyone's Part"

By GORDON BEARD

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—A subcommittee of the University of Maryland Athletic Council Tuesday cleared the football coaching staff of negligence in the death of Charles (Sonny) Lohr.

Lohr, 19-year-old sophomore center from Bladensburg, Md., collapsed of heat exhaustion at the end of a practice drill Sept. 2 and died four days later in a Baltimore hospital.

The special four-man subcommittee was appointed by Dr. Wilson H. Elkins, university president, after three youths reported Lohr had undergone a prolonged workout under protest before his fatal collapse on the practice field.

Unfortunate Accident

A report, approved by the entire Athletic Council and forwarded to Elkins Tuesday, concluded "there was no negligence on anyone's part" and that the death "must be regarded a most unusual and unfortunate accident."

The practice session of Sept. 2, the report said, "was certainly no more strenuous than that associated with many other vigorous collegiate sports."

Robert D. Welshmer, 17-year-old football player at High Point High School in Beltsville, Md., said Lohr fell three or four times during one drill. He said although Lohr complained "I can't do it," he was ordered by an assistant coach to continue.

Two other young spectators supported Welshmer's account of the practice, which occurred on a hot afternoon.

The committee report concluded that Lohr's training routine in lieu of scrimmage "could not be considered excessive."

Mother Defended Staff

Mrs. Lucile Lohr, the boy's mother, and members of the football squad came to the defense of Coach Tom Nugent and his staff.

Several days after Lohr died, Mrs. Lohr wrote a note to Nugent, in his first year as head coach at Maryland, saying the family did not hold him responsible for the death.

Mrs. Lohr sat behind the Maryland bench in the season opener against West Virginia and when the Terps won 27-7, she was presented the game ball autographed by her son's teammates.

Geary Eppley, dean of men, headed the committee which conducted the investigation. Other members included Dr. Warren Johnson, professor of physical education, health and recreation for men; Dr. John E. Faber, professor and head of the department of micro-biology; and William Cobey, director of athletics.

Father Bob Posts Fourth Win In Last Five Starts

Thoroughbred Name For Priest Scores In 6th At Pimlico

BALTIMORE, Nov. 17 (AP)—Father Bob, a thoroughbred named for a Catholic priest, won for the fourth time in his last five starts at Pimlico today and returned $6.60.

Trained by Jimmy McGee, of Redbank, N. J., and owned by his son, Donald, the horse is named for another son, Robert, who has been in the priesthood for several years.

Although Father Bob was a fast-breaking frontrunner in previous starts, he was last away from the gate in today's six-furlong sixth race, and was forced to move from fourth on the turn to win going away with a length and a half to spare.

Paul A. Rothfuss' Legal Gain, in front after the first half mile, tired slightly, but held second place a length and a quarter to the good of David G. Neuman's Boycotter.

Jockey Steve Brooks, who had failed on three favorites earlier in the program, used his whip freely in bringing Father Bob through the stretch and continued slashing to the wire although well in front for the last 100 yards.

Jockey Howard Grant, saddle sensation of the Maryland fall turf season, came to the track prepared to ride seven mounts. However, he became ill after being in the "sweat box" in order to reduce and cancelled his engagements.

The 20-year-old rider complained of cramps in his stomach and is expected to return to silks for tomorrow's program when he will ride Polamby in the $20,000-added Gallorette Stakes.

Track Is Frozen, Races Canceled

The racing strip was frozen by 13 - degree temperature Tuesday morning, and work crews were not able to have it ready in time for the 2 p.m., e.s.t., post time.

Griggs Joins Phils

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The scout credited with signing Hank Aaron, Wes Covington and Johnny Logan, has left the Milwaukee Braves to join the scouting staff of the Philadelphia Phillies.

Dewey Griggs resigned from the Braves organization after 14 years to rejoin his old boss, John Quinn, with the Phillies. Quinn was general manager at Milwaukee until last year.

Nylon Cleats Legal But Not Metal Tips

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Acting Commissioner Austin Gunsel Tuesday directed National Football League teams to brush up on the section of the rules manual dealing with nylon cleats.

The commissioner's directive resulted from the rhubarb Sunday in the Washington - Cleveland game. The Redskins objected to metal tips on the cleats of some Cleveland players.

Chamberlain's 37.1 Average Is Highest

NEW YORK (UPI)—Elgin Baylor of the Minneapolis Lakers remained first in the National Basketball Association scoring race Tuesday but Wilt Chamberlain of the Philadelphia Warriors boasted the highest average.

Baylor led with 446 points in 13 games for a 34.3 average and Jack Twyman of the Cincinnati Royals was second with 400 in 12 games for a 33.3 average.

But Chamberlain, Philadelphia's 7-2 rookie, scored 371 in 10 games for the No. 1 game average of 37.1. His point total gave him third place.

Father Bob Posts Fourth Win In Last Five Starts

Thoroughbred Name For Priest Scores In 6th At Pimlico

BALTIMORE, Nov. 17 (AP)—Father Bob, a thoroughbred named for a Catholic priest, won for the fourth time in his last five starts at Pimlico today and returned $6.60.

Trained by Jimmy McGee, of Redbank, N. J., and owned by his son, Donald, the horse is named for another son, Robert, who has been in the priesthood for several years.

Although Father Bob was a fast-breaking frontrunner in previous starts, he was last away from the gate in today's six-furlong sixth race, and was forced to move from fourth on the turn to win going away with a length and a half to spare.

Paul A. Rothfuss' Legal Gain, in front after the first half mile, tired slightly, but held second place a length and a quarter to the good of David G. Neuman's Boycotter.

Jockey Steve Brooks, who had failed on three favorites earlier in the program, used his whip freely in bringing Father Bob through the stretch and continued slashing to the wire although well in front for the last 100 yards.

Jockey Howard Grant, saddle sensation of the Maryland fall turf season, came to the track prepared to ride seven mounts. However, he became ill after being in the "sweat box" in order to reduce and cancelled his engagements.

The 20-year-old rider complained of cramps in his stomach and is expected to return to silks for tomorrow's program when he will ride Polamby in the $20,000-added Gallorette Stakes.

Nylon Cleats Legal But Not Metal Tips

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Acting Commissioner Austin Gunsel Tuesday directed National Football League teams to brush up on the section of the rules manual dealing with nylon cleats.

The commissioner's directive resulted from the rhubarb Sunday in the Washington - Cleveland game. The Redskins objected to metal tips on the cleats of some Cleveland players.

Chamberlain's 37.1 Average Is Highest

NEW YORK (UPI)—Elgin Baylor of the Minneapolis Lakers remained first in the National Basketball Association scoring race Tuesday but Wilt Chamberlain of the Philadelphia Warriors boasted the highest average.

Baylor led with 446 points in 13 games for a 34.3 average and Jack Twyman of the Cincinnati Royals was second with 400 in 12 games for a 33.3 average.

But Chamberlain, Philadelphia's 7-2 rookie, scored 371 in 10 games for the No. 1 game average of 37.1. His point total gave him third place.

Track Is Frozen, Races Canceled

The racing strip was frozen by 13 - degree temperature Tuesday morning, and work crews were not able to have it ready in time for the 2 p.m., e.s.t., post time.

Griggs Joins Phils

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The scout credited with signing Hank Aaron, Wes Covington and Johnny Logan, has left the Milwaukee Braves to join the scouting staff of the Philadelphia Phillies.

Dewey Griggs resigned from the Braves organization after 14 years to rejoin his old boss, John Quinn, with the Phillies. Quinn was general manager at Milwaukee until last year.

Warning signals today on the subject of what not to say.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

We often discuss what to say that's gracious, tactful and appealing, because charm must be expressed to be felt. Today let's take up common sentences that the charmer needs a silencer for, because no one likes to hear them. No lead-off remark on the following list can possibly up-grade your standing with anyone. All should be chased off the conversational scene.

1. I'm telling you this for your own good. Maybe you are, but wordage to follow this opening is seldom appreciated, and you may wonder later why you see so little of your friend anymore. Chances are that you don't know what you're talking about, and are butting into something that's none of your business. And honestly now, are you speaking for the sake of the other person, or indulging yourself by taking a superior attitude?

2. Please don't repeat this — I promised not to tell a soul. Just how often is there justification for violating a confidence? You see no excuse ever when the confidence concerns you. And aren't you gossiping? And starting gossip's usual chain reaction? You tell just one person who may tell just one more, who tells one more. The whole thing twists and stretches out of proportion, perhaps to do great harm, and the fault is yours. You also sacrifice respect when you can't keep still.

3. I told you so. This really waves a red flag. You probably shouldn't have imposed your opinions in the first place. You didn't endear yourself then, and a smug attitude after you're proved right is unbearable. Few pleasant relationships survive many experiences like this.

4. It wasn't that way at all. All right — so the story wasn't told the way you heard it. What does it matter as long as a different, even a hopelessly jumbled version is entertaining, or at least isn't seriously misleading, and does no harm? Does it do you credit to take the wind out of well-meaning sails? If facts really need correcting, you can surely think of a less flat-footed approach.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — We won't be seeing much of the newlyweds, Debbie (the former Mrs. Tyrone) Power and Arthur Loew Jr. Some of the Loew money has been put in a new corporation Arthur has just formed with composer Jule Styne, to produce plays, movies and TV, and the Loews will headquarter in New York.

Plans for the new company include Evan Hunter's drama "Lady In 'waiting," being readied for Broadway in the spring with David Alexander named as director.

Then there is a musical version of Robert Sherwood's movie thrilled "The Ghost Goes West" for the stage, naturally, Jule will write the music, and it will star Cyril Ritchard. Arthur and Jule plan to repeat their Broadway ventures on the screen.

If this isn't enough to keep the boys busy, they expect to present four TV spectaculars during 1960. Well, Arthur has plenty of the necessary moola.

Ever since Ella Fitzgerald hit the big time with her great singing voice, she has longed to be in a motion picture. I remember she told me when she played at the Mocambo how much it would mean to her. Now she gets that wish, and she'll play the role of "Big Flora," a nightclub singer, in "Let No Man Write My Epitaph" for Columbia.

Of course, Ella will sing, and this should add money to the box-office. Her new record of Gershwin songs is one of the finest yet made. Hearing those beautiful Gershwin tunes sung in Ella's God-giving voice makes you forget your troubles.

I am greatly interested in the Hubbell Robinson TV spectacular "Aimee," based on the life of Aimee Semple McPherson, the evangelist who "went down in the ocean and came up in the desert" after being supposedly drowned. I covered that story and met the train that brought Aimee back from the dead to Los Angeles.

Hubbell has Luther Davis writing the script and Aimee's daughter, Roberta, now Mrs. Harry Salter, is working with Davis. Eva Marie Saint has been contacted about playing the colorful Aimee, and Eva probably will do it before she leaves for Israel for "Exodus."

A book, "The Vanishing Evangelist," came out a few years ago, based on Aimee's life, and it had a big local sale.

Shortly before Eddie Fisher's show premiered at the Waldorf in New York he telephoned to tell me he starts tomorrow to record Mike Todd Jr.'s "Scent of Mystery," and other songs for his new record company. I notice by the Melody Maker, and English music publication, that Eddie has already started his record company in London.

He says that he and Elizabeth are trying to find a house, but so far haven't found what they want. As I exclusively told you in my column Nov. 13, Eddie will be in "Butterfield 8" with Liz, and it will be filmed in New York.

Liz gave a party for 70 at Eddie's opening, and many of the Broadway stars now playing in New York were in the party, as were Aly Khan, Jack Benny, Alen Lerner and others.

Warning signals today on the subject of what not to say.

Secrets Of Charm

We often discuss what to say that's gracious, tactful and appealing, because charm must be expressed to be felt. Today let's take up common sentences that the charmer needs a silencer for, because no one likes to hear them. No lead-off remark on the following list can possibly up-grade your standing with anyone. All should be chased off the conversational scene.

1. I'm telling you this for your own good. Maybe you are, but wordage to follow this opening is seldom appreciated, and you may wonder later why you see so little of your friend anymore. Chances are that you don't know what you're talking about, and are butting into something that's none of your business. And honestly now, are you speaking for the sake of the other person, or indulging yourself by taking a superior attitude?

2. Please don't repeat this — I promised not to tell a soul. Just how often is there justification for violating a confidence? You see no excuse ever when the confidence concerns you. And aren't you gossiping? And starting gossip's usual chain reaction? You tell just one person who may tell just one more, who tells one more. The whole thing twists and stretches out of proportion, perhaps to do great harm, and the fault is yours. You also sacrifice respect when you can't keep still.

3. I told you so. This really waves a red flag. You probably shouldn't have imposed your opinions in the first place. You didn't endear yourself then, and a smug attitude after you're proved right is unbearable. Few pleasant relationships survive many experiences like this.

4. It wasn't that way at all. All right — so the story wasn't told the way you heard it. What does it matter as long as a different, even a hopelessly jumbled version is entertaining, or at least isn't seriously misleading, and does no harm? Does it do you credit to take the wind out of well-meaning sails? If facts really need correcting, you can surely think of a less flat-footed approach.

TOMORROW: Outwit Overweight.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — We won't be seeing much of the newlyweds, Debbie (the former Mrs. Tyrone) Power and Arthur Loew Jr. Some of the Loew money has been put in a new corporation Arthur has just formed with composer Jule Styne, to produce plays, movies and TV, and the Loews will headquarter in New York.

Plans for the new company include Evan Hunter's drama "Lady In 'waiting," being readied for Broadway in the spring with David Alexander named as director.

Then there is a musical version of Robert Sherwood's movie thrilled "The Ghost Goes West" for the stage, naturally, Jule will write the music, and it will star Cyril Ritchard. Arthur and Jule plan to repeat their Broadway ventures on the screen.

If this isn't enough to keep the boys busy, they expect to present four TV spectaculars during 1960. Well, Arthur has plenty of the necessary moola.

Ever since Ella Fitzgerald hit the big time with her great singing voice, she has longed to be in a motion picture. I remember she told me when she played at the Mocambo how much it would mean to her. Now she gets that wish, and she'll play the role of "Big Flora," a nightclub singer, in "Let No Man Write My Epitaph" for Columbia.

Of course, Ella will sing, and this should add money to the box-office. Her new record of Gershwin songs is one of the finest yet made. Hearing those beautiful Gershwin tunes sung in Ella's God-giving voice makes you forget your troubles.

I am greatly interested in the Hubbell Robinson TV spectacular "Aimee," based on the life of Aimee Semple McPherson, the evangelist who "went down in the ocean and came up in the desert" after being supposedly drowned. I covered that story and met the train that brought Aimee back from the dead to Los Angeles.

Hubbell has Luther Davis writing the script and Aimee's daughter, Roberta, now Mrs. Harry Salter, is working with Davis. Eva Marie Saint has been contacted about playing the colorful Aimee, and Eva probably will do it before she leaves for Israel for "Exodus."

A book, "The Vanishing Evangelist," came out a few years ago, based on Aimee's life, and it had a big local sale.

Shortly before Eddie Fisher's show premiered at the Waldorf in New York he telephoned to tell me he starts tomorrow to record Mike Todd Jr.'s "Scent of Mystery," and other songs for his new record company. I notice by the Melody Maker, and English music publication, that Eddie has already started his record company in London.

He says that he and Elizabeth are trying to find a house, but so far haven't found what they want. As I exclusively told you in my column Nov. 13, Eddie will be in "Butterfield 8" with Liz, and it will be filmed in New York.

Liz gave a party for 70 at Eddie's opening, and many of the Broadway stars now playing in New York were in the party, as were Aly Khan, Jack Benny, Alen Lerner and others.

In Memoriam

In loving remembrance of Frances (Bone) Hunter, who died 22 years ago today, November 18, 1937.
Twenty-two years have passed since that day.
When one we loved was called away,
'Tis strange, yet true, I wonder why,
The good are always first to die.
A beautiful memory left behind,
In silence she suffered,
In patience she bore.
Til God called her home,
To suffer no more.
Sadly Missed By

In Memoriam

In loving remembrance of Frances (Bone) Hunter, who died 22 years ago today, November 18, 1937.
Twenty-two years have passed since that day.
When one we loved was called away,
Tis strange, yet true, I wonder why,
The good are always first to die.
One of the best, that God could lend,
A loving mother and faithful friend,
A beautiful memory left behind,
In silence she suffered,
In patience she bore,
Til God called her home,
Sadly Missed By
Mother, Father, Children and Brothers

Indonesia Policy Drives Chinese From Country

By CHARLES R. SMITH
United Press International

JAKARTA (UPI) — Indonesia's efforts to curb Chinese political and economic influence here are driving thousands of alien Chinese from the country — most of them to Communist China.

There are no figures on the number who have left Indonesia as a result of the government's discriminatory measures, but rough estimates place this year's total at more than 5,000.

The exodus of Chinese, some of whose families have been rooted here for generations, began early last year when the government cracked down on Kuomintang and "stateless" Chinese.

They continued to leave in a trickle throughout 1958 and in the early part of this year. Then, the number increased when the government stepped up its anti-Chinese campaign last spring.

Causes For Exodus

The big government move that caused many more to pack their bags and head for the mainland was the ban on alien retailers in rural areas. By the time this decree was issued many of the alien Chinese had already seen the handwriting on the wall — a never-ending campaign against them.

Many Chinese, some of whom were born here and have never been out of Indonesia, have decided to leave because of the difficulty in obtaining Indonesian citizenship. For many, especially those without special educational training or skills, obtaining citizenship is almost impossible.

Never Received Aid

One Chinese student said he had applied for Indonesian citizenship as far back as 1952 and still hasn't received it.

"Getting citizenship is not easy," he said. "It is difficult to get all the papers required and to meet all other requirements.

"But when I finish my studies I'm sure the government will overlook the fact that I do not seem to have had all the necessary documents because I am under contract to work for them (the government). They will be glad to get my citizenship status cleared up rather than go to all the trouble now."

This young Chinese wants to stay here. Many do not. But not all of these can leave. Some have nowhere to go. Others have no money.

Increase Expected

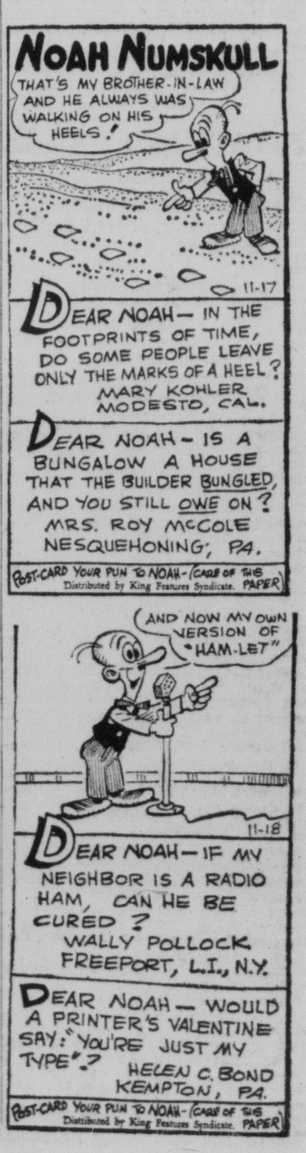

But observers here expect the number of departing Chinese to increase in the coming months, particularly after the end of the year when the government's ban on alien retailers leaves thousands without any means of livelihood.

A report from Singawang, West Borneo, indicated that more than 3,000 Chinese in that area alone had requested permission to go to the mainland because of the ban.

Indonesia Policy Drives Chinese From Country

By CHARLES R. SMITH
United Press International

JAKARTA (UPI) — Indonesia's efforts to curb Chinese political and economic influence here are driving thousands of alien Chinese from the country — most of them to Communist China.

There are no figures on the number who have left Indonesia as a result of the government's discriminatory measures, but rough estimates place this year's total at more than 5,000.

The exodus of Chinese, some of whose families have been rooted here for generations, began early last year when the government cracked down on Kuomintang and "stateless" Chinese.

They continued to leave in a trickle throughout 1958 and in the early part of this year. Then, the number increased when the government stepped up its anti-Chinese campaign last spring.

Causes For Exodus

The big government move that caused many more to pack their bags and head for the mainland was the ban on alien retailers in rural areas. By the time this decree was issued many of the alien Chinese had already seen the handwriting on the wall — a never-ending campaign against them.

Seldom a day passes without reports of a group of Chinese leaving some regional area —particularly in Sumatra and Borneo — for the Chinese mainland.

Some of these are old Chinese who want to spend their last days on the mainland, but an astonishingly large number are young high school or college graduates.

Many Chinese, some of whom were born here and have never been out of Indonesia, have decided to leave because of the difficulty in obtaining Indonesian citizenship. For many, especially those without special educational training or skills, obtaining citizenship is almost impossible.

Never Received Aid

One Chinese student said he had applied for Indonesian citizenship as far back as 1952 and still hasn't received it.

"Getting citizenship is not easy," he said. "It is difficult to get all the papers required and to meet all other requirements.

"But when I finish my studies I'm sure the government will overlook the fact that I do not seem to have had all the necessary documents because I am under contract to work for them (the government). They will be glad to get my citizenship status cleared up rather than go to all the trouble now."

This young Chinese wants to stay here. Many do not. But not all of these can leave. Some have nowhere to go. Others have no money.

Increase Expected

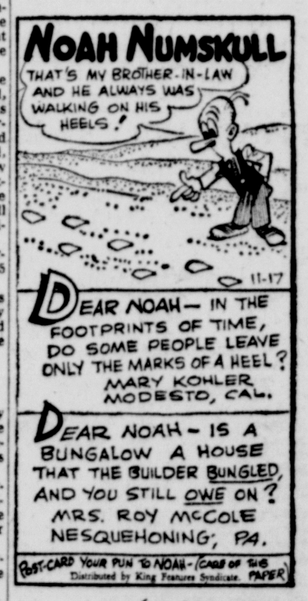

But observers here expect the number of departing Chinese to increase in the coming months, particularly after the end of the year when the government's ban on alien retailers leaves thousands without any means of livelihood.

A report from Singawang, West Borneo, indicated that more than 3,000 Chinese in that area alone had requested permission to go to the mainland because of the ban.

Market Closes Somewhat Higher; Steels Advance

NEW YORK (UPI) — Wide gains among the steels, electronics and some leading specials put the stock market on somewhat higher ground.

The Dow - Jones industrials scored their first advance in over a week. Rails failed to make any headway and finished with a small fractional loss.

Support for the steel issues followed the optimistic statements that a settlement of the steel impasse before the 80-day cooling off period was a possibility.

U.S. Steel's new president, Leslie B. Worthington said he was hopeful for such a settlement. Jack L. Ashby, president of Kaiser Steel, made a similar remark.

Gains in the steels ranged to 3½ in Continental which was given a boost by a 2-for-1 stock split. Granite City jumped 4⅛ when its directors proposed similar action. U. S. Steel added 2⅛, National Steel 2¼ and Republic 1⅞.

Trading fell to 3,570,000 shares from 3,710,000 shares the day before. Although the market scored an overall advance, declines outnumbered advances 536 to 474. A total of 1,231 issues crossed the tape against 1,226 on Monday. New highs for the year were set by 66 issues while 17 touched new lows.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Proper defense involves taking advantage of the slightest error or misguess on the part of declarer. Observe what transpired in today's hand.

The contract of three no trump was reached with dispatch. West opened the five of hearts, which declarer took in dummy with the jack, preferring to retain an entry in his own hand. Since development of the diamond suit was essential, declarer started working on it at once. Regardless of the adverse distribution, at least one trick in the suit must be given up; so declarer decided to concede a loser immediately leading a low diamond from dummy.

East's eight of diamonds held the trick, and he decided to abandon hearts. Brighter prospects were held forth in the spade suit, if West could provide the ten and some card of entry. East therefore returned the three of spades. West played the ten and dummy put up the queen. South overtook dummy's queen of hearts with his ace in order to take the diamond finesse. After running the diamond suit, declarer played a club. If East held the ace his contract was assured. But West produced that card, and on a spade return East took the rest of the tricks.

Declarer might have brought home the hand in two ways. Had he won the opening lead with the ace of hearts and finessed diamonds at once, West would have won the third round, and probably not made the spade shift. Furthermore, when East returned the three of spades, declarer could have won the hand by ducking West's ten, for communication between defenders would then have been broken.

However, the finger of scorn can hardly be pointed at South, for there was no evidence available to him to point toward one direction or the other. The duck of the spade would be fatal if East held the ace of clubs.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI) —Grain futures were mixed in a light volume Tuesday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

At the final bell, wheat was unchanged to off ⅞; corn off ½ to up ⅛; oats off ⅛ to up ¼; rye off ⅝ to up ⅝, and soybeans up ⅝ to 1⅛.

Nearby wheat prices were weak, with selling scattered and demand light. Some early buying was attracted by an expected export trade in wheat and flour. Trading was generally light. Deferred futures were steady.

Corn was steady in the nearby and easy in the deferred contracts. Exporters were early buyers, but demand soon slowed down. Northwest brokers sold May, and local traders also were sellers. Export subsidies were granted on 290,000 bushels of corn.

The oats trade was light and steady. Cash houses bought December and sold May, for which there was a fair commission house demand.

Rye prices were mixed. The Winnipeg market was easier.

Soybeans weakened early as commission house and local selling increased. But futures rallied about a cent near the close. Some hedging was noted. There was further evening up in November. Trading in this contract expires Wednesday.

Market Closes Somewhat Higher; Steels Advance

NEW YORK (UPI) — Wide gains among the steels, electronics and some leading specials put the stock market on somewhat higher ground.

The Dow - Jones industrials scored their first advance in over a week. Rails failed to make any headway and finished with a small fractional loss.

Support for the steel issues followed the optimistic statements that a settlement of the steel impasse before the 80-day cooling off period was a possibility.

U.S. Steel's new president, Leslie B. Worthington said he was hopeful for such a settlement. Jack L. Ashby, president of Kaiser Steel, made a similar remark.

Gains in the steels ranged to 3½ in Continental which was given a boost by a 2-for-1 stock split. Granite City jumped 4⅛ when its directors proposed similar action. U. S. Steel added 2⅛, National Steel 2¼ and Republic 1⅞.

Trading fell to 3,570,000 shares from 3,710,000 shares the day before. Although the market scored an overall advance, declines outnumbered advances 536 to 474. A total of 1,231 issues crossed the tape against 1,226 on Monday. New highs for the year were set by 66 issues while 17 touched new lows.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Proper defense involves taking advantage of the slightest error or misguess on the part of declarer. Observe what transpired in today's hand.

The contract of three no trump was reached with dispatch. West opened the five of hearts, which declarer took in dummy with the jack, preferring to retain an entry in his own hand. Since development of the diamond suit was essential, declarer started working on it at once. Regardless of the adverse distribution, at least one trick in the suit must be given up; so declarer decided to concede a loser immediately leading a low diamond from dummy.

East's eight of diamonds held the trick, and he decided to abandon hearts. Brighter prospects were held forth in the spade suit, if West could provide the ten and some card of entry. East therefore returned the three of spades. West played the ten and dummy put up the queen. South overtook dummy's queen of hearts with his ace in order to take the diamond finesse. After running the diamond suit, declarer played a club. If East held the ace his contract was assured. But West produced that card, and on a spade return East took the rest of the tricks.

Declarer might have brought home the hand in two ways. Had he won the opening lead with the ace of hearts and finessed diamonds at once, West would have won the third round, and probably not made the spade shift. Furthermore, when East returned the three of spades, declarer could have won the hand by ducking West's ten, for communication between defenders would then have been broken.

However, the finger of scorn can hardly be pointed at South, for there was no evidence available to him to point toward one direction or the other. The duck of the spade would be fatal if East held the ace of clubs.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI) —Grain futures were mixed in a light volume Tuesday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

At the final bell, wheat was unchanged to off ⅞; corn off ½ to up ⅛; oats off ⅛ to up ¼; rye off ⅝ to up ⅝, and soybeans up ⅝ to 1⅛.

Nearby wheat prices were weak, with selling scattered and demand light. Some early buying was attracted by an expected export trade in wheat and flour. Trading was generally light. Deferred futures were steady.

Corn was steady in the nearby and easy in the deferred contracts. Exporters were early buyers, but demand soon slowed down. Northwest brokers sold May, and local traders also were sellers. Export subsidies were granted on 290,000 bushels of corn.

The oats trade was light and steady. Cash houses bought December and sold May, for which there was a fair commission house demand.

Rye prices were mixed. The Winnipeg market was easier.

Soybeans weakened early as commission house and local selling increased. But futures rallied about a cent near the close. Some hedging was noted. There was further evening up in November. Trading in this contract expires Wednesday.

Holland and Belgium were reported to have bought small parcels of oats and corn.

Mercury Dips To Lowest Of Fall Season

Light Snowfall Hits In Garrett

The mercury dipped to its lowest point this fall as the tri-state area was gripped in another cold wave which swept quickly into the valley yesterday.

The temperatures in Cumberland tumbled from a high of 45 degrees about 7 a. m. yesterday to a low of 21 degrees at 8 o'clock last night.

The Weather Bureau forecast additional cold wave warnings with today likely to be sunny, colder with high in the 30s. The previous low here this fall was 25 degrees, recorded earlier this month.

Snow In Garrett County

Maryland State Police reported a few slippery spots on the highways in Garrett County where temperatures dropped to 25 degrees at 5 p. m. from an earlier high of 53 degrees. A light snowfall which began early in the morning covered the ground for awhile but melted in the brisk winds. The Weather Bureau at Oakland reported .25 of an inch of snowfall during the day.

The Maryland State Roads Commission had four trucks out late yesterday morning as the snow fell in Garrett County. The trucks were cindering in spots, although no plowing was needed.

It was the second time this month that SRC crews were called out in Garrett County to cinder icy spots on the highways.

Pennsylvania State Police reported highways in good condition last night despite an earlier light snowfall. Temperatures were recorded at 19 degrees in Bedford at 8 p. m. and still dropping.

Turnpike Has Slick Spots

In West Virginia the mercury dipped to about 25 degrees in the Romney and Moorefield areas. State Police said a Front Royal, Va., hunter was reported missing near Wardensville, but turned up about 3 p. m. as police were in the process of organizing a search party.

The deer season in Virginia opened yesterday and the hunter had been feared lost in the bitter cold in the mountainous area near the state line.

Wins Suggestion Award

School Board Backs Policy On Advertising

Newspapers Get Commendation

A resolution commending the Times and Alleganian Company, publisher of the local newspapers, for its announced policy to refuse to accept advertising copy that borders on indecency or stimulates unnatural or unwholesome attitudes was adopted yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Education.

The resolution read in part:

Whereas, such a policy meets the highest standards of decency, cultural objectivity, business and professional ethics and establishes a beacon light for all readers of these publications to guide on, and

Whereas, such a well-defined policy meets, if not parallels, the true definition of education, "the training of the mental or moral powers; the knowledge and ability gained by such training."

Therefore, be it resolved, by the Board of Education of Allegany County, in meeting here assembled, that the thanks and appreciation of this board be extended to The Times and Alleganian Company for such a forthright policy and that it be commended for its foresight and initiative, and

Be it further resolved, that a copy of this resolution be sent to the Times and Alleganian Company.

Ruling Made On Election Boundaries

Board Lacks Power To Change Lines

Julius E. Schindler, attorney for the Board of Election Supervisors, in a written opinion has ruled that the board does not have the authority to change the established boundary rights of an election district.

Matthew J. Mullaney, board chairman, requested the opinion by the attorney after the board received an official request from the Allegany County Commissioners to change the established boundary lines of an election district.

Mr. Schindler stated in his opinion that the election board has the authority to subdivide into precincts any election district in the county, but the boundaries of election districts within Allegany County cannot be enlarged or diminished except by an act of the General Assembly.

He cited certain sections in the Maryland Constitution which provide for the changing of boundaries within election districts and specific acts in the Code of Public Local Laws in Allegany County which allowed certain changes in the election districts.

EDMUND S. BURKE

Civic Dinner Will Honor E. S. Burke

Edmund S. Burke, retiring chairman of the board of directors of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, will be honored at a community dinner planned Thursday at 6 p. m. in Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Some 300 civic leaders will attend the testimonial event for Mr. Burke, who kept the local plant going in war and peace and made it one of the leaders in the tire industry.

William C. Walsh, who headed the planning committee for the civic event, will be toastmaster.

The program will feature talks by Edward J. Thomas, chairman of the board of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company; Dr. Wilson H. Elkins, president of the University of Maryland; Governor J. Millard Tawes, Mayor J. Edwin Keech and Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris.

Mr. Burke, who is ending 26 years of service to the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company and to the Cumberland area, will respond to the remarks.

Among the guests to be introduced will be the Board of Regents of the University of Maryland, on which Mr. Burke served from 1953 to 1959.

Rev. Russell E. Fink, pastor of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church, will give the invocation and benediction, and the Cumberland Quartet will sing.

Mr. Burke was honored at a Kelly employes' dinner given here November 3 by Kelly staff and plant workers.

Procedure On Furniture Bids Is Discussed

School Board Takes Action

Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster said that the discussion was prompted by the variety of bids received last Thursday for furniture for the new Allegany High School library.

Only two of the five bidders actually bid according to specifications in all particulars. They were Baltimore Stationery Company, which submitted an overall bid of $9,200, and Remington Rand, which bid $15,072.90.

Other Bids

The Southern Desk Company also bid on all items but substituted wood for metal in some instances in its overall bid of $8,933.30. Two local firms, Marquis, Company and Ankeney's, bid on some items. Marquis submitted prices on metal shelving and Ankeney bid on tables and chairs and some metal furniture which did not meet specifications.

The board authorized Mr. Webster and Richard T. Rizer, assistant superintendent of schools, to award the contract or contracts to the lowest bidders which bid on articles of quality equal to the specifications.

Films To Be Shown

Hercules Powder Company obtained permission for use of the Fort Hill High School auditorium from 7 until 9:30 p. m. November 24 for the showing of two films to the families of Allegany Ballistics Laboratory employes and other interested people in the community. The films are entitled "What's New At Hercules" and "Rocket Propellants Manufactured By The Double Base Casting Process." The second film depicts part of the operations at ABL.

Permission also was granted to the Cumberland Choral Society for use of the Allegany High School auditorium for a performance of Handel's "The Messiah" at 4 p. m. Sunday, December 13.

Mrs. Paul Gilford, 511 Baltimore Avenue, obtained permission to use the Allegany auditorium Saturday, April 9, for a junior music festival.

All five board members, J. Goodloe Jackson, Joseph M. Miller, Kenneth R. Malcolm, Mrs. Albert C. Cook and Mrs. Richard Winer were present, as well as Robert MacDonald Bruce, the board attorney, and Mr. Webster.

County 4-H Achievement Program Planned Tonight

The annual Allegany County 4-H Achievement Night program will be presented tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Compton Hall auditorium at Frostburg State Teachers College.

Featured on tonight's program will be a skit by the newest 4-H Club in the county—the Collegiate 4-H Club formed this fall among Frostburg State Teachers College students with prior 4-H experience in their home communities.

Patricia King will serve as narrator for the skit, which will be a picture of life 10 years hence in three scenes. Members of the cast will be Bettie Umstead, Kay Roach, Darlene Logue, Carol Butka, Grace Peffer, Phil Beeman, Ken Moreland and Larry Fresh.

Members of 4-H clubs with special talents also will participate in tonight's program. Stella Stautz of the LaVale 4-H Club will present a piano solo. Kay Trost, accompanied by Beverly Wattenschaidt, both of the Lonaconing 4-H Club, will present a dance number. Marlene Clark, accompanied by Ann Hardinger, both of the Bedford Road 4-H Club, will sing a solo. Finally, a singing group from the Polish Mountain 4-H Club will be presented.

A highlight of the evening will be the presentation of awards by Miss Nancy Marsteller, assistant home demonstration agent, and James B. Arnold, assistant county agent.

Rounding out the program will be introduction of guests, presentation of Donna Simpson, public speaking winner; recognition of local leaders and group singing.

Members of the achievement night committee are Mrs. Chester Robinette, Charlotte King, Martin Gordon, Adolph Norris, Wesley Gordon and David Norris. Hostesses will be the Frostburg Girls 4-H Club and the hosts will be the Mt. Savage Boys 4-H Club.

R. V. CHISHOLM

Company Names R. V. Chisholm Sales Manager

Robert V. Chisholm, 305 Beall Street, has been appointed field sales manager for Duro-Dyne Corporation, manufacturer of sheet metal specialties, and will supervise and direct sales in the United States, Canada and Mexico.

Mr. Chisholm two years ago was named southeastern sales representative and was promoted to regional sales manager last April.

In 1944 he began working as sales manager for the Griffith Heating and Air Conditioning Company here and helped as a foreman in a supervisory capacity in a school for G.I.s who trained in a program sanctioned by the Board of Education.

Afterward he went to work for Jackson and Church Company, Saginaw, Mich., and the York-Shipley, Jackson and Church Division, York, Pa.

He is married to the former Lois Leonard and they have a son, Michael, who is a junior at the University of Maryland.

City Scales Closed After Inspection

Coal Being Weighed At Nearby Station

The City of Cumberland, whose scales were condemned after an inspection Monday, began offering limited service from a nearby industrial weighing station yesterday.

The Cumberland scales, located at the Street Department Warehouse, were checked Monday by an inspector of the state Office of Weights and Measures.

A report indicated the scales were in bad condition and were condemned for use until they are put in shape, according to Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor.

The Cumberland Contracting Company, he said, yesterday began permitting coal to be weighed on its scales by the city weighmaster between 7 a. m. and 4 p. m.

City officials said coal dealers bringing coal into Cumberland will have to arrange to be here between these hours if they want to get weigh slips.

The scales, Mr. Gibson said, are very old and have required considerable maintenance in recent years.

City Units Are Ready For Winter

The warehouse, officials said, is jammed with salt and calcium chloride and a fair supply of cinders is on hand.

All trucks suitable for snow removal have been equipped with snow bars so scrapers can be installed quickly.

All Fire Department equipment was prepared for winter driving several weeks ago, and standing orders call for firemen to install chains as soon as snow begins falling.

Cinder barrels have been on streets for several weeks and all salt boxes have been filled.

Temporary Notes Sold By Housing Unit

The first issue of $565,000 was sold to the Morgan Guaranty Trust Company of New York at a low interest rate of 2.87 per cent.

A second bid, of 2.93 per cent, was made by the Chemical Bank of New York Trust Company.

The notes will be dated December 8 and will be payable next November 4.

The Chemical Bank of New York Trust Company was the sole bidder, at 2.72 per cent interest, on $320,000 of temporary notes dated December 8 and payable next April 15.

The notes were sold as temporary financing of the cost of Jane Frazier Village not covered by bonds, and to get the city's third low-rent public housing project going.

The George Construction Company of Cumberland, low bidder at $975,375 when the project was re-advertised at the request of the Public Housing Administration, yesterday moved its field office and some equipment to the site.

Players To Meet Thursday Night

The Algonquin Players will meet tomorrow night at 8 o'clock at City Hall auditorium.

Tryouts for the Players' next play, "The Solid Gold Cadillac," a two-act comedy by Howard Teichmann and George S. Kaufman, will be held next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at 8 p. m. at the City Hall.

There are parts for 12 men and six women in the show, and the Players will welcome any interested persons who would like to try out for the play.

Rev. Ries To Address Men's Club

The Men's Club of St. Luke's Lutheran Church completed arrangements for its final dinner-lecture of the year and decided to postpone election of officers until the parish assumes possession of the new church some time after the first of the year.

Rev. Ronald Ries, director of parish education and youth work for the Maryland Synod of the United Lutheran Church in America, is to be the guest speaker. A graduate of Gettysburg College and of the Lutheran Theological Seminary, Gettysburg, Rev. Ries will talk on youth work and the church. The dinner-lecture will be held December 8 at 6:30 p. m. at the church.

Officers who were retained are Joseph Bedinger, president; William Seiler, vice president; Lester Brinkman, treasurer, and Harry Hartman, recording secretary.

Arrangements also were made for the interior and exterior Christmas decorations at the old church. George Smith and Lester Brinkman were named chairmen of arrangements. They will name their own committees.

Oklahoma Tickets Still On Sale

Tickets for tonight's premier performance of "Oklahoma" will be on sale from noon to 6 p. m. today at the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

The show, sponsored by Cumberland Lodge 63, B.P.O. Elks, will be staged tonight, tomorrow and Friday at 8:15 p. m. in Allegany High School auditorium.

A. J. Dressman, Grocer, Dies

Anthony Joseph Dressman, 70, of 10 Klosterman Avenue, LaVale, died yesterday in Sacred Heart Hospital where he had been a patient one month.

Mr. Dressman was associated with his brothers in the grocery business in LaVale.

Born in Cash Valley, he was a son of the late Joseph and Mary (Detterman) Dressman. Mr. Dressman was a member of SS. Peter and Paul Catholic Church, the Holy Name Society and the Third Order of St. Francis.

Surviving are his widow, Mary M. (Logsdon) Dressman; a daughter, Mrs. Anna M. Michael, Frostburg; seven brothers, Rev. David Dressman, Papua, New Guinea, and Frank, George, Edward, Leo and James and Henry Dressman, all of LaVale, and two sisters, Sister Mary Justian, Evansville, Ind., and Mrs. George Helmstetter, LaVale.

The body is at the Stein Funeral Home where the family will receive friends from 2 to 4 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m.

A solemn high requiem mass will be celebrated Friday at 9 a. m. at SS. Peter and Paul Church. Burial will be in the parish cemetery.

The rosary will be recited at the funeral home tomorrow at 8 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne F. Magruder, 6 Browning Street, a daughter Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Moore, Nikep, a daughter Monday.

Maybury Gets Post As Clerk At Piedmont

The Piedmont mayor and council last night appointed Councilman Joseph Maybury as city clerk and named Sebastion (Gus) Barbarito to replace Mr. Maybury on the council.

The action was taken at last night's meeting and was the outgrowth of the resignation of Ormond Ledlow as city clerk on November 2.

Mr. Maybury has served several terms as town councilman and was designated as acting clerk when Mr. Ledlow quit the post after serving the city for nearly 19 years.

Mr. Barbarito, manager of the Acme store in Piedmont, had polled the largest number of votes among unsuccessful candidates for council in last May's municipal elections. He was unanimously appointed to fill the vacancy on the council, replacing Mr. Maybury.

Councilman Kingsley Skidmore, member of the finance committee, was named chairman of the committee succeeding Mr. Maybury, who had headed the group as a councilman. Mr. Barbarito was named to the committee in Mr. Maybury's place.

The council said last night that all appointments were unanimous.

Vandalism Reported By Local Church

City police have received a complaint of vandalism from a trustee of Living Stone Church of the Brethren, West Second Street.

Children have been playing on the lawn of the church and have broken out windows with a ball, according to City Police Detective Lt. James E. Van, who said damage was also done to outside bulletin boards encased in a glass frame.

Mrs. Helen Vogel To Address PTA

Mrs. Helen Vogel, Allegany County health nurse, will be the guest speaker at the monthly meeting of Columbia Street Parent-Teacher Association tomorrow at 7:30 p. m.

Teachers will be in their classrooms from 7 to 7:30 p. m. tomorrow.

St. Anthony's Will Open Triduum

St. Anthony's Catholic Church, Ridgeley, will open a Triduum tonight in honor of the Immaculate Conception.

The three-day service is being scheduled in connection with the dedication of the National Shrine in Washington Friday, according to Rev. Robert Kilgannon, pastor.

The service opens today at 7:30 p. m. and continues through Friday and will include the Mass, Litany and the Novena.

City Needs Two Christmas Trees

Mrs. Marguerite Findlay, chairman of the committee, and Andrew Heller, street superintendent, will meet this morning to begin the search.

Mrs. Findlay said the city will be glad to cut down any large trees which may be donated for the purpose. She added that if the tree is suitable, it will be planted permanently.

She said that at least two large Christmas trees will be needed this year.

Marine Corps League To Meet Next Week

The Marine Corps League will meet Tuesday, November 24 at 8:30 p. m. at the Purple Heart Home on Greene Street.

The meeting is open to any area resident who served in the Marine Corps.

License Use Is Permitted

The Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverages License Commissioners yesterday gave permission to Charles E. Reynard Jr. to continue use of the beer and wine license which had been issued to his father, now deceased, for the Dutch Kitchen at 20 South Lee Street.

Young Reynard applied as administrator for the benefit of the estate of Charles E. Reynard Sr., who died November 10.

The liquor board also suspended the license of Samuel House, operator of a tavern at 417 Henderson Avenue, for five days. House had been fined $500 in Allegany County Circuit Court by Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris on a charge of selling a six-pack of beer to a 20-year-old youth.

Because of the circumstances, the liquor board decided that leniency should be shown.

West Side PTA To Meet Thursday

Cub Pack 19 will receive its charter at a meeting of West Side School PTA Thursday night at the school.

Room visitation will be held from 7 p. m. to 7:25 p. m., and the meeting will start promptly at 7:30. Dr. George L. Fogtman, dentist, will speak on fluoridation of water supplies. Reports on the fun night and on the membership drive will be presented.

The Holy Name Society of SS. Peter and Paul Catholic Church will hold its fourth annual pancake and sausage breakfast Sunday, November 29 from 7:30 a. m. to 1 p. m.

Charles E. Brode, president, is serving as chairman of the breakfast, assisted by Herman J. Grabenstein Jr. Romanus J. Helmstetter is ticket chairman, and John G. Burke is publicity chairman. Rev. DePaul Ripko, OFM Cap., is spiritual director of the unit.

The breakfast is open to the public and tickets may be purchased from any officer or member of the society or at the door on November 29.

The meal will be prepared and served by the men of the Holy Name Society. Proceeds will be used for the convent fund.

Area Educators Named To Teacher Committees

Eight Allegany County educators and two from Garrett County have been appointed to committees of the State Teachers Association for the 1959-60 school year, according to "The Maryland Teacher," official publication of the association.

R. Thomas Hutcheson of Frostburg, a member of the Frostburg State Teachers College faculty, is chairman of the auditing committee.

Among others from Allegany County honored are Miss Yola V. Hudson, Fort Hill High School, member of social committee; Raymond Ralston, Parkside Elementary School, member of credentials committee; John D. Kelly, Beall High School, member of legislative committee; William R. Stewart, Frostburg State Teachers College, member of Maryland teacher committee; Miss Margaret V. King, Pennsylvania Avenue Elementary School, member of nominating committee; Earle L. Bracey, Fort Hill High School, member of resolutions committee, and Joseph H. Pellerzi, principal of Oldtown School, member of teacher education and professional standards committee.

Ralph H. Beachley, vice principal of Northern Garett County High School, also is a member of the legislative committee. Mrs. Kathryn S. Smith, also of the Northern faculty, is on the retirement committee.

Plan Christmas Mailings To Insure Prompt Delivery

Area postmasters yesterday emphasized the importance of planning early Christmas mailings so that cards and gifts to distant points can be mailed first.

Special effort should be made to get all out-of-town packages and cards into the Post Office before December 10, the postal department officials stated.

Past experience has shown, postmasters pointed out, that the two biggest factors in successfully handling Christmas mail rush are, facilities in high gear, and, second, to have the full cooperation of the mailing public.

Early Christmas shoppers should stock up on heavy wrapping paper, sturdy cartons, strong cord and paper adhesive tape to insure secure packing and wrapping of gifts. Purchase of stamps now also will help avoid the last-minute rush.

Use of four-cent stamps or seven-cent air mail stamps enables the public to include handwritten messages on Christmas cards. These cards also are subject to forwarding or return service, which is not available on cards mailed at the three-cent rate.

Sorting of Christmas cards into local and out-of-town groups before mailing will speed handling and delivery, the postal officials pointed out.

Rubber Workers Officers Will Be Installed

Newly elected officers of Local 26, Rubber Workers Union, will be installed at a regular meeting Saturday at 7:30 p. m. in the union hall.

Other officers are James E. Green, vice president; Robert D. Swarner, secretary; Joseph V. Burke, treasurer; Ralph C. Beard, Policy Committee member, and Jack B. Ruggles, trustee.

The new executive board will be composed of Clyde O'Baker, Mr. Beard, Eugene S. Brown, William W. Jewell, Albert J. Jenkins, Rachel P. Muir and Charles M. Logue.

During the business session which follows the installation, officials will present reports on a number of grievances and arbitration cases.

VA Benefits May Be Available

Parents of a veteran who died of service-connected disabilities may be eligible for compensation though they were not dependent upon their son at the time of his death.

Sam Weston, who is in charge of the local Veterans Administration office located in the Post Office Building, said monthly compensation payments may be made to parents of limited means even though the veteran's widow and dependent children are already receiving VA benefits as a result of his death.

Complete information on this compensation and any other veteran benefits can be obtained by contacting Mr. Weston at the Post Office or by calling PA 2-3611.

Church Planning Harvest Festival

A harvest festival sponsored by St. Ambrose Catholic Church at Cresaptown will be held Sunday from noon until 9 p. m. at the social hall.

A full course ham or turkey dinner will be served. Homemade candies and pastries, fancy work and gifts will be sold. There will be a parcel post booth and games during the afternoon and evening.

Mercury Dips To Lowest Of Fall Season

Light Snowfall Hits In Garrett

The mercury dipped to its lowest point this fall as the tri-state area was gripped in another cold wave which swept quickly into the valley yesterday.

The temperatures in Cumberland tumbled from a high of 45 degrees about 7 a. m. yesterday to a low of 21 degrees at 8 o'clock last night.

Winds in the area varied from 10 to 16 miles per hour, swirling light snow flurries and drying a misty rain which fell intermittently. Rainfall was recorded at .05 of an inch at the weather station in Constitution Park.

The Weather Bureau forecast additional cold wave warnings with today likely to be sunny, colder with high in the 30s. The previous low here this fall was 25 degrees, recorded earlier this month.

Snow In Garrett County

Maryland State Police reported a few slippery spots on the highways in Garrett County where temperatures dropped to 25 degrees at 5 p. m. from an earlier high of 53 degrees. A light snowfall which began early in the morning covered the ground for awhile but melted in the brisk winds. The Weather Bureau at Oakland reported .25 of an inch of snowfall during the day.

The Maryland State Roads Commission had four trucks out late yesterday morning as the snow fell in Garrett County. The trucks were cindering in spots, although no plowing was needed.

It was the second time this month that SRC crews were called out in Garrett County to cinder icy spots on the highways.

Pennsylvania State Police reported highways in good condition last night despite an earlier light snowfall. Temperatures were recorded at 19 degrees in Bedford at 8 p. m. and still dropping.

Turnpike Has Slick Spots

Turnpike crews were cindering the highway in Pennsylvania yesterday morning as slick spots appeared between Somerset and Everett.

In West Virginia the mercury dipped to about 25 degrees in the Romney and Moorefield areas. State Police said a Front Royal, Va., hunter was reported missing near Wardensville, but turned up about 3 p. m. as police were in the process of organizing a search party.

The deer season in Virginia opened yesterday and the hunter had been feared lost in the bitter cold in the mountainous area near the state line.

Wins Suggestion Award

School Board Backs Policy On Advertising

Newspapers Get Commendation

A resolution commending the Times and Alleganian Company, publisher of the local newspapers, for its announced policy to refuse to accept advertising copy that borders on indecency or stimulates unnatural or unwholesome attitudes was adopted yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Education.

The resolution read in part:

Whereas, such a policy meets the highest standards of decency, cultural objectivity, business and professional ethics and establishes a beacon light for all readers of these publications to guide on, and

Whereas, such a well-defined policy meets, if not parallels, the true definition of education, "the training of the mental or moral powers; the knowledge and ability gained by such training."

Therefore, be it resolved, by the Board of Education of Allegany County, in meeting here assembled, that the thanks and appreciation of this board be extended to The Times and Alleganian Company for such a forthright policy and that it be commended for its foresight and initiative, and

Be it further resolved, that a copy of this resolution be sent to the Times and Alleganian Company.

City Units Are Ready For Winter

The warehouse, officials said, is jammed with salt and calcium chloride and a fair supply of cinders is on hand.

All trucks suitable for snow removal have been equipped with snow bars so scrapers can be installed quickly.

All Fire Department equipment was prepared for winter driving several weeks ago, and standing orders call for firemen to install chains as soon as snow begins falling.

Cinder barrels have been on streets for several weeks and all salt boxes have been filled.

Rev. Ries To Address Men's Club

The Men's Club of St. Luke's Lutheran Church completed arrangements for its final dinner-lecture of the year and decided to postpone election of officers until the parish assumes possession of the new church some time after the first of the year.

Ruling Made On Election Boundaries

Board Lacks Power To Change Lines

Julius E. Schindler, attorney for the Board of Election Supervisors, in a written opinion has ruled that the board does not have the authority to change the established boundary rights of an election district.

Matthew J. Mullaney, board chairman, requested the opinion by the attorney after the board received an official request from the Allegany County Commissioners to change the established boundary lines of an election district.

Mr. Schindler stated in his opinion that the election board has the authority to subdivide into precincts any election district in the county, but the boundaries of election districts within Allegany County cannot be enlarged or diminished except by an act of the General Assembly.

He cited certain sections in the Maryland Constitution which provide for the changing of boundaries within election districts and specific acts in the Code of Public Local Laws in Allegany County which allowed certain changes in the election districts.

Temporary Notes Sold By Housing Unit

The Housing Authority of the City of Cumberland yesterday sold two series of temporary notes at interest rates of 2.87 and 2.72 per cent.

The first issue of $565,000 was sold to the Morgan Guaranty Trust Company of New York at a low interest rate of 2.87 per cent.

A second bid, of 2.93 per cent, was made by the Chemical Bank of New York Trust Company.

The notes will be dated December 8 and will be payable next November 4.

The Chemical Bank of New York Trust Company was the sole bidder, at 2.72 per cent interest, on $320,000 of temporary notes dated December 8 and payable next April 15.

The notes were sold as temporary financing of the cost of Jane Frazier Village not covered by bonds, and to get the city's third low-rent public housing project going.

Bids on the 80-unit development between Oldtown Road and Thomas Street were opened last month, and the go-ahead is expected by Friday for the awarding of bids for the work.

The George Construction Company of Cumberland, low bidder at $975,375 when the project was re-advertised at the request of the Public Housing Administration, yesterday moved its field office and some equipment to the site.

A. J. Dressman, Grocer, Dies

Anthony Joseph Dressman, 70, of 10 Klosterman Avenue, LaVale, died yesterday in Sacred Heart Hospital where he had been a patient one month.

Mr. Dressman was associated with his brothers in the grocery business in LaVale.

Born in Cash Valley, he was a son of the late Joseph and Mary (Detterman) Dressman. Mr. Dressman was a member of SS. Peter and Paul Catholic Church, the Holy Name Society and the Third Order of St. Francis.

Surviving are his widow, Mary M. (Logsdon) Dressman; a daughter, Mrs. Anna M. Michael, Frostburg; seven brothers, Rev. David Dressman, Papua, New Guinea, and Frank, George, Edward, Leo and James and Henry Dressman, all of LaVale, and two sisters, Sister Mary Justian, Evansville, Ind., and Mrs. George Helmstetter, LaVale.

The body is at the Stein Funeral Home where the family will receive friends from 2 to 4 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m.

A solemn high requiem mass will be celebrated Friday at 9 a. m. at SS. Peter and Paul Church. Burial will be in the parish cemetery.

The rosary will be recited at the funeral home tomorrow at 8 p. m.

EDMUND S. BURKE

Civic Dinner Will Honor E. S. Burke

Edmund S. Burke, retiring chairman of the board of directors of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, will be honored at a community dinner planned Thursday at 6 p. m. in Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Some 300 civic leaders will attend the testimonial event for Mr. Burke, who kept the local plant going in war and peace and made it one of the leaders in the tire industry.

William C. Walsh, who headed the planning committee for the civic event, will be toastmaster.

The program will feature talks by Edward J. Thomas, chairman of the board of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company; Dr. Wilson H. Elkins, president of the University of Maryland; Governor J. Millard Tawes, Mayor J. Edwin Keech and Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris.

Mr. Burke, who is ending 26 years of service to the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company and to the Cumberland area, will respond to the remarks.

Among the guests to be introduced will be the Board of Regents of the University of Maryland, on which Mr. Burke served from 1953 to 1959.

Rev. Russell E. Fink, pastor of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church, will give the invocation and benediction, and the Cumberland Quartet will sing.

Mr. Burke was honored at a Kelly employes' dinner given here November 3 by Kelly staff and plant workers.

Plan Christmas Mailings To Insure Prompt Delivery

Area postmasters yesterday emphasized the importance of planning early Christmas mailings so that cards and gifts to distant points can be mailed first.

Special effort should be made to get all out-of-town packages and cards into the Post Office before December 10, the postal department officials stated.

Past experience has shown, postmasters pointed out, that the two biggest factors in successfully handling Christmas mail rush are, facilities in high gear, and, second, to have the full cooperation of the mailing public.

Early Christmas shoppers should stock up on heavy wrapping paper, sturdy cartons, strong cord and paper adhesive tape to insure secure packing and wrapping of gifts. Purchase of stamps now also will help avoid the last-minute rush.

Use of four-cent stamps or seven-cent air mail stamps enables the public to include handwritten messages on Christmas cards. These cards also are subject to forwarding or return service, which is not available on cards mailed at the three-cent rate.

Sorting of Christmas cards into local and out-of-town groups before mailing will speed handling and delivery, the postal officials pointed out.

Procedure On Furniture Bids Is Discussed

School Board Takes Action

A lengthy discussion of bidding procedure featured yesterday's meeting of the Allegany County Board of Education.

Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster said that the discussion was prompted by the variety of bids received last Thursday for furniture for the new Allegany High School library.

Only two of the five bidders actually bid according to specifications in all particulars. They were Baltimore Stationery Company, which submitted an overall bid of $9,200, and Remington Rand, which bid $15,072.90.

Other Bids

The Southern Desk Company also bid on all items but substituted wood for metal in some instances in its overall bid of $8,933.30. Two local firms, Marquis, Company and Ankeney's, bid on some items. Marquis submitted prices on metal shelving and Ankeney bid on tables and chairs and some metal furniture which did not meet specifications.

The board authorized Mr. Webster and Richard T. Rizer, assistant superintendent of schools, to award the contract or contracts to the lowest bidders which bid on articles of quality equal to the specifications.

Films To Be Shown

Hercules Powder Company obtained permission for use of the Fort Hill High School auditorium from 7 until 9:30 p. m. November 24 for the showing of two films to the families of Allegany Ballistics Laboratory employes and other interested people in the community. The films are entitled "What's New At Hercules" and "Rocket Propellants Manufactured By The Double Base Casting Process." The second film depicts part of the operations at ABL.

Permission also was granted to the Cumberland Choral Society for use of the Allegany High School auditorium for a performance of Handel's "The Messiah" at 4 p. m. Sunday, December 13.

Mrs. Paul Gilford, 511 Baltimore Avenue, obtained permission to use the Allegany auditorium Saturday, April 9, for a junior music festival.

All five board members, J. Goodloe Jackson, Joseph M. Miller, Kenneth R. Malcolm, Mrs. Albert C. Cook and Mrs. Richard Winer were present, as well as Robert MacDonald Bruce, the board attorney, and Mr. Webster.

Rubber Workers Officers Will Be Installed

Newly elected officers of Local 26, Rubber Workers Union, will be installed at a regular meeting Saturday at 7:30 p. m. in the union hall.

The new executive board will be composed of Clyde O'Baker, Mr. Beard, Eugene S. Brown, William W. Jewell, Albert J. Jenkins, Rachel P. Muir and Charles M. Logue.

During the business session which follows the installation, officials will present reports on a number of grievances and arbitration cases.

VA Benefits May Be Available

Parents of a veteran who died of service-connected disabilities may be eligible for compensation though they were not dependent upon their son at the time of his death.

Sam Weston, who is in charge of the local Veterans Administration office located in the Post Office Building, said monthly compensation payments may be made to parents of limited means even though the veteran's widow and dependent children are already receiving VA benefits as a result of his death.

Complete information on this compensation and any other veteran benefits can be obtained by contacting Mr. Weston at the Post Office or by calling PA 2-3611.

Church Planning Harvest Festival

A harvest festival sponsored by St. Ambrose Catholic Church at Cresaptown will be held Sunday from noon until 9 p. m. at the social hall.

A full course ham or turkey dinner will be served. Homemade candies and pastries, fancy work and gifts will be sold. There will be a parcel post booth and games during the afternoon and evening.
